ANTI-PIT BILL WINS IN HOUSE; MAY END BOARD

Wheat Drops 3c as News Is Received.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—The Tincher bill to regulate dealings in grain futures was passed today by the house, 269 to 69, and sent to the senate.

The measure is designed to abolish the practice in grain markets of "puts" and "calls," "ups" and "downs," and "indemnities" by levying a tax of 20 cents a bushel on such transactions. A similar tax is provided on contracts for future delivery, made outside of "contract markets" to be designated by the secretary of agriculture, except when the seller is the actual possessor of the grain.

The bill went through practically in its committee form and will "absolutely destroy manipulation" according to Representative Tincher, Republican, Kansas, its author, although it does not abolish what is known to the grain trade as the "legitimate hedge," he said.

BILL MAY SHUT ALL PITS.

Grain traders were thrown into a semi-panic when news arrived that the national house had passed the Tincher bill. The flurry cost the price of wheat more than 3 cents a bushel.

Closing of the country grain exchanges is recommended by Jospeh P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, if the United States senate should pass the bill.

Mr. Griffin said he dreaded to think of the economic conditions the country would be plunged into if the hostile legislation passed. He also foresaw an effect on the world in general, as the Chicago Board of Trade is looked upon as the grain market of the world and conditions here are reflected everywhere grain is raised.

Patten Jabs at Bill.

James A. Patten, when asked his opinion of the bill, said it "did not look as though the government was getting out of business very fast."

Other grain men and officials supported Mr. Griffin's stand and declared they would rather go out of business than submit to the proposed bureaucratic administration of the secretary of agriculture, who is given power under the bill to make any regulation he sees fit for grain exchanges and individual operations of grain traders.

"The bill," said a former official of a board, who has devoted much time to grain legislation, "means, if passed, a resurrection of food administration restrictions. Instead of having practical grain men govern the business, it prescribes regulations and gives power to government officials not thoroughly in touch with the actual methods of the grain trade."

Board of Trade men who are watching the legislative moves at Springfield, expressed the belief that favorable action on the bill at Washington would have the effect of satisfying those who are demanding separate anti-grain exchange legislation in Illinois.

Grain Shipments Periled.

The bill, if finally passed, may greatly reduce the handling of cash grain at Chicago because of restrictions on the trading in futures, as hedging would be reduced, it is maintained.

On the board yesterday petitions were circulated calling for the amendment of the rules in such fashion as to eliminate the use of private wires except for handling business among terminal markets and seasonal resorts. It also is proposed to reduce the forwarding of quotations over "C. N. D." wires to five times a day to other points, providing the receiver agrees not to post them in a conspicuous place. Members of outside exchanges favor curtailing private wire operations, as they have lost business to Chicago.

STATEMENT BY GRIFFIN

Mr. Griffin's statement, issued last night, says:

"To avoid confusion and misunderstanding, I feel it my duty to clear up some matters affecting conditions as a result of the passage of the so-called Tincher bill by the lower house of congress at Washington.

"At the outset I would impress the public with the thought that this measure is not yet a law and consequently, contrary to the rather general opinion, should have no influence on grain values. This bill must meet the approval of the senate and subsequently be signed by the President. I am confident neither the senate nor the President will express their affirmative approval of the bill in its present form.

"The Tincher bill, as originally

$35,000 Flits With Haywood I. W. W. Claim

William D. ["Big Bill"] Haywood, former secretary of the "defense committee" of the Industrial Workers of the World, jumped his $15,000 bail bonds and fled to Russia to escape punishment for a $35,000 shortage in the committee's funds, according to charges made at the convention of the organization yesterday afternoon.

The charges created a near riot in the convention hall. Several fist fights were averted only through intervention of other delegates.

According to Roy Martin, present secretary of the "defense committee," Haywood, during his term in office, failed to use a system of bookkeeping that would allow a balance to be easily taken. Through this means, it is said, he succeeded in covering up a constantly growing shortage.

Lived in Style in East.

At the time of Haywood's expulsion from the organization, it was learned yesterday, the new secretary found the books in a "terrible state of confusion." Auditors were called into action, but it has been only recently that they have made any headway into the almost undecipherable accounts.

Haywood was "expelled" last October. At that time he left Chicago for New York, where he is said to have rented a costly apartment, living there until the latter part of March.

He never visited any of his former I. W. W. cronies, it is said, and refused to answer numerous requests for explanations sent from the Chicago offices.

Do Not Expect Him Back.

It was shortly after Haywood heard of the auditing of his books that he sailed for Russia, ostensibly to take part in an international trades union conference to be held in Moscow.

"We don't look for Haywood ever to return," Secretary Martin said last night. "The organization is busy now trying to raise enough money to make good on the bonds which he jumped. Those will cost us another $15,000."

STHAMER TO BE GERMAN ENVOY TO WASHINGTON

BERLIN, May 13.—There is the best authority for stating that the German government today decided on two important diplomatic changes.

Sthamer, at present German ambassador in London, is to become German ambassador to the United States. He will be succeeded in London by Dr. Heinrich Albert, who for a considerable time has occupied the post of permanent under secretary to the foreign office here.

The changes will be made when peace formally has been declared between the United States and Germany.

BUILDING PEACE LOOMS; UNIONS VOTE TO PARLEY

Action May Mean End of Lockout.

Action tending to bring to an end the lockout of the building trades, and to hasten resumption of building activities in the city, was taken last night by the Building Trades council. At a meeting held in the Carpenters' Union hall at 505 South State street the council voted to resume negotiations with the building contractors' association, looking toward a settlement of the differences. A resolution introduced by Michael J. Boyle instructing the advisory council to treat with the employers was adopted after three hours' discussion.

It was declared at the meeting that contractors are willing to treat with the unions. No date has been set for a conference, but it is expected they will make an effort to get together immediately.

Dispute Over Wage Cut.

The controversy is over wages. The contractors demanded that building trades mechanics should accept a reduction of wages from $1.25 an hour to $1 and that laborers should accept 70 cents instead of $1 an hour. These demands were rejected by the unions. The contractors stood pat that they would pay no more, and on May 1 10,000 building trades workers were thrown out of work and $10,000,000 worth of building was tied up.

The 10,000 thrown out of work are only a small percentage of building workers really affected. Normally from 45,000 to 60,000 building trades men are employed in the city.

Action No Surprise.

The action of the council was not altogether a surprise. It had been anticipated that negotiations were about to be resumed. Even the basis of the probable agreement between them has been forecast. The predictions are that the unions will be willing to accept a scale of $1 or $1.05 for skilled mechanics and of 70 cents or 75 cents for ordinary labor.

Since the lockout began contractors have talked of insisting upon a larger wage reduction than they originally sought. They suggested that wages be shoved back to the 1918 basis of 87½ cents for skilled labor. The difference between this rate and the $1.25 originally asked by the unions gives an opportunity for a compromise at the $1 an hour rate.

Old Boycott Rule Demanded.

While this good news was in the making it became known that the old "window and door" game which started the investigations into restrictive practices in the building industry by the federal grand jury and the Dailey committee, is preparing to keep running with a new set of loaded dice.

Independent contractors engaging men for small jobs are being asked by the Carpenters' District council to sign up an agreement making it optional with the union as to whether the men shall handle materials not bearing the union stamp.

Duplicates "Article 3."

Contractors said yesterday that in essence it was as restrictive as the famous article 3 in the old agreement between carpenters and builders, which specifically discriminated against non-union millwork and closed Chicago as a market against materials from open shop centers, such as Oshkosh, thus swelling building costs and adding to Chicago's rent bill.

Bankers and builders yesterday expressed the view that it will take more than a wage cut to $1 an hour to stimulate building, and that activities will not be really revived until restrictive practices are demolished. The executive committee of the Building Construction Employers' association met and stood pat for $1 an hour.

WIFE A SUICIDE TEN DAYS AGO; HE WEDS TODAY

Just ten days ago Mrs. Margaret Cloutier walked into a clump of bushes on the Gold Coast and fired a shot into her brain. About the time they found her body the next morning, her husband, Sergt. Albert J. Cloutier, Company D, 37th Infantry, at Fort Sheridan, opened a letter from her, ending with the words: "I hope you will always be happy—I am giving my life to make you."

Today at Sterling, Ill., Sergt. Cloutier will be married to Miss Helen Corke, 24 years. After a brief honeymoon he will return to Chicago to take his place here with the registration board of the R. O. T. C., to which he has been transferred. His friends at Fort Sheridan were not surprised when told he would be married today. "He has known Miss Corke for a long time," they said.

DISTILLED ONLY WATER, BUT FINE IS 50 DOLLARS

Dubuque, Ia., May 13.—Arraigned before Federal Judge Henry T. Reed on a charge of violating the national prohibition act, an alleged bootlegger decided to plead his own case. Thinking to make his story impressive through use of legal terms, he explained his case:

"I took said still and put said mash in said still. All that came out was water."

"Fifty dollars and costs," said the court.

"May I ask a question, judge?" the prisoner said.

The request was granted.

"Well," he said, "I'd like to know what my fine would have been if I had made some real booze."

Girl Takes Poison; Blames Chum; Hides Own Identity

An 18 year old girl, believed to be suffering from the effects of some poison, was found lying unconscious on the sidewalk at 22d and Wood streets early this morning by a pedestrian, who notified the Marquette police. She was taken to the county hospital, where she regained consciousness, but refused to reveal her identity or tell the nature of the poison she had taken.

She told the police a girl she knew as "Mary Seeley" had given her the bottle and told her to swallow the contents.

She is described as being about 5 feet 3 inches tall, weighing 115 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes, and wore a black plush coat, a tan dress, and black shoes and stockings.

GIRLS, AUTO, JAIL, MAKE HIS LIFE—

Pit Trader's Daughter Creates Mystery.

Pauline Sedgwick, daughter of a wealthy Board of Trade operator, lives at 4353 Washington boulevard. Rita Mills, a girl friend from Des Moines, Ia., is visiting her. Sunday night they went to a loop theater.

Robert Hartless Jr. is the son of the senior partner of the Hartless-Austin Linen and Towel Supply company, 646 North Parkside avenue. He lives at 637 North Waller avenue. His parents are at present in the east. Sunday night, he drove his car to the loop. Last night he got out of jail on bail—but——

Here's the Story of the Girls.

Here's the way the girls tell it:

They'd left the theater and were waiting for a taxicab when a man in a car hailed them. "I'm Roy Denton," he said. "Goin' west?" They accepted the lift. On the way out he suggested a trip to his flat for a couple of drinks. They accepted the suggestion.

"We had a couple of drinks of some white stuff and then we went cold——" they said. When they woke up they found a $1,500 sealskin coat, pocketbooks and cash missing, they claim. Next day they asked the arrest of Hartless and a chauffeur, Irving Ross, 405 Carroll avenue, who posed as a policeman, they say. Hartless and Ross were jailed.

Then Here's Hartless' Version.

But Hartless says:

They hailed him. He did invite them to his flat. They drank. They went to sleep. He sent them home by his chauffeur—and the next thing he knew "a copper came and pinched" him. He didn't steal anything—why should he? He has lots of money. His father is a business man.

And when his father comes home he'll sure get in trouble for this mixup. He managed to get out on bail last night and hoped to get his chauffeur out today.

The case will come up in Municipal court some time next week.

William Allen White's Daughter Dies of Fall

Emporia, Kas., May 13.—Miss Mary White, 16, only daughter of William Allen White, author and publisher of the Emporia Gazette, died this morning of injuries received in a fall from a horse last Tuesday. Miss White's horse ran under a tree and a low hanging branch threw her to the ground.

MILK DRIVERS WIN DAY OFF A WEEK; NO PRICE BOOST

Daily delivery of milk was assured for another year when committees representing the milk wagon drivers' union and the Illinois Milk Dealers' association reached an agreement. The men were granted a day off every week without having the time deducted from their pay. The employers state there will be no increase in the price of milk because of the concession to the union.

The employers were represented by a committee headed by William B. Wanzer; William A. Neer, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Fitchie and Steve Sumner, business agents, were the union spokesmen.

It will be necessary for the milk companies to hire 400 to 500 men to act as substitute drivers. It will take some time to "break" them in and the six day week will not go into effect until that is accomplished.

PARIS AUDIENCE GOES WILD OVER OUR ELSIE JANIS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, May 13.—[By Wireless.]—Elsie Janis scored the greatest triumph in her career last night at the Apollo revue when she appeared before an audience entirely French.

Elsie translated into perfect French not only the words of her various songs but the atmosphere of her stunts as well.

At the close of a simple dance number toward the end of the program the audience gave her an ovation such as Paris has not witnessed in years.

Hats were thrown in the air, men stood on their seats cheering, and the stage was carpeted with flowers.

"I'se des as feepy as I tan be," she yawned as Capt. Dennis McHenry carried her home. "Take me home to muvver, please."

Out $700,000, Broker Wins Half Million

A gambling house in a north side "mystery flat," where one citizen of Chicago, a Board of Trade operator, lost $700,000 in two hours of play and won back $500,000 in a similar session, has been uncovered by State's Attorney Crowe, it was learned last night.

The flat is at 4353 Kenmore avenue. It is leased to John ("Jack") Barry. Indictments for Barry and for "Jed" Flanagan are to be asked of the grand jury, it was said. Flanagan is said to be implicated only as a "capper" for the place.

Both Flanagan and Barry were recently arrested on minor charges growing out of the operation of the flat.

Roulette Takes Thousands.

In addition to the Chicago man who gave notes for $200,000 statements have been obtained from a Chicago oil operator who lost $14,000, a Kansas banker who is minus $2,300, and another man who gave up $1,400.

The length of time the "million dollar" gambling house has operated is not known. It has been ascertained Barry bought the $293 roulette wheel, which was installed in the flat, surrounded with costly furniture and softshaded lights, and placed in charge of a green visored croupier. Nightly it whirred from midnight to dawn.

Then it was whispered to dozens of girl habitues of "gardens," cabarets, and other night life centers, that a "10 per cent commission" could be earned by luring men to the Kenmore avenue flat.

Champagne Free to All.

Soon a steady stream of cars began to discharge laughing occupants. No one ever was seen about in daylight. Inside the patrons were plied with whisky and champagne gratis and lured to the wheel. The gambling fever and the whisky brought on high play. Their I. O. U.'s were good—and they signed them. Next day they were presented with the I. O. U.'s.

"It's all right if you wait a few days," they were told. The few days passed. Then came telephone calls to wives, offices, business associates—pressure to get the money.

Complaints were made to the police, but the flat, which is in the district of Capt. John McCarthy and Sergt. George Cudmore, went unraided.

Pair Seized, Then Freed.

Finally, on May 8, Lock Davidson, a Wichita banker, who had lost $2,300, went to the detective bureau. He talked to Detective Sergeants Cartan and McFarland. Later he talked to Chief Investigator Ben Newmark at the state's attorney's office. Flanagan was arrested at the Congress.

He admitted taking Davidson to the "mystery flat," but denied receiving a 10 per cent "rakeoff." He was released. Barry, brought into the state's attorney's office, is said to have confessed, gained his freedom, and dismantled the roulette wheel. He took it to a drug store on Montrose avenue, where it was found by the state's attorney's men.

Barry Known as Gambler.

Barry has been known as a professional gambler. On Oct. 3, 1919, it is chronicled, he was arrested by Detective Sergeant Michael Mallow. Judge Hayes discharged him. On Oct. 23 his offices were raided and three men booked as "inmates of a gambling house."

On March 24, 1921, Barry's wife, Mrs. Julia Barry, filed action for divorce, classing her husband as a "professional gambler." She mentioned "orgies of intoxication" and "periodical sprees," and also named Irene Nugent, the Buena Plaza hotel, and Madeline Bisque, 5026 North Troy street.

Barry could not be located last night.

BRITAIN FAVORS LESS COERCION, BERLIN HEARS

Lloyd George Backs German Claims.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, May 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—An exchange of views is declared to be proceeding between the allies concerning the cancellation of the allied penalties, especially the Rhine customs barrier and the occupation of the Ruhr ports, in view of Germany's acceptance of the terms. It is reported here that Great Britain favors cancellation.

LONDON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Great Britain will not accept as a fact accomplished the seizure and holding by insurgent Poles under the leadership of Adalbert Korfanty of portions of Upper Silesia.

This was made plain in the house of commons today by Premier Lloyd George, who emphatically declared the invasion was in defiance of the treaty of Versailles.

Either the allies should insist on the treaty being respected, the premier said, or they ought to allow Germany to do so.

A Plea for Fair Play.

"Not merely to disarm Germany, but to say that such troops as she has are not to be permitted to take part in restoring order—that is not fair," he added.

It would be discreditable and not worthy of the honor of any land, and, he asserted, "I am perfectly certain that it will not be the attitude the allies will take."

Mr. Lloyd George said it was of supreme interest that the allies should see that the treaty was respected. For the moment overwhelming force was on the side of the allies and Germany must submit to them, but the future was dark and uncertain.

"I Am Frightened."

"I am alarmed. I am frightened that unless some confidence is restored to the world the consequences may be of the most terrible character, because the whole industrial world is so built up on credit and confidence. Once that is shaken I do not see how it can be rebuilt.

"It, therefore, is essential we should recognize that justice has nothing to do with likes or dislikes and that we must decide fairly and sternly according to the pact we ouselves have signed."

Denounces Poles' Tactics.

Mr. Lloyd George declared the treaty of Versailles was the charter of Polish freedom and that she was the last country of Europe who had the right to complain about the treaty. Poland did not win her liberty, the prime minister asserted. Her liberty was due to Italy, Great Britain, and France.

Mr. Lloyd George cited that the Poles were divided in the war, half of them fighting with the Germans.

"They fell in German uniforms," he declared, "and shot down Frenchmen, British, and Italians who were fighting for their freedom.

"I see Korfanty has said that the Poles in Silesia would die rather than surrender. If they had thought that earlier, there would have been fewer British, French, and Italian lives lost. But they only think of it when the Germans are disarmed and helpless.

"The Polish government has repudiated responsibility, and I am bound to accept that statement as representing their views, but it has happened once too often.

Recalls Vilna Coup.

"Vilna was occupied by regular Polish troops in defiance of the allies," he said. "They were asked to retire, and they said, 'We have no responsibility for it.' The same thing is happening now. The same disclaimer of responsibility. Arms passing from Poland and officers crossing her frontiers make it very difficult to feel that those repudiations of responsibility are anything but purely verbal."

Mr. Lloyd George pleaded for the upholding of the treaty, both for the sake of honor and for safety and security. There were two ways of dealing with the Silesian situation, he declared. One was that allied troops insist on restoring order.

It was not for him to express a military opinion, and he did not insist on this part of the program, but he was entitled to insist on an alternative.

Either the allies ought to insist upon the treaty being respected, or they ought to allow the Germans to do so.

Pleads for Fairness.

"Not merely to disarm Germany but to say that such troops as she has are not to be permitted to take part in restoring order—that is not fair," he said. "To say to Germany: 'Here is your province, here is something which has been decided by the treaty of Versailles either for or against you, but the Poles are to be allowed, in defiance of that treaty, to take it, and you will not be allowed to defend yourselves in a province which has been yours for 200 years and which certainly has not been Polish for 800 years,' is discreditable and not worthy of the honor of any land.

* * *

"I am perfectly certain that will not be the attitude the allies will take. The only thing which I would like to say in behalf of the government is this: Whatever happens, we cannot accept a fait accompli. That would be to permit a defiance which might lead to consequences of the most disastrous kind."

"Allies Must Respect Pact."

It was to the allies' supreme interest that they respect the treaty of Versailles, Mr. Lloyd George continued.

"For the moment," he said, "we have overwhelming force on our side and Germany must submit. But the future is dark and uncertain and nobody can tell what it is charged with. The only thing I venture to predict is that force will count less and less with the treaty of Versailles, and the honor and credit of Germany, her signature to her bond, will count more.

"But if circumstances change and if the power of these 60,000,000 people —very powerful, as we know from experience, and able, courageous, and resourceful—becomes more vital because of changed circumstances, it ought to and will count more and more.

"Then it would be a bad thing in the reckoning if Germany can say, 'You are asking us to honor our bond; what did you do with yours? When it was against us, you insisted; you threatened to blockade us by taking over our coal mines because you wanted to compel us to carry out the Versailles treaty. Were you equally as insistent when Poland defied you over Silesia?'

Must Not Despise Honor.

"I am entitled to say, and I say it solemnly to Great Britain and her allies, that it is not merely a matter of honor, . . . though even that surely is not to be despised."

The premier argued that it was not merely a matter of honor but a matter of security.

'We must adhere to the treaty," he declared, "whether it is for or against us. I dislike the sort of trifling which says, 'After all, they are only Germans.' They are entitled to everything the bond either imposes upon or gives them, and we ought to judge them impartially, with a stern sense of justice, whether it is for us or against us.

"Fair play is what Great Britain stands for, and I hope she will stand for it to the end. I hope that, although they are Germans, we will show all the more that we will stand for fair play, and our authority will be all the greater for it."

The prime minister concluded with a reference to Russia, which, he said, now was broken, but would be a powerful, dominant country, and would have a word in the future of the world. None knew, he said, what Russia's views would be or with whom she would side.

Those wishing to destroy the treaty of Versailles, Mr. Lloyd George declared, should think of the possibilities of the rest of central Europe.

POLES SPREAD FALSE NEWS

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

OPPELN, May 13.—Following a wireless dispatch from Warsaw, saying that the entente had agreed to give Poland the entire territory seized by Korfanty, the German leaders here called a general strike yesterday, tieing up transportation and industry and closing many stores. The Germans conducted the strike in an orderly manner.

The entente authorities today issued circulars branding the Warsaw report as false, whereupon the strike was called off and all activities were resumed at once.

Entente officers say that unless Korfanty, now on a wave of success, eventually loses his campaign, the only solution will be for a strong interallied force to occupy the territory for six months to reëstablish order.

Kreuzberg, which is the center of the German defensive area, was much excited over the Warsaw report, which allied representatives believe was inspired because of the alleged reichswehr movement in Germany.

It is declared that eight divisions of Polish regulars, which are said to be concentrated on the frontier, might make a German troop movement an excuse to occupy the territory already in insurgent hands.

AMBASSADORIAL COUNCIL DELAYS SILESIA ACTION

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, May 13.—[By Wireless.]—The council of ambassadors has decided not to make any decision on the Upper Silesian question, despite its gravity, until fighting has ceased and order has been restored.

The Silesian question was on the agenda of the council's meeting today and the matter was discussed at length, but adjournment was taken until next Friday without action.

"Laddie Boy" as Parader Salutes the Hardings

Washington, D. C., May 13.—President and Mrs. Harding today reviewed from the steps of the executive office a "Be kind to animals parade," in which Laddie Boy, the presidential Airedale mascot, participated. Near the head of a column of floats, in which "Black Beauty," "Mary's Lamb," and other favorites were paraded, Laddie Boy had an elaborately decorated float of his own, from which he barked proudly to his master as he passed the White House.

I HID MY GOLD, SON HID HIS, SAYS MRS. BERGDOLL

Grover Loves U. S., but Not to Fight for It.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—The end of the rainbow in the Bergdoll case was still far off tonight when the house investigating committee adjourned after trying vainly for two hours to get Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the millionaire slacker, to tell where she buried the mysterious $105,000 pot of gold.

Mrs. Bergdoll knows exactly where the rainbow comes down. She buried the pot of gold there herself. It was somewhere in the vicinity of Philadelphia. It is still there, but no other living person knows where she buried it and she won't tell. It's nobody else's business, she told the committee.

There may be two pots of gold figuring in the Bergdoll case, according to Mrs. Bergdoll's testimony. Her son, Grover, is worth at least half a million in his own name, she said. He knew nothing whatever, she testified, about her pot of gold.

Grover's Private Pot of Gold.

Grover may have had a pot all of his own. It is entirely likely, she thinks, that he stopped off for a few minutes in his flight to the Canadian border en route to Germany, and dug up the gold he said he had buried near Hagerstown, Md.

Grover, the slacker, isn't so keen about Germany. He likes the security of Germany, but he likes the United States much better, Mrs. Bergdoll thinks. He writes her that "as soon as the armistice is signed up," he'll come back, she said. By "armistice," it was evident she meant the final restoration of peace with Germany.

An interesting but somewhat absurd feature of the hearing was the dragging of the name of President Harding into the Bergdoll case. James E. Romig, the Bergdoll handy man, told the committee that, in 1919, long before Mr. Harding was considered a serious presidential possibility, a man representing himself to be "Senator Harding" and a person of strong influence in Washington called on Mrs. Bergdoll and told her he could get her son out of jail.

Discovery of Impostor.

He proposed a contract which Mrs. Bergdoll was to sign. Romig made a trip to Washington once to see "Senator Harding," but found the man was an impostor. The contract is in the hands of the department of justice, according to Romig.

Mrs. Bergdoll testified in broken English. She told the committee that she had been born in Germany; that she came to America when she was 17; that she never took out naturalization papers, but that she was entitled to American citizenship by reason of her marriage to Louis Bergdoll Jr. She didn't vote at the last election.

"With eleven indictments against me, I thought I had better stay at home," she explained, with a smile.

She's a Thrifty Hausfrau.

She prides herself on her self reliance. She keeps no servants, does all her own housework and cooking. She has no lawyer and wants none; even when she traveled around with $105,000 in the back seat of her automobile, she had no guard, she said. She carried a pistol and acted as her own guard. She never takes anybody else's advice.

"The Lord gave me a head and I try to use it," she said.

Mrs. Bergdoll has gone through ceaseless litigation because of her son's unwillingness to go to war. She has been convicted and fined for helping him to evade the draft. His aversion to fighting for his country has cost her about $30,000, she testified.

Only once did her complacent self assurance seem to desert her; toward the end of the session, she exclaimed with some show of emotion:

"There are thousands and thousands of slackers and not one of their mothers has been mentioned but me.

"Why is it there are different kinds of law? There seems to be law for the Quakers, a law for the rich man and a law for the poor man. A poor man could get exempted from the draft; the rich man had to go."

Mrs. Bergdoll told the committee how she came to Washington twice during the fall of 1919 to get gold from the treasury department. Once she took back $45,000 and another time she carried $60,000.

"Why did you want all this gold?" she was asked.

"Well, I had read about people getting gold and burying it and then making money out of it. I thought I would try that scheme once, too. Besides, I thought it would come handy, anyhow."

Feared U. S. Was Bankrupt.

She said when she laid her rolls of bills before treasury officials in Washington they did not want to give her gold. "What's the matter? Is the government bankrupt?" she asked.

Then they gave her the gold, she said.

She and Romig took the gold back to Philadelphia in canvas bags of $5,000 each and put it under the kitchen table, she said. She didn't bother guarding it.

"The next day I took it away and buried it," she said.

"Without meaning to start any gold rush," said Gen. Sherbourn, counsel for the committee, "where did you take it?"

"I won't say," she replied. "That's nobody's business but my own. I didn't go very far away from Philadelphia."

Not Buried in Maryland.

"Did you take it over into Maryland?"

"No, I never was near Hagerstown in my life," she answered.

She denied that she had ever turned a dollar of the gold over to Grover.

"I've still got it in the same place where I buried it," she said.

"Then this gold had nothing to do with any gold that Grover may have had buried?" she was asked.

"No."

"Do you think he had any buried?"

"Maybe he had—I don't know—I think so," she replied.

Mrs. Bergdoll told of retaining D. Clarence Gibboney as counsel for her son. She paid him a retainer of $2,500 and later gave him a fee of $10,000. He wanted more, but she refused to advance more money until he had freed her son.

She declared that when she retained Gibboney Judge John W. Wescott, prominent New Jersey politician, who nominated Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore in 1912, was present. She understood that Judge Wescott was being retained also as an expert legal adviser to Gibboney.

Had No Faith in Lawyer.

She said she was fearful that Mr. Gibboney "didn't know enough law." Later she thought it was strange that Judge Wescott didn't seem to take any part in the case and remarked on it to Capt. Bruce Campbell, the military lawyer in the Bergdoll case, she said.

"It's best that Judge Wescott stay in the background," Campbell said, according to Mrs. Bergdoll.

"What did he mean by that?" Chairman Peters asked.

"I don't know," Mrs. Bergdoll said.

Mrs. Bergdoll hasn't heard from her son except through relatives with whom he is staying in Germany. About three weeks ago she sent him 600,000 marks at a cost of about $10,000, she said.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.

After announcing the selection of Gen. Pershing for chief of staff and the plan of organization of the army, Secretary of War Weeks appeared today before the senate military affairs committee to protest against the reductions in the army bill. He could not make the reductions called for by the house bill, the secretary said, without demoralizing the army.

Another pot of gold made its appearance in the testimony before the Bergdoll investigating committee. Mrs. Bergdoll insisted that the treasure spot was known only to herself and that she would not reveal it.

The emergency tariff bill was sent to conference by the house.

Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, testifying before the house judiciary committee, urged passage of the new Volstead act forbidding doctors from prescribing beer.

POLITICAL ROW MAY BRING WAR IN ARGENTINA

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, May 13.—The long political conflict between President Irigoyen and Gov. Crotto of Buenos Aires province is rapidly approaching a crisis.

The Argentine constitution empowers the national government, under certain conditions, to intervene in provincial governments and to replace governors with ad interim appointees named by the president.

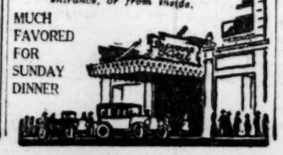

The national government has resolved to exercise this power in Buenos Aires province. Provincial police are being concentrated in the provincial capital and the governor's friends say they will resist intervention. Such action is expected to result in a clash between national and provincial troops.

RENEW BATTLE OF MOUNTAINS IN MINE FIGHT

Soldier to Tell Harding of the Situation.

Williamson, W. Va., May 13.—The battle zone of the Williamson coal district was dark tonight except for occasional flashes of rifle fire from the Kentucky and West Virginia mountains.

Women and children were leaving the endangered mining towns for places considered safer. Several refugee families came to this city.

From various reports it appeared that six men were killed since the fighting was started on a large scale about dawn yesterday.

More Dead, Rumors Say.

Rumors placed the number of deaths at not less than fifteen. Word of killings came from McCarr, Merrimac, Rawl, and Sprigg.

Fighting was reported today from all Rawl, Merrimac, Sprigg, Matewan, and McCarr, with new attacks late at Gates, near Matewan, and at the mines nearby. A score or more nonunion miners were reported to be hemmed in by hill riflemen at the Howard mines, near Gates, and their fate had not been learned tonight.

Capt. J. R. Brockus, with fifteen of the state police, went to Sprigg late today to try to get around and above riflemen on the mountains near that place. His men were under fire when they started up the mountain trails.

A deputy sheriff late tonight approached the stronghold of a leader of the mountaineers under a flag of truce, asking that the mountain men cease firing into villages.

Federal Inquiry Ordered.

Word was received today that a staff officer from Fort Benjamin Harrison, 5th corps headquarters, would visit the trouble zone, investigate, and report to Washington before any federal troops were sent, as requested both by the governor of West Virginia and of Kentucky. The report will be referred to President Harding for decision.

From Chillicothe, O., came word that part of the 19th United States infantry was being prepared to obey at once any order sending it to the trouble zone.

Meanwhile officials both of the coal operators and the United Mine Workers, the latter conducting a strike here since last July, following eviction of miners from "company houses," blamed the opposing side for the trouble. The operators blame the "former strikers," and say the strike is lost and they have plenty of men at the mines. The union blames the operators' "private detectives."

A. F. OF L. NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH SOVIET REGIME

Cincinnati, O., May 13.—Organized labor in the United States must not take any action which would be construed as an assistance to, or approval of, the Soviet government of Russia, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor warned in its annual report, which was completed here today.

The council condemns the soviet government as not being representation of the Russian people, and declares it to be antagonistic to the union labor movement.

The report is understood to criticize the socialist party, for its alleged support of the communists and other radical elements in this country.

CABINET MAKER

Germany's New Chancellor, Whose Ministry Accepted the Allied Ultimatum and Who Restrained the German President from Resigning.

DR. JOSEPH V. WIRTH.
[Kadel & Herbert Photo.]

Dr. Joseph Wirth, former German minister of finance, who succeeded Konstantin Fehrenbach as chancellor, consented to form a new ministry when, in desperation, President Ebert declared that unless a cabinet which would accept the allied ultimatum could be found before the expiration of the time limit, May 12, he would resign.

The new German government is a coalition without representation of the People's party, which is headed by Hugo Stinnes and other great industrialists. A move is now on to expand the ministry and seat a member of this important political group.

If this is done prophecies that the Wirth government would be short lived may not materialize.

NAVAL HOLIDAY NOT OPPOSED BY HARDING: BORAH

President Ready to Talk Disarmament.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—President Harding's attitude toward the proposal of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, for a naval disarmament conference between Great Britain, Japan, and the United States was brought into question in the senate today during debate on the half billion dollar naval appropriation bill.

Senator Borah said the president had not indicated any opposition during a recent conference on the subject, while Senator Hale, Republican, Maine, who also discussed the Borah amendment with Mr. Harding a few days ago, declared that the President thought action by congress unnecessary.

Was Not Interested.

Because of the President's statements to him, Senator Borah said he had "paid little attention" to a published statement of Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, in charge of the naval bill, that the President opposed the disarmament suggestion.

Senator Hale replied that he had accompanied Senator Poindexter to the White House a few days ago. "We talked over the question of disarmament," he said, "and I gathered from what was said there that the President thought it was not necessary for congress to go ahead in this way with the resolution."

Senator Borah replied that he would be glad to have a statement from Senator Poindexter, who, however, was not in the chamber at the time, and then he could and would relate in detail the President's statement.

Senator Borah and also Senator Kenyon declared the people of Great Britain and Japan favored curtailment of military expenditures.

ARMAMENT FOES GATHER.

All the sessions, which will be held in the New England Congregational church, Dearborn street at Delaware place, will be public. On Thursday evening a mass meeting will be held in Medinah temple at Cass and Ohio streets. The Chicago Church federation, the Rev. Howard A. Johnston, president, will be host to the visiting delegates. It is expected that President Harding and congress will be petitioned to call an international congress on the reduction of armaments.

WOMAN DENIES POISONING HER FOUR HUSBANDS

Ready to Face Murder Charges in Idaho.

BY GEORGE NELLIST.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

HONOLULU, May 13.—[By Wireless.]—"I have absolute confidence in the innocence of my wife and am sure she will be cleared of this awful accusation when brought to trial. She has been a good true wife to me and I have never had any reason to doubt her. What does it matter that she was married four times before she married me, and that the other husbands died. She might have lost ten hubsands. That would not mean she had done away with them." This statement was made today by Vincent Southard, chief petty officer on the U. S. S. Monterey, whose bride of six months is in jail here accused of the murder of one husband at Twin Falls, Idaho, and suspected of killing three other husbands for their life insurance, as well as the infant child of her first husband and her brother-in-law.

Denies Insurance Story.

Southard, a clean cut, fine appearing young sailorman, emphatically denied a published report that he had said his wife had urged him to take out $10,000 life insurance. "It's an absolute lie," he vehemently declared. "She never mentioned life insurance to me."

The couple were married in Los Angeles last November. Then Southard came here a month later, being assigned to the Pearl Harbor naval station. Southard says his wife has been in poor health since her arrival here, having been affected by the change in climate.

They have waived extradition and Mrs. Southard is eager to go back to Twin Falls as soon as possible and stand trial. No one has been allowed to see her but her husband. He says she has almost collapsed under the shock.

Fears for Wife's Life.

"I'm afraid she will not live through it to stand trial unless I can get her away from here as soon as possible," he said. "If it will expedite her return to Idaho I will pay the expenses of an officer to take her from here to Idaho."

He said his wife hysterically avowed her innocence and that he trusted her fully.

"I will stand by her through this great trouble to the very end," he continued. "I am trying to arrange to get a transfer so I can go back to the coast with her. I have got to be with her, even if I have to desert."

As he made this statement Southard himself seemed not far from a breakdown.

WOMEN'S CLUBS JOIN TO BOOST NO-PARTY TICKET

Lay Plans to Get Feminine Voters to the Polls.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

"No woman has anything more important to do than to go to the polls June 6 and vote for the entire coalition nonpartisan ticket, which will appear in the Democratic column on the judicial ballot," was the message Miss Grace E. Temple, president of the Chicago Woman's club, gave to the presidents of representative woman's clubs and organizations called to a special meeting at the Woman's club yesterday.

"The Woman's club is nonpartisan," said Miss Temple. "We feel, however, that the issues at stake in the coming election are so vital to every woman in Chicago that we have called you here to ask your coöperation in bringing back to your various organizations working suggestions as how best to get every woman at the polls June 6.

"Juvenile court, mother's pensions, jury selection, south park expenditures—these are a few of the issues which will be determined at that election, issues which affect every woman in the city. The functions of the Circuit court judges are tremendous. It will be an overwhelming disaster if the Thompson-Lundin machine controls the election."

Judicial Candidates Speak.

Judge David F. Matchett called attention to the fact that the Circuit judges to be elected appoint the jury commission which will select jurors for the next six years.

Judge Victor P. Arnold of the Juvenile court reminded the women that "the Circuit judges appoint the Juvenile court judge from their membership. He said the court has operated under a "hand made merit system" not called for by law, under which the 107 probation officers are appointed after examination. He pointed out that the Thompson-Lundin organization is opposed to such methods, and said that if it is successful he understands the present probation officers will be removed from office June 23. "What is going to become of the standards of this court?" Judge Morrill asked, "which has been building for twenty-two years and was instituted largely by the interest in children shown by the women of this community? Will you women permit the children of Chicago to be raided for a paltry 100 jobs?"

Judge Donald L. Morrill urged the necessity of voting the ticket as a whole in order to beat the machine.

The majority of the women present pledged themselves to carry back to their clubs suggestions for getting out the women's vote.

Those at the Meeting.

The following women were among those present: Miss Grace E. Temple, Mrs. George R. Dean, Mrs. J. H. Kaufman, Chicago Woman's club; Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, Woman's City club; Miss Annette C. Washburne, Junior league; Mrs. Thomas R. Brennan, Ridge Woman's club; Mrs. I. J. Minnick, Riverside Woman's club; Miss Josephine Miller, University of Chicago settlement; Mrs. M. C. Hebel, North Shore Woman's club; Mrs. George McIntyre, Big sisters; Mrs. A. L. Kaltenbrun, First district federation of woman's clubs; Mrs. William H. Cabe, Twenty-sixth ward civic league; Mrs. A. Sauer, Edgewater Catholic Woman's club; Mrs. Carl Cropp, Western Springs' Woman's club; Mrs. Ignatz Ries, Mrs. Moses Curvin, Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. Everett Meyer, Seventh ward league of women voters; Mrs. Augusta Babize, Ninth district federation of woman's clubs; Mrs. Vinton E. Mason, Daughters of American Revolution; Mrs. Edward J. Flemming, Catholic Woman's league; Mrs. Edward Coleman, Chicago Woman's aid; Mrs. J. B. Broadley, Woman's Athletic; Mrs. S. D. Snow, Lake View woman's club; Mrs. H. F. Ayres, Lincoln center.

Hoover to Issue Data on "Save" Retail Prices

Washington, D. C., May 13.—Conferring with representatives of retail-ers' organizations, Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared today that henceforth frequent bulletins would be issued telling the public of proper retail prices. The retailers promised to supply production costs, wholesale prices, retailers' expenses, and retail prices as a basis for his figures. They asserted recent statements that retail prices had not kept pace with wholesale price declines. Mr. Hoover replied that in one city he found prices ranging from war levels to that now proper, while some retailers still were making large profits and had not based prices on present cost of replacement.

POLICEMAN COMMENDED FOR KILLING.

A verdict of justifiable homicide was voted for Policeman John A. Lache, was commended by a coroner's jury at an inquest yesterday into the death of George Schroeder, 19 years old, 1442 West North avenue. Schroeder was shot by Lachel when he refused to halt when fleeing from a store he had just robbed.

ENLISTED IN THE CAUSE OF AN "UNHARASSED" JUDICIARY

Upon the invitation of Miss Grace E. Temple, president of the Chicago Woman's club—which never before took part in a political campaign—representatives of a large and varied number of women's organizations met yesterday to discuss ways and means of aiding the coalition nonpartisan judicial ticket over the hand picked slate of the Thompson-Lundin machine. One definite step agreed upon was that all organizations represented at the meeting shall be told in circulars of the issues of the campaign. And one of the circulars will be an answer to the literature of "The Women's Betterment Association," a "dummy" erected and financed by the Lundin-Thompson forces for campaign purposes. "The wolf in sheep's clothing is again among us," reads the circular issued by the Woman's City club. "This time the masquerade costume bears the title of 'The Women's Betterment association.' Inside the garment, one feels sure, the manufacturer's label reads 'Made in the city hall.' Even the most well furbished and bedizened cloak cannot hide the sinister face that leers out between the folds nor disguise the voice whose every utterance is a challenge to an intelligent and public spirited citizenship." Seated in the foreground of the picture (from left to right) are Mesdames A. E. Kaltenbrun, B. F. Langworthy, E. L. Murfey, Augusta Babize, and J. A. Campbell. Standing (in the same order) are Mesdames W. H. Cade, A. R. E. Wyant, W. L. Stebbings, and Fred A. Brown, the Misses Jeanette Beats, Ida Lane, and Grace Temple, Mesdames I. H. Kaufman, William A. Saner, and George R. Dean, Miss E. E. Smith, and Mesdames N. W. Hartough and B. E. Scharr.

MATCHETT LISTS PERILS IF CITY HALL WINS BENCH

Juvenile Court and Juries Menaced.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Judge David F. Matchett, a candidate for reëlection to the Circuit court on the nonpartisan coalition ticket, has summarized what is at stake in the election of June 6.

Speaking at several meetings, he has told the voters that in addition to the integrity of the bench being in jeopardy, the political booty involved in the battle is so great that the Lundin-Thompson machine may be expected to strain itself to the utmost to capture it.

He pointed out the danger that lies in placing the selection of the jury commission in the hands of a machine and the peril that threatens the Juvenile court, the juvenile institutions, and the mothers' pension fund if they are turned over to the politicians. And he spoke of the menace of the spoils system to the south parks and the fee offices of the county government.

Integrity of Bench at Stake.

"The issues of this judicial election as I conceive them," he said, "are well defined.

"First, the integrity of the bench. Judge Scanlan, I happen to be informed, is not the only judge of the Circuit court who has been threatened by a politician of the city hall with retirement on account of the fearless performance of his official duties.

"Second—the petit juries and the grand juries. The twenty-one judges to be elected on Monday, June 6, together with the judge of the County court, constitute a majority of those who appoint the jury commissioners. These same judges will have the power to remove the present commissioners and appoint others subservient to the city hall machine. They will have power, if they so elect, to appoint deputy commissioners in each precinct. Some of us remember the juries of other days. Are the voters ready to risk a return to the same conditions?

"Third—The integrity and efficiency of the Juvenile court are at stake.

Recalls Work of Noted Judges.

"The Juvenile court, as it now exists, is the result of the work of Judge Tuthill, Mack, Pinckney, and Arnold, backed by the other judges of the court and assisted by the good men and women of Chicago of every race and every creed. Are the voters ready to take away from the dependent and delinquent children of Cook county the benefit of the efforts of such men and women in their behalf?

"Fourth—By virtue of a constitutional provision the judges of the Circuit court fix yearly the number of employés in the fee offices of Cook county. Do the taxpayers desire to place this power in the hands of the city hall?

South Side Parks Involved.

"Fifth—Control of the whole park system of the south side is involved. The south parks since 1867 have been controlled by boards of commissioners appointed by the judges of the Circuit court. There never has been a scandal in their administration. The term of one commissioner expires each year. The successors of the present commissioners will be chosen by a majority of the judges of the Circuit court elected on Monday, June 6.

"The improvements to be made, for which part of the bonds already have been voted, amount to many millions of dollars. Do the voters desire the city hall 'experts' to assist in making improvements which will aggregate in excess of $100,000,000?"

NONPARTISAN NOTES

Democrats and Republicans of the Twenty-sixth ward last night perfected their organization for the campaign for the election of the coalition candidates for judges at a meeting held at 1920 Irving Park boulevard. Two hundred workers were present. Henry A. Zender, superintendent of public service and Democratic ward committeeman, was elected chairman and John W. Gibson was elected secretary of the joint organization.

The managing committee of the Democratic party of Cook county, as the regular Democratic organization is known, will hold a meeting at noon today in Hotel Sherman to make plans for aiding the coalition judicial ticket.

Members of the American Legion are interesting themselves in the candidacies of Judge Francis S. Wilson and Philip L. Sullivan, two of the coalition judicial candidates, both of whom resigned as officers of the Legion to become candidates.

Candidates on the coalition ticket reported that they had been approached with offers of assistance from the Thompson-Lundin machine if they would agree not to become "too active" in the campaign.

A complete canvass of the city and the country towns was ordered by the executive committee of the coalition campaign committee.

VOTE TO END CITY HALL CONTROL OF BALLOT RESULTS

Ordinance to Speed Returns O. K.'d.

A blow was struck yesterday at the practice, instituted some time ago by Mayo Thompson, of keeping election results hidden instead of making them immediately known; when the judiciary committee of the city council reported in for passage an ordinance requiring the police to turn their figures over to the committee. The ordinance is to come up at the next meeting of the council for final action.

Formerly election returns gathered by the police assigned to the various polling places were brought to the city hall and turned over to the City News Bureau by which they were tabulated and given to the newspapers.

Returns Taken to Chief's Office.

In 1919 Chief of Police Garrity, acting under instructions from the mayor, ordered the policemen to bring their returns direct to the chief's office. Here they were tabulated by city hall clerks and the totals reported to the mayor who gave out to the newspapers such figures as he saw fit. The result was that it was often two and three days before the results of an election became known.

Terms of the Ordinance.

The proposed ordinance, if passed, will direct the judiciary committee, "immediately upon receipt of election returns from the police department to make the same public and furnish such returns to representatives of the newspapers and the public generally."

An effort will be made to pass the ordinance so that it will be in effect for the Judicial election on June 6, but a bitter fight by city hall forces is expected.

PERSHING CHIEF OF ARMY STAFF; HARBORD HIS AID

Weeks Asks Field Force of 175,000 Men.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—After announcing the selection of Gen. Pershing for chief of staff with powers to organize the army for instant war service, Secretary of War Weeks appeared at the capitol to plead with congress for an army adequate for ordinary emergencies.

The senate military affairs committee appeared to be so impressed by his representations that it probably will recommend the maximum of 175,000 men asked by the secretary in place of the 150,000 fixed by the house.

In making Gen. Pershing chief of staff, with Gen. James G. Harbord, a native of Illinois, executive assistant to the chief of staff, Mr. Weeks removes the possibility of a clash of authority between the skeleton war headquarters staff Gen. Pershing is to organize and the chief of staff who administers the army. Gen. Pershing will devote himself to war organization problems, chiefly, and Gen. Harbord will administer the army in the name of Gen. Pershing.

Pershing a Real Army Head.

"It is the plan of the secretary of war," said Mr. Weeks, "especially to charge Gen. Pershing, when he assumes the office of chief of staff, with the organization and training of all elements of the army of the United States, which by law is defined to include the regular army, the national guard, and the organized reserves. It is proposed that Gen. Pershing become actively acquainted with the various elements of the organized reserves and the national guard, which would form the larger part of the army, which he would command if active operations should be undertaken before the date of his retirement or detail to other duty.

"Maj. Gen. Harbord, as executive assistant to the chief of staff, will have supervision over the administrative activities of the war department under the chief of staff, handling such matters directly with the secretary of war and leaving Gen. Pershing free to devote his time to the organization and training of the army and allied matters."

Secretary Weeks informed the senate committee that it would be necessary to cut the army down to 126,000 men in order to achieve the average of 150,000 provided in the house bill.

Pleads for Trained Men.

"The present strength of the army is 230,000 men and 14,000 officers," said the secretary. "The number of reenlistments is large, due to hard times. We cannot make the reductions called for by the house bill without utterly demoralizing the army. It would mean that we would have to reduce the force below the strength of 150,000 in order to get the average. After that we would have to reënlist to bring it up to the required strength. It costs $100 per man for recruiting, under our present system, so that in the long run we would save very little.

"We should not be put to the expense and inconvenience of discharging our trained men, and then recruiting to bring it up to the size of the army proposed."

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democrat, interrupted to say that the army thus would be losing trained men and getting in untrained men.

Many Calls for Troops.

"The reductions," continued Mr. Weeks, "would have to be in the infantry, the field artillery and the cavalry, which total now about 131,000 men. In the infantry, for instance, it would leave only 800 men to a regiment, or about forty men in a company, which would be only a squad. It would cut the cavalry in two. It would leave us in the United States only about 20,000 men of our actual fighting force.

"In that connection I wish to say that special uses arise from time to time. Only recently we had a call for troops at Galveston, Tex., to suppress disorders there. Yesterday we had a call from the governor of West Virginia. There has been a large division of men kept in hand for developments in Cuba."

Return from Rhine Problematical.

Mr. Weeks said the return of troops now in Germany was "altogether problematical."

"Can't you bring them home?" asked Senator Hitchcock.

"I prefer not to enter into a discussion of that matter," Secretary Weeks replied.

"Is the maintenance of the troops an item in this bill?" asked Senator Hitchcock.

The secretary said it was.

"Is it reimbursable?" he was asked.

"I hope so," Mr. Weeks replied.

25% OUT OF JOB, 6.4% CUT IN WAGE, SINCE YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—A reduction of 25 per cent in the number of employés in representative industries the last year is indicated by a special investigation by the federal reserve board, with the decrease in the average pay per employé, 6.4 per cent.

Of conditions in the Chicago district the board said:

"A majority of the concerns manufacturing automobiles and accessories report that all grades of workers have been equally affected by percentage reductions from 7 to 25 per cent. Sixteen of nineteen clothing concerns report no decrease in wages. Of sixty-one concerns manufacturing iron and steel and brass, nineteen report no wage decrease, the others, decreases from 5 to 20 per cent.

"Three of seventeen reporting packers report no decrease in wages, in the other cases, 8 to 15 per cent. Contractors and builders report decreases for twenty-one out of thirty-one firms from 10 to 25 per cent. Sixteen public utility companies report no reduction.

95% OF BOOTLEG WHISKY 'DOPED,' KRAMER SAYS

Labels Faked and Put on "Colored Alcohol."

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Urging passage of the new Volstead law, tightening up the dry laws, John F. Kramer, prohibition commissioner, today told the house judiciary committee that 95 per cent of the entire bootleg liquor supply of the country is nothing more than doped or colored alcohol.

Effective control of the supply of pure alcohol is one of the greatest problems of prohibition enforcement, according to Mr. Kramer. The illegal sale of bonded whisky of the usual age has been virtually stopped, but the bootleggers are faking labels and stamps of the preprohibition makes in order to sell colored alcohol at exorbitant prices, he said.

Kramer was firm in his opinion that within a short time enforcement of the prohibition laws will be rigid and effective. He admitted that during the last year it did not come up to expectations, but frankly stated that the fault was with his administration and not with the Volstead law.

"Home Brew to Wear Out."

"We made mistakes, but we are learning from experience," he said. "The output of home brew will be greatly decreased within the next year. In fact, it will wear out in that time. It is just a novelty. There is no menace in this practice. People who want a drink do not want to spend a month in making it."

Kramer declared that the need of additional legislation was caused by rulings of Attorney General Palmer that beer could be prescribed as medicine and that the prohibition authorities have no power to limit the number of liquor permits. Too many permits to prescribe liquor and to manufacture it were allowed during the last year, the commissioner admitted, but he asserted that thousands of these are now being canceled.

"We are getting whisky pretty well under control," he said, "but as we do that more people turn to diverting pure alcohol to beverage purposes. After alcohol is once taken out on a permit it is difficult to tell whether it is used for medicine or bootleg purposes. We issued thousands of permits to fellows who used them illegitimately, but we are taking more caution now. The revocation of permits, however, is a difficult task.

Raps Chicago Doctor.

"The bootleggers are now coloring alcohol and then selling it as bonded whisky by forging brands, stamps, and bottles. Bottled in bond whisky labels now amount to nothing."

During the testimony Mr. Kramer said he was not speaking the views of the new secretary of the treasury, whom he had not consulted, but speaking only from his own experience.

"We absolutely had to limit the number of doctors' prescriptions," said Mr. Kramer. "It takes only four or five doctors to break down the whole law in one community."

SEIBERLING ENDS METEOR RACE IN WORLD OF TIRES

Retires as President of Goodyear Company.

Akron, O., May 13.—[Special.]—Frank A. Seiberling and his brother, C. W. Seiberling, today retired from the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, marking the end of one of the most remarkable of modern business dramas.

Frank A. Seiberling, known as "The Little Napoleon," because of his small physique but leviathan business capacity, quits the presidency of the company he founded in 1898 on $13,500 borrowed capital and built up to a $130,000,000 corporation.

C. W. Seiberling retires as vice president. He recently sacrificed nearly $3,000,000 of his own stock to save employes who borrowed and invested in Goodyear stock when it was high. His loss is said to total about $2,000,000.

Friends Say He'll "Come Back."

The $85,000,000 refinancing plan of the Goodyear company was the direct cause of the two resignations. The long negotiations with New York bankers have turned Frank A. Seiberling's hair almost white, but with that exception the strain has not shown upon him. Before he left for New York to resign he was as cheerful to visitors and newspapermen as if the affairs of the company were in the best possible shape. He has lost the hardest battle of his life, but his friends believe that ten years will see Seiberling back on his feet despite the fact he is beyond 60 years in age.

Goodyear's Rapid Advance.

The original Goodyear Tire and Rubber company was started in an old frame woolen mill. Ten years later, in 1908, the company was selling $2,000,000 worth of goods. In 1910 sales had leaped to $9,000,000, and in 1920 business amounted to $205,000,000.

Mr. Seiberling built eighty buildings covering more than 100 acres of floor space, cotton mills in Goodyear, Conn., where 800 men and women are employed, rubber plantations in Sumatra containing 20,000 acres and employing 7,500, a cotton mill in Los Angeles capitalized at $20,000,000, and employing 1,200, cotton plantations in Arizona covering 50,000 acres of irrigated land, a rubber plantation in South America and tire and rubber factories in Los Angeles and Hamilton, Canada.

Throughout his life Mr. Seiberling did things on a big scale. He built, during three years, more than 1,500 homes in Goodyear Heights containing 400 acres and sold them to his employés on a small payment plan. For the men in his factory he built a $2,000,000 recreation hall and gave them a park.

A year ago he owned office buildings, hundreds of houses, and hundreds of acres of farm land. His personal fortune was estimated at $100,000,000, but friends wonder how much of that is left now.

Milwaukee Man New Head.

Under the reorganization plan Frank Seiberling is succeeded as president by E. G. Wilmer of Milwaukee, representing the firm of Dillon, Read & Co. of New York.

Mr. Wilmer was the selection of the bankers to head the company, they said, after they had searched the country for the best available man.

Vice President G. M. Stadleman and Vice President and Factory Manager P. W. Litchfield are the only Goodyear officers to remain in their previous capacities.

ANTI-PIT BILL WINS IN HOUSE; MAY END BOARD

Wheat Breaks 3c as the News Is Received.

drafted, met with the approval of representatives of the farmers, millers, country and terminal grain dealers, and the grain exchanges. This favorable expression was predicated upon the theory that the bill would be presented to congress with certain amendments which were accepted by the author of the bill as well as the house agricultural committee.

"Following these open hearings the secretary of agriculture and two of his lieutenants had a closed session with the house agricultural committee on the evening of Monday, May 2. As a result of the meeting the secretary prevailed upon the committee to redraft the pending bill in such shape as to delegate to the secretary of agriculture arbitrary and autocratic powers without parallel in the history of legislation in this country.

"With this bureaucratic and undemocratic principle of government added to the bill it was presented to the lower branch of congress.

Objects to "Grain Trade Czar."

"The bill in the main is a constructive measure and the grain business could function under its provisions. But that feature of the bill creating a czar, vesting in his person the power to destroy the business of individuals or groups, to prohibit at his pleasure the conduct of business, to disclose private affairs for public consumption, to enact regulations arbitrary and unreasonable—in fact, to assert a power virtually without limit—is a species of legislation which in no respect harmonizes with the policy of 'keeping politics out of business.'

"While I do not speak with authority for any exchange except the Chicago Board of Trade, it is my deliberate judgment that the grain exchanges of the country will voluntarily withdraw from business and close their market places rather than submit to the intolerable, unfair, and arbitrary features of this bill.

"Open World Marts to Farmer."

"The responsibility for the farmers' present deplorable condition cannot be attributed to any particular group of men, but rather to a world-wide situation. Potentially, there is a demand for all the product the American farmer can or will produce, but our customers are in bankruptcy. The farmers' condition will not be relieved until in some way we open up the markets of the world for what the farmers have to sell. This may necessitate legislation extending credits to European governments or indemnifying American exporters on foreign credit transactions.

"If the coming harvest the world over should prove bountiful and, in the interim, our government has provided no means by which the farmer can find a market for his product, I dread to think of conditions into which this country will be plunged, in a purely economic sense."

FALLING PRICES BRING $9,202,437 DEFICIT ON FUR

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—Officials of the International Fur exchange today announced a deficit of $9,202,437 in its finances. Stockholders are being informed by circular, it was declared.

The concern's indebtedness was announced as $18,065,604, and its assets as $8,863,166.

The company has been holding auction sales said to set records in the fur trade at several sales, each of two weeks' duration. Receipts passed $25,000,000.

Present difficulties are laid to the "sudden and violent collapse, in the spring of 1920, of the wholesale market for furs."

The circular explains that the exchange's indebtedness to banks was consolidated July 20, 1920, into an acceptance credit of slightly in excess of $23,000,000, effective for ninety days. An additional loan of about $2,000,000 is mentioned in the circular. It was said tonight that a bankers' committee, representing the creditors, plans to reorganize the International Fur exchange.

The exchange has claims of $4,850,156 against purchasers, about 65 per cent of that being covered by insurance.

"In addition," the circular says, "there are owing to the operating company deficit accounts of $7,405,142.25. Of that $2,063,793.74 are owed by concerns now bankrupt."

BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunates.

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

Would you give a dollar to keep a Chicago baby alive for six days? Then here is your chance. Send your dollar to David R. Forgan, treasurer of the United Charities of Chicago, 168 North Michigan avenue. Five dollars will provide one baby with milk for a whole month, and when you realize that one out of every six babies born in this city dies before it reaches the age of 5, chiefly because of lack of nourishment, you can appreciate how your contribution to the Babies' Milk fund may be the means of saving a baby from death or from years of sickness and misery.

MISS AMELIA SEARS.

Miss Amelia Sears is the assistant general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago and is actively engaged in saving the lives of undernourished babies all over the city. Last year more than $25,000 was spent for milk alone in building up robust little bodies to resist the ravages of disease. This year it will take at least $30,000.

FIFI AND GUIDE IN WEIRD RITUAL OF IROQUOIS TRIBE

Inducted in Squaw's Garb, Fred in Warpaint.

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—The next hearing in the divorce action of James A. Stillman, former president of the National City bank, was postponed today for one week until May 25 by Referee Gleason.

The postponement was by mutual consent and was not due to any intention on the part of Mr. Stillman to drop the proceedings as was reported early in the afternoon from Poughkeepsie, where the next hearing will be held in the office of Surrogate Gleason.

Surrogate Gleason was called on the telephone by George Coggill, representing Mrs. Stillman, who asked that the hearing, scheduled for May 19, be postponed. Mr. Coggill told the referee this arrangement was satisfactory to Mr. Stillman's attorneys.

Rumor of Money Settlement.

Earlier rumors had ascribed to Mr. Stillman the intention of dropping his suit for divorce and retiring to Paris, where he would make his residence. It was stated that Mrs. Stillman would be permitted to obtain a divorce in Reno or anywhere else she wished to file it.

One of Mr. Stillman's friends, who would not permit the use of his name, said during the day that the banker will stop the proceedings from his side and give Mrs. Stillman $7,500 monthly alimony.

In return, Guy, the baby, is to surrender all claims to a share in the $3,000,000 left by James A. Stillman Sr. for his grandchildren.

Under this reported arrangement, Mrs. Stillman will take care of the children and the present hearings are to be postponed indefinitely.

Fifi and Guide in Ceremony.

The induction of Mrs. Stillman as a full fledged member into that branch of the Iroquois tribe to which belonged one line of ancestors of Fred K. Beauvais, named as co-respondent, was disclosed today.

The testimony of the French Canadian witnesses before Referee Gleason contained references to a ceremony in the Grand Anse region of Quebec in the fall of 1917.

Mrs. Stillman went to the Iroquois village with Beauvais. All the tribal members in full war dress awaited their coming. The chief, whose name was not revealed, headed the braves, with the squaws of the village preparing the adoption.

On their arrival at the village tribal robes were given the society woman. Beauvais went to a tepee and put on his war paint and feathers.

Then came the ceremony. With tomtoms beating and war songs chanted and then loud shouts Mrs. Stillman was led forth to the little square of the village. Here the braves drew up in a circle, with the squaws on the other edge. Beauvais had a place of honor near the chief.

She Takes the Blood Oath.

The chief then called Mrs. Stillman to the center of the circle. He repeated from memory the ritual of the Iroquois. Mrs. Stillman subscribed to the words as they were translated into English, it is said.

At the conclusion of the ritual the chief slashed his wrist with a scalping knife. Then he advanced toward Mrs. Stillman, took her right wrist, and slashed it. Then he placed his bleeding arm against the slashed one of the society leader.

As the blood of the white woman and the Indian flowed together the braves chanted their war song.

All then took an oath to protect and care for their white sister—even until death. She was given the Indian name of "Akwerie," meaning "Heart Flower." The braves of the tribe held a war dance, while the squaws prepared the adoption feast.

PREPARING FOR ALL KINDS OF TROUBLE

Under the supervision of John T. McGrath, assistant superintendent of the postoffice, several hundred Colt revolvers and shotguns were distributed to postal employes in Chicago yesterday. Fifty thousand pistols have been turned over to the postoffice department by the war department, Secretary Weeks in Washington told the senate military affairs committee. Sixteen thousand of the pistols were transferred within the last few days. The arms were shipped here by the war department to enable postal authorities to arm all drivers and station attaches whose business calls for the handling of valuable mail. "Defend the mail at any cost," is the command given the employes when armed. "Shoot to kill if robbers attack you." The picture shows (from left to right) Charles C. Church, Edward Lehman, and Capt. Clinton L. Hill, and Maj. A. E. Otto and F. B. Ashton, postoffice inspectors. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

MUSIC OF PIANO HATH NO CHARMS FOR U.S. SENATOR

Penrose Says He'd Destroy Them All.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Representatives of New England commercial organizations appeared before the senate finance committee today in support of a sales tax, while a farm organization spokesman opposed it. When the discussion of a tax on musical instruments was on, Senator Penrose, chairman, said he "would like to destroy every piano in the country."

H. C. McKenzie of Walton, N. Y., appearing for the American Farm Bureau federation, not only opposed a sales tax but also defended the excess profits tax. He is the first witness who has urged the retention of the excess profits tax, most of the other opponents of the sales tax having offered different substitutes.

The New England delegation included Guy W. Cox, chairman of the committee on taxation of the Boston chamber of commerce; Charles F. Bacon, a retail dry goods merchant of Boston and chairman of the committee on taxation of the Massachusetts Retail Merchants' association, and C. Herbert Johnson of the same association, representing department stores.

Another witness in favor of the sales tax was George W. Pound of New York City, general counsel for the music industries chamber of commerce.

Mr. Cox gave the committee the results of a referendum conducted among the members of the Boston chamber of commerce. He said that 2,232 voted for the repeal of the excess profits tax and 99 against; 2,085 for and 203 against the repeal of high surtaxes, and 2,201 for and 120 against a sales tax.

BABY SISTER AND BROTHER CRY FOR THIS MISSING GIRL

MRS. BOWEN HAS 8 PLANS TO HELP RUNAWAY GIRLS

Eight ways of solving the runaway girl problem were suggested yesterday to the Juvenile Protective association by Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, its president. They follow:

Passage of stricter marriage laws requiring and interval of from ten days to two weeks between the issuance of a marriage license and performance of the marriage ceremony.

Raising of educational qualifications for working certificates.

More uncommercialized recreational facilities.

Regular inspection and supervision of dance halls.

More properly trained policewomen.

Municipal supervision of hotels and rooming houses.

Mrs. Bowen's report was based on a study of 112 case investigated by the association.

GIRL DENIES SHE GAVE STOLEN BONDS TO PRIEST

A complete denial of the story told by the Rev. Anthony Gorek, New Chicago, Ind., priest, who has confessed using a portion of stolen Liberty bonds, which he said were intrusted to him by Wanda Urbaytis, was made by the girl yesterday. Wanda was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Gaines in Toledo, O., and entered a plea of not guilty. Her bond was placed at $50,000.

"It's all a pack of lies," she said when told of Father Gorek's confession. "He got caught with the goods on him and has got to fix the blame on some one, so is trying to make a scapegoat out of me. I never heard of him before. I certainly did not meet him on the train or at the Englewood station. I do not even know where New Chicago is."

SHOTGUN FEAR MAKES D'ANDREA WITNESSES MUM

Coroner Urges Italians to Help End Feud.

The sawed-off shotgun spoke again last night in the Nineteenth ward, and leaden slugs ripped through a bedroom window of Pasquale Tanzello's home, 913 Vernon Park place.

Tanzello was a friend of Anthony D'Andrea, labor and political boss, who was fatally wounded while entering his home a few days ago. He and his family were asleep. The slugs missed them.

The police could find no clews. Nobody had seen the shooting. Nobody knew Tanzello's enemies, not even Tanzello himself. A policeman was stationed near the house and detectives went searching through the ward for the assailant.

D'Andrea Inquest Continued.

The inquest into the death of D'Andrea was continued yesterday because terror, bred of the shotgun war, had silenced the witnesses. Coroner Hoffman urged the people of the ward to coöperate with the authorities to end the warfare, which has raged for four months, but met with little enthusiasm.

Paul Labriola, whose cousin, Paul Labriola, court bailiff, was recently slain, was released from custody. His finger prints did not correspond with those found in the flat from which D'Andrea was shot down.

"D'Andrea deserved to be killed," the police say he told them. "He was responsible for my cousin's death. I would gladly have killed him and then walked into the detective bureau and surrendered, as I have only a short time to live." He is a victim of tuberculosis and was in Mexico seeking health when his cousin was murdered.

Seeks Threat Proof Jury.

In opening the inquest, Coroner Hoffman asked for threat proof jurors. Italian business men told the coroner they wanted to inaugurate a movement to drive the criminal element from their neighborhood.

State Representative Charles Cola, who was present, said fifty men were responsible for the present reign of murder and bombing, and it was the duty of the other fifty thousand residents of the ward to ferret them out and see that they were run out of the city. Cola said he did not believe D'Andrea's death was due to a political factional fight. He was confident, he stated, that the adherents of Ald. John Powers were blameless.

Brother of Labriola Present.

Dominick Labriola, a brother of the slain politician, was at the inquest. He said he believed it possible that D'Andrea was slain in revenge for the death of his brother.

The inquest will be resumed on May 23.

50 SLAIN DURING ANTI-CATHOLIC RIOTS IN MEXICO

Mexico City, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Fifty persons were killed and many were wounded last night in Morelia, capital of Michoacan, say reports to the Excelsior early this morning, when police, aided by unsolicited help from radicals, charged a large group of Catholics.

The latter were demonstrating against alleged desecration of their churches last Sunday when radicals entered several churches here, broke many images and eventually placed their red flag on the cathedral tower. A demonstration of protest was held yesterday, but was broken up by police, aided by federal soldiers, when clashes with jeering radicals on the sidelines threatened serious trouble.

The demonstration was resumed again in the evening. Vicente Coyt, inspector of police, led a large unit of fully armed gendarmes against the demonstrators, few of whom carried arms.

The latter refused the demand of Coyt that they disperse, and a volley was fired over their heads, the dispatches state.

Then they charged the police, who leveled their guns at the crowd. The Catholics, some of whom were women, were dazed at the action of the police, and, seeing their comrades lying dead in the street, fled in panic.

DO YOU WANT FREE JUDGES? VOTE!

The Bar association primaries gave 1,545 votes for the coalition judicial ticket and 177 for the city hall machine judicial ticket. That revealed the judgment of the bar and it was an almost complete damning of the Thompson-Lundin ticket by the men who represent the people when they go to the courts for justice. But it does not elect the coalition ticket.

It does not keep the Thompson-Lundin judges out of the courts. It does not take the administration of justice out of the city hall. It registers the opinion of the lawyers who take the people's cases into court but it will not keep the city hall from handling the people's cases. If that is to be prevented the people must themselves prevent it. They will have to vote.

There are at least 100,000 votes for the Thompson-Lundin ticket which are as good as in the ballot boxes now and might as well be counted. In a desperate pinch, and this is a desperate one, more votes than that can be counted.

These votes are not subject to the arguments and methods of a campaign. They are tied up in packages and ready to be counted, before the polling places are opened. They are absolutely reliable and every one of them will be cast. There will be no stay at homes. On election day these 100,000 and more voters will have nothing so important as going to the polls and voting.

In the Second and Third wards the brunette vote will do in this election as it has done in others. It will vote and it will vote for Thompson's candidates. You can count at this moment 12,000 brunette votes in the Second ward for the Whole Damm Family ticket. The $30,000 traction experts come from the brunette wards and they come from the brunette wards because votes come from the brunette wards.

An absolutely dependable 12,000 vote will make a brunette lawyer worth $30,000 in traction knowledge to the city of Chicago any day. Thompson and Lundin have votes and they have money. They have been selling Riverview Jubilee tickets and shaking down the civil service employés. They have been taking this man's ten dollars and the other man's ten dollars. That fills the war chest. It may make a city worker shy on the month's rent or the grocery bill or send him to the pawn shop or the chattel mortgage man, but it fills the war chest.

When the precincts are to be manned the war chest will be opened. The rent money and the grocery money will pay the groups which will be congregated in front of every polling place working with all their earnestness and vigor for the control of the judiciary by Lundin and Thompson.

The gentlemen who conduct the elections are creations of Lundin and Thompson. The gentleman who prosecutes in the name of the people is a creation of Lundin and Thompson. The police who bring in the first reports of election results are under Lundin and Thompson. The only persons who for hours will know how the election is going will be Lundin and Thompson.

Everything, every power and authority in the county except the judiciary, is sewed up by Lundin and Thompson and this election is the last stand to determine whether the courts themselves shall go down under the assault of consolidated power used for political terrorism and spoils.

That combination of money, votes and official power cannot be defeated by the vote in the Bar association primaries. It cannot be defeated by staying at home.

It can be defeated only if citizens will vote. The political organizations which support the coalition ticket have no cider presses. They cannot put public employés through the press and take away money. They cannot compel contributions. They cannot compel votes. They must plead and try to persuade.

They are appealing for both money and votes. If you think that the fight to keep the judges out of the hands of the city hall is worth money to you send what you think it is worth to John C. Cannon, treasurer, room 314 Hotel Sherman. They say: "Your contribution will be appreciated, however small."

If you think it is worth while to keep the judges out of the hands of the city hall machine, vote. You are worth nothing in this cause unless you vote. The election is June 6.

If you happen not to think that the fight is important ask yourself these questions: Have you any way of seeking justice in the courts except by approaching the court through an attorney admitted to practice? If you have no other way of seeking justice except through an attorney would you regard the opinion of the attorneys as a class as indicative of public good with respect to the courts in which they alone can represent you? Would you then regard a vote of 1,545 to 177 as indicative of an opinion that the two tickets represented the difference between white and black?

There is no ordinary political doubt here. If the 177 votes cast for the machine ticket were examined they would be accounted for by the lawyers connected with the city government. There are enough of them to give that result.

The vote was in reality 1,545 to 0. What better guide does any voter want?

PERSHING AS CHIEF OF STAFF.

Secretary of War Weeks could no nothing better for the army and for the interests of national defense than he has done by appointing Gen. Pershing chief of staff.

We are passing through a difficult period of trahsition in all defense matters and the reaction from the war makes it doubly difficult. Yet it is now, if ever, that we must apply the lessons of our experience and fix principles and methods which that experience disclosed or verified. It is now we must create a framework which is capable of standing up under war conditions and which will be ready if war comes.

No man is better fitted to lead in such an undertaking than Gen. Pershing. When we went to France we had no higher organization for the direction and maintenance of a modern army in the field. Such an organization was created under Gen. Pershing, who disclosed exceptional creative and executive ability. The system evolved at home and abroad was not perfect and was never perfected. It is our duty now in peace to perfect it.

The appointment of Gen. Pershing is above politics, civilian or army, and will give both the army and the country confidence in the measures of reorganization we trust will now be evolved and accomplished. To this confidence, moreover, Gen. Pershing's personal selection of Gen. Harbord as assistant chief of staff will contribute. As chief of the services of supply, Gen. Harbord's experience in France gave him a special fitness to assist Gen. Pershing in developing a modern war organization.

Finally both appointments are proof of the new secretary of war's determination to seek the highest efficiency and to get large results achieved.

We trust congress responds to this most fortunate situation in our military affairs and helps loyally to bring about such a modern organization of our defenses as will make the republic's power available and respected, and prevent the cruel waste of blood and treasure that unpreparedness and inefficient organization have cost us in the past.

MURDER, FREE AND UNLIMITED.

Paul Labriola, questioned by the police, says, "I didn't kill D'Andrea. But I'm not sorry he's dead. If I didn't kill him, it was because I didn't have a chance. I wish I had. I wanted to."

This Labriola is a cousin of Bailiff Labriola who was killed months ago in a political feud. D'Andrea, a leader of an opposing faction, was believed to have had a hand in the crime, and he has now paid the penalty.

Perhaps D'Andrea's death will be avenged in due time, according to the Sicilian code which thrives in Italian districts in this city. Perhaps D'Andrea's death will close the account.

Public opinion has been too much inclined to condone crimes of this nature on the ground that it only concerns a special class. "Let 'em kill each other off" is the comment on Black Hand murders, political assassinations, labor gun feuds.

It doesn't work out that way. If a civilized community permits private vengeance to be pursued regardless of the law among some of its citizens, the evil will reach the whole community in time. We cannot permit the law to be ignored by a minority if we want the law to be respected at all. We cannot let a man take justice, or what he thinks is justice, into his hands—or a woman either—and expect that other men and women will accept the restraints of law.

Paul Labriola says he did not kill D'Andrea because he did not get the chance. He wishes he had. This is a perfectly frank statement that he considers himself not bound by our law, and he makes it confidently because he is aware that his associates and neighbors will approve it. In the same spirit women who hold they have been wronged by men, husbands or lovers, take justice into their own hands, disregarding the law, confident that twelve sentimental and shortsighted males will presently approve their crime.

The taking of human life is cheap in this country. Respect for law is rather eccentric and weak. The Black Hand, the labor gunman, the slum politician, the holdup man, the reckless motorist, the vicious or hysterical woman, all trade on this weakness. It is a disgrace to America, evidence of a slackness of thought and moral fiber which are not pleasant to think about.

American character should address itself to this serious evil. It is not easy to correct, for its causes are many and pervasive. But such opinion as is thoroughly American and awake should insist upon the vigorous enforcement of law and give faithful agents of justice prompt and strong support.

In this community we have had repeated serious failures of justice. The murder of Moss Enright has gone without punishment. The murder of Labriola has gone without punishment. The murder of D'Andrea—will that, too, go without punishment?

We realize the great difficulties involved. All these murders were under a special code which is approved by the associates of murderer and murdered. Witnesses therefore are hard to find and hard to keep. But decent citizenship appeals now to Supt. Fitzmorris and State's Attorney Crowe to use all their resources to bring these murderers to justice. All deserve the gallows. The good name of Chicago demands their punishment. If there is to be respect for life or for law, they must not be allowed to escape.

THE STATE POLICE BILL.

[From the Bloomington Pantagraph.]

It is to be hoped that the legislature will act favorably in the very near future on the state police bill. There is vital need in this state for a constabulary based on the system for a number of years in operation in Pennsylvania and New York and that is what the measure now pending in the legislature provides.

This bill, if enacted into law, will create a department of police for Illinois. It provides for not less than three and not more than seven troops of sixty-five men each, including officers, whose duty it shall be to patrol the rural districts and principal highways of the state; to coöperate with state and local authorities in the enforcement of the fire, fish, game, forestry, public health, animal disease, and road and bridge laws; to coöperate with the attorney general, the sheriff or state's attorney of any county, the mayor or police authorities of any city, at the request of any such officer, in the conservation of the peace, prevention of crime, and the detection and apprehension of offenders.

PLANTING POPPIES.

I'm planting poppies in a row,
I want to see just how they grow.
I want to watch them break the mold
And grow until the buds unfold.

I had a boy, a tall brave son,
His life was only just begun.
His country called, he gladly went,
And all my heart with him I sent.

In Flanders field my tall son lies
Beneath the blue of peaceful skies,
And I have heard that poppies red
Scatter petals o'er his bed.

I cannot watch those poppies grow
Beside the crosses in a row,
But in my garden they will smile
And I shall watch them, all the while.

Perhaps my heart will feel less pain,
I'll have my boy in dreams again,
For this I'll watch my poppies grow,
And so I plant them in a row. M. B. W.

DR. WILHELM STEKEL is an engaging thinker. His analysis of the midwest mind will cause comment: "I have found every wealthy Chicagoan ashamed of his wealth, ashamed of making money. . . . He is writing poems, or articles or plays or stories . . . and his son has an odd ambition to be an orchestra leader . . . your country is bidding for the culture of the old world . . . bowls of soup for Rembrandts, sacks of wheat for Monets." One fears Henry James would have differed slightly from Dr. Stekel.

An hour within the little church I sate
Where Patrick Henry's voice was heard to ring,
Rousing his friends against a greedy king,
Calling to arms all lovers of the State.
I seemed to see his eyes in high debate
Flashing, yea, felt my heart for action spring
To attention, and heard the northwind bring
The sound of clanking chains!—and rose, elate,
Swearing, as many a patriot soul did swear,
That come what may, not slavery should be
Man's heritage, but freedom, evermore.
So lives the power of eloquence, so share
We in the feasts of immortality,

I think we all feel that way now and then, but even if our heart troubles heal as they frequently do, there is still Germany ground down under the heel of the conqueror, Ireland crying in agony for something it doesn't want, and over here an army of starving unemployed who don't like farm work, and men's collars still twenty-five cents apiece—it's awful. How about a little cheer, this Neapolitan quatrain for example:

"Amici, alliegri magnammo e bevimmo

CONTROL OF DIPHTHERIA.

ST. MARY'S TRAINING SCHOOL at Des Plaines, Ill., is an orphanage which has a steady population of more than 1,100 boys and girls between 4 and 15 years of age. As is the case with every children's home, they are troubled a good deal by diphtheria.

The heads of all such institutions are interested in any suggestions as to methods of diphtheria control. About ten years ago St. Mary's had quite an extensive epidemic of diphtheria. It was not stopped until they gave antitoxin to every pupil. In 1917 they had eighty-nine cases of diphtheria with seven deaths. In January, 1918, they began vaccinating the children to T-A or diphtheria vaccine. Since that time they have not had a death from diphtheria or a case of croup needing tracheotomy or inhibition.

The T-A was given at first without a preliminary Schick test. Some of the cases were given T-A once, some twice, and some three times. More than half the inmates were vaccinated, though not all of them properly. When in July of that year diphtheria was brought to the institution there were three cases. Everything seemed to be set for an epidemic. But thanks to the start in control that had been made, the disease did not spread.

Since January, 1918, three and one-fourth years ago, diphtheria bacilli have been found in throat cultures from persons with sore throat. Of these eight developed before being given any T-A, eight at the time of taking it or shortly thereafter, and four were found infected more than five months after being vaccinated. One was a child who was found to be negative to a Schick test on several occasions and who was thought, therefore, to be incapable of having diphtheria.

Only four of these twenty-one were in any sense severely sick, none was in danger of dying, and all recovered completely. So far as this experience with more than 1,100 children shows—an experience now well into the fourth year—children in homes and asylums can be made safe against diphtheria by the use of the Schick test and T-A vaccination of those found to be subject to diphtheria.

This is the opinion of Dr. C. A. Earle, whose report on the diphtheria history of St. Mary's furnishes the facts and opinions quoted. He tells me he has tested and vaccinated many thousand children with no untoward effects in any case. In this experience he found that 35 per cent of 1,164 people were susceptible to diphtheria. In other words about two-thirds of the general run of children of school age are naturally immune to diphtheria.

Of 274 children proved to be susceptible to diphtheria by the Schick test, 87 per cent were immune after three doses of T-A, 97 per cent after six doses, and 99 per cent after nine doses. In this study 50 per cent of children 4 to 5 years of age were found susceptible to diphtheria. The proportions for older ages were: 8 to 7, 33 per cent; 8 to 9, 34 per cent; 10 to 11, 28 per cent. It was found that one brother was susceptible, but the other members of the family were immune in several families studied.

PROPER TREATMENT HELPS.

A. M. writes: "1. Can a girl of 17 be cured of leakage of the heart and acidosis?

"2. Is there a remedy for either? If so, what should be done?

"3. If acidosis can be cured by diet, what should the diet be?

"4. I am 5 feet 4 inches tall. How much should I weigh?"

REPLY.

1. If the leakage is due to a deformed heart valve she cannot be cured of that, but the heart muscle can be put in compensation, whereupon the symptoms will disappear. Most cases of acidosis can be cured.

2. For heart trouble regulation of exercise and work, medical control, digitalis properly used. For acidosis change of diet.

3. As a rule cases of acidosis do best when eating no fat, but living principally on bread, cereals, sweets, vegetables, and fruits.

4. A 17 year old girl 5 feet 4 inches tall should weigh 120 pounds.

DEPENDS ON REACTION.

W. G. writes: "1. Would you advise a cold bath on arising, and would there be any change in taking the baths in summer and winter?

"2. Is it good for a person to drink ginger ale at meals?"

REPLY.

1. A person who gets up a good reaction afterwards will do well to take a cold bath on arising. Since the temperature of tap water varies somewhat, the winter cold bath is taken colder than that of summer.

2. No. The use of any highly flavored food and drink is not advisable.

BETTER BE EXAMINED.

Worried Reader writes: "If the left lung is weak can it be built up in any way? Does everybody with a weak lung develop consumption? Will a change of air help?"

REPLY.

A weak left lung means consumption or it means nothing. If you have consumption get busy. If not, forget about your suppositious weak lung.

IRRITATING TO STOMACH.

H. R. M. writes: "It might be of interest to the public to be advised if the peel of the orange contains any ingredients injurious to health. It is a general opinion that one should not eat that portion of the orange."

REPLY.

It contains considerable essential oil and this is somewhat irritating to the stomach. Therefore, eating orange peel belongs in the same class with eating pepper, mustard, catsup, pickles. All highly flavored condiments are somewhat trying on the stomach.

PERMIT NEEDED.

Chicago, May 9.—[Friend of the People.]—For a long time there was a baseball diamond out on Bloomingdale avenue. Last winter a factory was built on half of the diamond and the part that is left is being filled with cinders and sand from a near by foundry. They do not own that property and we wish they wouldn't dump there, as it looks bad. H. L.

An inspector from this department made an investigation of this complaint, as a result of which he notified the tenant to remove the accumulation of cinders and sand from the lot or to procure a permit from this department. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health.

ONE JEW'S IDEAS ON A FREE PRESS.

Chicago, May 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial, "An Attack on Freedom of the Press," is of great significance, not only to be taken notice of by the Jew but by all other religious denominations, as well as fraternal organizations, whose aims are frequently selfish, sidetracking and ridiculing American ideals. I am a Jew, a reader of THE TRIBUNE fully thirty years, and I say that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE thus speaks for Americanism, and it is about time for those who claim to be Americans to heed this paper's counsel. I would like to tell my Jewish brethren a so-called anti-Semitic paper is a very healthy medicine for the Jew himself.

My Jewish brethren, expose your criminals, and you have many of them; don't parade around with Lord Reading and Disraeli; nobody attacks them. Don't call a man like Landis, who sends a rabbi to jail, an anti-Semite.

As a Jew, I thank your great paper for this splendid editorial.
JULIUS T. LICHTER.

WE OPPOSED THE LAW, NOT ITS ENFORCEMENT.

Chicago, May 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial, "An Attack on the Freedom of the Press," cannot, to my mind, follow your declaration of the first paragraph.

When a newspaper or periodical aims to incite prejudice and hatred between one class of citizens and another, it is guilty of trying to undermine the principles of our institutions, and as such should not be allowed to flourish in any community.

Your paper in all appearances stands for American ideals, and as such it will hurt your conscience whenever or wherever attack upon our American ideals are made either from a press or the soap box. You would surely advocate a curbing on such violators. We all live by our laws and obey them. It is unlawful to peddle liquors on the streets of any American city today because a law forbids it. You would not defend the bootlegger or his agent. Now, if a law forbids the sale of a certain virulently anti-Semitic and un-American newspaper from circulating on the streets of Cleveland, one surely must obey the law or suffer the penalty.
SELIG OPPENHEIM.

GET AT THE FACTS.

Grundy Center, Iowa, May 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have just read with interest and approval your editorial entitled "An Attack on Freedom of the Press," and while THE TRIBUNE has had some little disputes with Henry Ford it speaks well for THE TRIBUNE to take the stand it does.

Here in this country the people must insist that a free press and free speech shall be preserved, for that is the basis of progress. What the people have the right to know is the truth, and criticism helps to keep conditions pure. Let the world get at the facts in every case and good will come out in the strife.
WILLIAM G. KERR.

HAITIANS PRO-AMERICA.

Chicago, May 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your article on Haiti of [illegible] 9 the wording seemed to me to be particularly unfortunate in that it would all probability give the casual reader the impression that the Haitians as a people are opposed to the American occupation.

The population of Haiti is approximately 2,500,000, of which considerably less than 50,000 are well to do and correspondingly well educated. The great mass and bulk of the people are piteously ignorant and abjectly poor. They were made so and kept so by the unspeakable cruelty of selfish, unpatriotic Haitians of the wealthy class. They were vicious in impulse and vicious in expression. They would be so still if the occupation were not so steadfast to its covenant of 1915 promise to uphold the existing government.

In the cause of humanity America must overstep these people and serve the peasants who for well over a century have borne a greater weight of oppression than Armenians. Our occupation has done just that.

The American financial direction has been unfortunate, but the military occupation is and has been splendid.

The real Haitians are glad the Americans have come, for with them has come peace. They are just now beginning to realize the possibilities of security. They can now plant their gardens and know that they themselves and not a ravaging bandit army will reap the harvest. These people like the Americans; it is only the professional revolutionists, whom the occupation has thrown out of work, that want the "blancs" to go.

THE PENALTY OF SPECIALIZING.

Chicago, May 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is a matter of course that 75% of college graduates could submit to Mr. Edison a similar list of trick questions to which he could not return a larger than 50% of correct answers.

It is to be deplored, if it be true, that college graduates are as weak as Mr. Edison alleges, and that they are thus weak because of their college courses. Is it presumable that Mr. Edison knows everything because he knows so much? Bruce Barton recently said: "Be proud of your ignorance in many lines, because only by such ignorance can you make yourself an authority in your specialty." M. H.

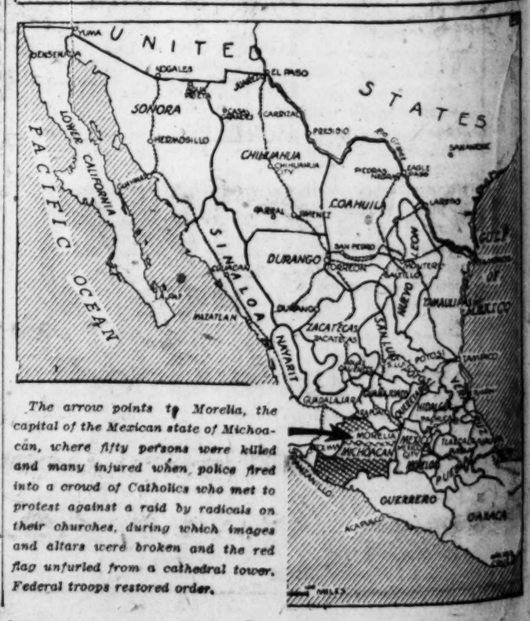

AN ERROR OF THE CLERGY.

Chicago, May 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial in this morning's paper entitled "The Moral Objection to Boxing" greatly interested me, and as one of the members of Dr. Barton's church I am sorry to note the stand he takes in regard to a boxing law in Illinois.

The trouble with a great many ministers is that they do not look at life from the standpoint of the rest of us. They do not put themselves in the position of an ordinary layman, who works all week, who is full of red blood, and enjoys various kinds of recreation.

I believe one of the main reasons why more people aren't regular churchgoers is because they cannot accept the narrow views held by the clergy.

—As the Man in "The Tavern" Said.

BATTLE STUDIES, by Col. Ardant du Picq; translated by Col. John N. Greely and Maj. Robert C. Cotton: small octavo, pp. xx1+273. The Macmillan company.

BY EYE WITNESS.

INTERESTING facts and thoughts fairly leap out to you from the pages of this book.

As:

"Man is capable of but a given quantity of fear. Today one must swallow in five minutes the dose that one took in an hour in Turenne's day.

"Tactics is an art based on the knowledge of how to make men fight with their maximum energy against fear, a maximum which organization alone can give.

"Solidarity and confidence cannot be improvised. They can be born only of mutual acquaintanceship which establishes pride and makes unity. And from unity comes, in turn, the felling of force, that force which gives to the attack the courage and confidence of victory.

"Esprit de corps improves with experience in wars. War becomes shorter and shorter, and more and more violent; therefore, create in advance an esprit de corps.

"Nothing can wisely be prescribed in an army—its personnel, organization, discipline, and tactics, things which are connected like the fingers of a hand—without exact knowledge of the fundamental instrument, man, and his state of mind, his morale, at the instant of combat.

"The human heart, to quote Marshal de Saxe, is then the starting point in all matters pertaining to war.

"In our times we can admire, under the same conditions of danger, emotion, and anguish, the calmness of the English, the dash of the French, and that inertia of the Russians which is called tenacity. But at bottom there is always found the same man. . . . The best masters [of the art of war] are those who know man best, the man of today and the man of history.

"We shall learn from them [the masters] to distrust mathematics and material dynamics as applied to battle principles. We shall learn to beware of the illusions drawn from the range and the maneuver field. There experience is with the calm, settled, unfatigued, attentive, obedient soldier, with an intelligent and tractable man instrument, in short, and not with the nervous, easily swayed, moved, troubled, distrait, excited, restless being, not even under self-control, who is the fighting man from general to private. There are strong men, exceptions, but they are rare.

"Man taxes his ingenuity to be able to kill without running the risk of being killed. His bravery is born of his strength and it is not absolute.

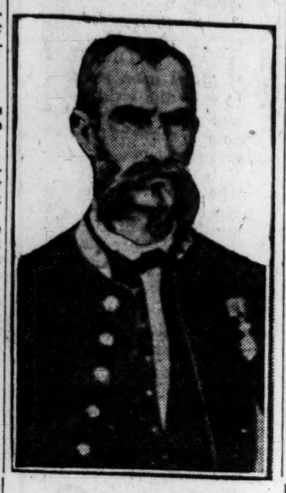

"Reason shows us the strength of wisely united effort; discipline makes it possible.

"It is notable that the most warlike peoples are not always those in which military institutions and combat methods are the best or the most rational. . . . The Roman, a politician above all, with whom war was only a means, wanted perfect means. He had no illusions. He took into account human weakness and he discovered the legion.

"The determination of that instant where man loses his reasoning power and becomes instinctive is the crowning achievement in the science of combat. In particular cases such successful determination makes Hannibals and Cesars.

"The conquered always console themselves with their bravery and conquerors never contradict.

"Discipline is for the purpose of dominating that horror [of death] by a still greater horror, that of punishment or disgrace. But there always comes an instant when natural horror gets an upper hand over discipline, and the fighter flees.

COL. ARDANT DU PICQ.

"The primitive man, the Arab, is instability incarnate. A breath, a nothing, governs him at each instant in war. The civilized man, in war, which is opposed to civilization, returns naturally to his first instincts.

"Ancient battle resembled drill. There is no such resemblance in modern battle. This greatly disconcerts both officers and soldiers.

"The invention of firearms has diminished losses in battle. The improvement of firearms continues to diminish losses. This looks like a paradox. But statistics prove it. Nor is it unreasonable.

"The Turks are full of ardor in the advance. They carry their officers with them. But they retreat with the same facility, abandoning their officers.

"Their [soldiers'] emotion never allows them to sight, or to more than approximately adjust their fire. Often they fire into the air. Cromwell knew this very well, dependable as his troops were, when he said, 'Put your trust in God and aim at their shoe laces.'

"Are there so few really brave men among so many soldiers? Alas, yes! Gideon was lucky to find 300 in 30,000.

"Note that army organizations and tactical formations on paper are always determined from the mechanical point of view, neglecting the essential coefficient, that of morale. They are almost always wrong.

"Cavalry must not be treated—until it comes to so consider itself—as a priceless jewel which must be guarded against injury. There should be little of it but it must be good.

"In modern battle, which is delivered with combatants so far apart, man has come to have a horror of man. He comes to hand to hand fighting only to defend his body or if forced to it by some fortuitous encounter. More than that! It may be said that he seeks to catch the fugitive only for fear that he will turn and fight."

Copious quotation is not, in this instance, recourse to the favorite device of shiftless reviewers. In the case of a book so remarkable and, in this country, so little known as is Col. du Picq's "Battle Studies," the device is legitimate, decorous, and fruitful. If, as one having knowledge of certain aspects of scenic grandeur long shut away from the outside world, it became your duty to lead the stranger among them, you would, if you were tactful, point, not chatter.

So with this little volume.

It is the most absorbing technical book I ever came upon. If it were only that I should not presume to write about it, but it is much more. It is a book of history, of poetry, of psychology, of penetrating criticism, and of sage reflection. It is, in an equal degree, a book of instruction to the citizen on his duty—that last sad, divine duty, in the fulfillment of which he preserves, consecrates, and passes on his citizenship. I mean, by successfully dying for it.

Ardant du Picq was a poet as well as a technician. Of course, good poets are good technicians. The reverse is not so inevitable. The glory of Col. du Picq was that he got his poetry into his technicalities, grounded them on it, interwove it with them and so made them mean infinitely more than had he left them technicalities merely. He did not. He was a Frenchman and a great man. The combination gave him exquisite skill in analysis and dazzling mastery of form.

When I took up this small book—it slips readily in the coat pocket—I said to myself, "A dozen cautious, respectful lines will do for this." It has been my fortune to potter around the edges of armies in two wars, and I thought I could safely do the dozen lines. It was then about 11 of a recent night. I dipped in. I read on and on in the five long chapters and the two or three appendices, deeper and deeper absorbed, more and more instructed. There were the most spacious principles laid down, but so simply that the reader gasped with pleasure at the readiness and ease with which he grasped things which other books make difficult—or leave out because they are so difficult clearly to impart. There was a wealth of detail, too, concrete, full of color, full of patient humanity—all lightly sketched in and swiftly passed by.

"This," thought I, "is one of the great books of the world—nay, more, one of the essential." Of the last, I believe, as I grow older, there are not so many as we think there are when as children we stand timid at the end of vistas of close packed alcoves.

I thought I had made a discovery about the essentialness of "Battle Studies" to soldiers—and to citizens.

It was not so. Turning to the extensive machinery of "foreword," "preface," "translators' note," "introduction," "appreciations," and the like with which the small book is weighted, but not overweighted, I found my discovery antedated. I was no Columbus; only a receptive person who could not miss a brick house when it fell on him.

In short, Foch forestalls me, saying in a note to the distinguished father of one of the translators, which is reproduced in facsimile: "My dear general [Greely], Col. Ardant du Picq was the exponent of moral force, the most powerful element in the strength of armies. He has shown it to be the preponderating influence in the outcome of battles. Your son has accomplished a very valuable work in translating his writings," etc., etc.

Now that of "moral force, the most powerful element," etc., of Foch's is highly important because Napoleon said that in war the moral element is to all others as is three to one, so you see how practical a book, as well as spiritual, this is.

I have spoken of the rich illuminating detail. It is there because Du Picq believed in it as in nothing else. Once he said, "For me as a soldier the smallest detail caught on the spot and in the heat of action is more instructive than all the Thiers and Jominis in the world." Hence he makes me comprehend instantly that the destiny of mankind has been more affected by the fact that "man has always had the greatest fear of being trampled upon by horses," than it has by the decisions of senates. All the part about cavalry and its use is, in truth, most fascinating and instructive.

In turning over great books I have often found that when a man believes in his subject, and has gripped it, he will give you the feel of that in the first lines of his first page—give it with almost the effect of a blow. It is so with Du Picq, whose first lines are:

"Man does not enter battle to fight, but for victory. He does everything that he can to avoid the first and retain the second."

Could aught be more admirable for compactness and clarity? 'Tis like the far-carrying cry of command at maneuvers!

The book is full of that kind of precision—at once so resonant and so subtle.

French officers long have known and revered "Battle Studies." To our land and to our officers it is new. To officers of any land it should come, it must come, as a kind of Thomas à Kempis of military morals, a highly spiritualized book of doctrine and conduct about the most sickening and the most exultant business a citizen ever has to transact. Col. du Picq does not cheaply "glorify" the art of war. He consecrates it, getting himself and his reader, as Frank Simonds says in his appreciation, into "the soul as well as the science of combat." It is significant that this beautiful, austere, vivid book reduces even so chronically know-it-all a war commentator as Mr. Simonds to reverence. 'Tis miraculous.

It did the same to Barbey d'Aurevilly, who said long ago of Du Picq that "never has a man of action—of brutal action in the eyes of universal prejudice—more magnificently glorified the spirituality of war."

Col. du Picq's end was untimely—bitterly so. A stray shell from a German gun in front of Metz took him off at the age of 48, on Aug. 15, 1870. But his book lives on and on for him, because it is not alone a great book for soldiers but a great book for students of psychology, for citizens, for moralists, for statesmen. It ought to be in every armory, in every summer training camp, and in every bureau of military administration in this country, for here set forth in these pellucid pages are the rigors, the perils, the intricacies, the ruling passions—which are not the passions of glory and righteous wrath but of fear and self-preservation—and the most delicate nuances of our ultimate duty to righteously organized society.

That ultimate duty is to fight for it.

INFORMALLY

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

THE women writers of tomorrow, we have the word of Mary Roberts Rinehart for prophecy, are to be mystery and detective story writers. They will have entirely foregone romance and red roses. This "logical conclusion" was reached by Mrs. Rinehart after learning that during the Chicago engagement of her play, "The Bat," no less than twenty-seven classes of embryo fictionists have made their pilgrimages to study the technique of her chill mystery manner. Students have made up many of these parties, and professors have led in the analysis of the modern tricks, unsentimental and stern, employed in the play. Notebooks have been almost as much in evidence as at a clinic. Who, we wonder, is to take the place of the florid, ardept romancers who regarded "If I Were King" as the legitimate goal of all woman writers?

Christopher Morley's "Tales from a Roll Top Desk" and Don Marquis' "The Old Soak" will appear this month.

Tomorrow's "glorification" (Spanish for celebration) in honor of Blasco Ibanes will be held in Valencia, Spain, the novelist's birthplace. Among other tributes to this famous Valencian, a bust of him will be placed in the house where he was born, and there will be representations in groups and pictures of the principal scenes and characters in his novels. It is expected that Señor Blasco Ibanez, who is at present living in Nice, will be in Valencia during the festivities in his honor.

In his Salvo series Frank Shay has just brought out a volume of "Vassar Verse." The contributors are Vassar undergraduates, the selections being made from the Vassar Miscellany, the college monthly.

As Manly and Tender a Tale as Ever was Told

The Kingdom Round the Corner

The Story of a Grown-up Peter Pan

By Coningsby Dawson

THERE'S a different kingdom for every different person, Tabs used to say. Then this grown-up Peter Pan awoke one day to find the kingdom of his dreams slipping from him.

Tabs Helped Them Find Their Kingdoms

IT is there for all of us—the kingdom round the corner. When things look blackest, we may dream of it, for one more bend in the long road, and it may be waiting for us—the land of fulfilled desires. This is the story of one man's search for his kingdom and how he found it—just round the corner.

Terry, who had promised to wait for Tabs, now strangely told him she had given away "little bits of herself" and was in love with—

Braithwaite, a General who had never lost an inch of trench—the very Braithwaite who once had been Tabs' valet—

Maisie, delicious, desirable, to whom Tabs turned in search of his kingdom—only to help Maisie find hers—

Lady Dawn, the most beautiful woman in all England, who had never cried. Tabs brought her tears—and happiness.

Coningsby Dawson is a great-hearted human being. He has a rare gift of giving you a peep into the very souls of these wonderful people in this book. You will forever cherish the memory of this tender, whimsical story.

U. S. TELLS WHY COL. BACON WAS LISTED SLACKER

Failed to Notify Board He Joined Army.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—The war department today issued the following statement in explanation of the appearance on the first slacker list for the Chicago district of the name of Lieut. Col. William Sutherland Bacon of Chicago:

"It has developed that William Sutherland Bacon, whose name is included in the published list of men charged with desertion from the draft, served as a commissioned officer in the army of the United States during the world war.

"It appears that this officer registered in the Sixty-third precinct, Sixth ward of Chicago, Ill., June 5, 1917, giving at that time his home address as the Del Prado hotel, 1400 East 59th street, Chicago, Ill.

Neglected His Questionnaire.

"He failed, however, to make out his questionnaire when it was forwarded to him, and, although the local board and American Protective league made every effort to get in communication with Bacon, they were unable to do so, and he was therefore reported as a delinquent. On May 23, 1918, an order was issued by the adjutant general of the state of Illinois which effected his induction into the military service of the United States, and, failing to report to that official, the charge of desertion was entered against his name.

"The records of the adjutant general's office show that William Sutherland Bacon was appointed a first lieutenant of the sanitary corps on Oct. 9, 1917, at Washington, D. C.; was thereafter successively appointed captain, sanitary corps, major and lieutenant colonel, chemical warfare service; that he gave his home address as Macomb, Ill., and that he was honorably discharged from service, as of the rank last mentioned, Jan. 9, 1919.

697 Bacons in Service.

"There were 697 Bacons in the military service, and the fact that the records show a William Sutherland Bacon from Macomb, Ill., would not of itself justify the removal of the name William Sutherland Bacon of Chicago, Ill., from the list of those charged with desertion.

"Had he supplied a permanent address to the draft board upon his registration, at which mail would have been received by him, and had he given it proper attention, or even notified the local board after his appointment as an officer in the army of that fact, as he was in duty bound to do, his name would not have appeared in the list of men charged with desertion."

OPPOSE MAYOR IN SPRINGFIELD'S NEWSBOY BATTLE

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—Unless Mayor Baumann rescinds his order removing newspaper stands from Springfield street corners by tomorrow morning, the city council will call a special meeting to override the mayor's action, members of the council told newspaper representatives this afternoon.

Springfield is under commission form of government, the council consisting of the mayor and four commissioners. At least three of the commissioners will vote to replace the stands, representatives of the newspapers said.

Acting under orders of the mayor, police this morning knocked over newspaper stands four successive times, as fast as local newspaper representatives set them up again, and finally, with threats of imprisonment, completed the overthrow of every stand. An exposition of alleged vice conditions in Springfield by a Chicago newspaper is said by local newspaper representatives to have caused this action by police.

CLYNE WELCOMES CLINNIN, FIGHTING MAN, AS FIRST AID

Daugherty Appoints Veteran to Post.

District Attorney Charles F. Clyne last night confirmed a Washington report telling of the appointment of Col. John V. Clinnin as the former's first assistant. The appointment was announced by Attorney General Daugherty, who acted upon the recommendation of Senator Medill McCormick and other leaders.

"I am extremely pleased that Col. Clinnin is to assist me," Mr. Clyne said. "I consider Col. Clinnin eminently capable of filling the position."

Washington reports indicate that the administration intends Mr. Clyne to serve his full term.

Enlisted as a Private.

Col. Clinnin is in charge of the bond department of Moore, Case, Lyman & Hubbard. He is senior vice commander of the American Legion, department of Illinois, and is chairman of the highway safety committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Col. Clinnin enlisted as a private in the old 1st Illinois infantry in 1894 and soon won the rank of second lieutenant.

Cited by Gen. Pershing.

He served in both the Spanish-American war and on the Mexican border in 1916. When the United States entered the world war he was a major. He was promoted to colonel and commanded the 130th infantry of the 33d division in France. Gen. Pershing personally cited him for "meritorious leadership and bravery in action."

Col. Clinnin was married to Miss Etta Du Bois in 1900. They have one son, Paul, 15 years old.

DAVID JAYNE HILL IS SLATED TO BE ENVOY TO BERLIN

Dr. Hill, a former ambassador to Berlin, called at the White House today and discussed foreign affairs with President Harding preparatory to an extended visit to Europe. It is understood that he will make inquiries regarding conditions, particularly in Germany, where he had a wide acquaintance.

HANGED SLAYER ON NEW LIST OF DRAFT EVADERS

2 Claim "Big Mistake" in Listing Their Names.

The list of alleged "slackers" sent out yesterday by the war department included the name of a man who had been hanged for murder, two who asserted they registered for service and were not called, and several who have been "missing" for more than two years.

On the list was the name of William Williams, a colored man, 5700 Wabash avenue. According to Police Captain Morgan Collins, William Williams was William Yancy Mills, a Negro who murdered two men and who was hanged on April 16, 1920.

"Big Mistake," He Declares.

The name of Lambertus Bruggeman of South Holland appeared on the list. A TRIBUNE reporter located him at 15729 Vincennes road, Phoenix.

"I registered in the draft on June 5, 1917," he said, showing his registration card. "I sent in my questionnaire, but later learned it never reached the draft board. I sent in another. Fourteen days after the armistice was signed I was ordered into active service. It is a big mistake."

This Man also Registered.

Mike Walenta, also on the list, asserted his case was similiar to Bruggeman's.

"Government officials knew my whereabouts and any time they desired I would have entered the service," he said. "I worked hard making munitions during the war. I bought Liberty bonds until I had no money left. Now they list me as a slacker—when I was ready at any time. I'm sorry."

Over forty names on the list were carefully checked and no trace of the men could be found. No one remembered them.

Sixteen additional names were given out by the war department as those of draft evaders in Saginaw county, Mich.

IMMIGRATION BILL NEEDS ONLY O. K. OF HARDING

Washington, D. C., May 13.—The conference report on the emergency immigration restriction bill was adopted today by the senate and house, and the measure now will go to President Harding for his approval.

As modified in conference, the bill will go into effect fifteen days after it is signed by the President, and from that time until July 1, 1922, the number of aliens admitted to the United States will be limited to 3 per cent of the nationals of each country here in 1910.

"What Christianity Means to Me"

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

WITH what great humility and reverence does one approach the "spiritual autobiography" of one of America's "masters in Israel," and yet how reverent and humble does one find the simple expression of "What Christianity Means to Me," by the learned and scholarly Lyman Abbott. He says: "I began the systematic study of the New Testament when I entered the ministry in 1860. Since that time I have been a student of One Book, a follower of One Master. Now that I have passed my eighty-fifth birthday, I attempt to set down here, simply and clearly, what I believe is the message which Jesus Christ has brought to the world. This book has long lain in my mind. Its failings will not be due to lack of meditation; they will be due to the fact that no one man can tell all that Christianity means. He can only tell what Christianity means to him. We know in fragments and we prophesy in fragments, says the Apostle Paul. I am content to add my fragment."

LYMAN ABBOTT.

Looking back over his eighty-five years, Doctor Abbott sees himself a boy of 8 or 10, growing up in a Puritan household under Puritan training. This boy's mother is dead, his father is hundreds of miles away, his home is with a grandfather whom he reveres and an aunt whom he loves. His supreme ambition is to be like his mother, his father, his grandfather, his aunt. They are his ideals. He has read his Bible, has attended church, has heard sermons, though not listened to them, has been at Sunday school, has honestly tried to do right, to obey his conscience and the laws of God as they have been explained to him by his Bible and his religious teachers. As he has grown older he has had explained to him from the pulpit the conditions of salvation which do not appeal to his reason—his associations are in the Church of Christ and finally he goes to the orthodox pastor of an orthodox church and explains his difficulty and states his experience: "I would like to have a character like that of Christ and to do the kind of work that Christ did in the world, and I am sorry that my character is not more Christlike and my work more worthy."

Briefly for the purpose of this review Dr. Abbott's autoblography is summed up in his own words: "From first to last I have been a disciple and a follower of one Master. A Congregationalist because born and brought up in the Congregational church, I have been equally ready to work with prelate or layman, Catholic or Protestant, believer or agnostic, Jew or Gentile, whether he formally acknowledged allegiance to Jesus Christ or not, provided he was imbued with the spirit of the Christ and was endeavoring to inculcate the principles of the Christ. That I have always been correct in my interpretation I do not imagine. But looking back over that sixty years, I can and do affirm, as in the presence of the Master, that my one controlling purpose has been to give to others that secret of a happy life which I have found in my faith that Jesus the Christ is the Saviour of all men, especially of them that believe."

And with the passing years Dr. Abbott has come to the conclusion that "the most radical difference between the teaching of Jesus Christ and that of the churches is this: That Jesus taught men how to live; the churches have taught men what to think; Jesus tested men by their lives; the churches have tested them by their beliefs."

One does not attempt to criticize the experience of a devout student and faithful follower of Jesus Christ; rather would one seek to bring the simple portrayal of that experience to the attention of all men everywhere, "especially to them that are of the household of faith." The Rev. Dr. Abbott states: "It is not my endeavor in this book to define a philosophy, but to portray an experience." And it is in the spirit of sharing that rich experience with his fellow men, believers and unbelievers, that the venerable author writes. His large following of readers, who have looked forward eagerly to his editorials in the Outlook for so many years, and have perhaps read "The Great Companions," "The Other Room," "The Temple," and others of his books, may now anticipte with joy the reading of the Rev. Dr. Abbott's spiritual autobiography: "What Christianity Means to Me."

"The Mayflower"

A VARIANT of the old theme, "the idea of two women fighting over a man, as if there were only one in the world" motivates "The Mayflower's" consistently vivid narrative, photographically colorful in its portrayal of Spanish life, lacking though it is in the literary dimensions of other Ibanez works.

In the opening chapter the dread "levante" blows up a storm which brings death to Pasculo, the brave Valencian fisherman, and leaves his widow, Tona, with two small sons, Pasculo, "the living likeness of his father," and a potential seaman, and the younger brother, Tonet, a beach vagabond at 7. Pasculo grows up among his father's nets, becomes successful at sea, and marries Dolores, Tonet's former sweetheart. When Tonet then takes Rosario for his wife, in the domineering eye of Dolores "one might have seen an intenser sparkle, a glint of golden fire—telltale evidence of yearnings unconfessed."

The scandal involving Pascualo's wife and his treacherous brother, common enough talk throughout the village, comes slowly to the husband's ears, and is believed only after many repudiations. When the wool is finally torn from his eyes by the despairing Rosario, and he notes, for the first time, the resemblance of his wife's son to Tonet, he, like a good natured dog, so harmless ordinarily, becomes infuriated.

Filled with jealous rage, he insists, in spite of the impending storm, upon sailing from Valencia with his brother and the little Pascualet, in the "Mayflower," the new ship he has built with the proceeds of a successful expedition for the contraband "flor de mayo"—Mayflower. Again the dread "levante" blows up a storm which brings death to the three—Pascualo, Tonet, and Pasqualet.

STATE OFFICIALS BOOST PLAN FOR MEMORIAL TREES

Decide Next Week on How Far Apart to Put Them.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

Yesterday Gov. Len Small, the state highway commissioner, and the state director of agriculture gave their indorsement to plans to create roads of remembrance for soldiers of the world war. They told State Adjutant William Q. Setliffe of the American Legion that a special meeting will be called Wednesday morning to decide exactly how the trees should be planted.

"There is no law as to how far apart they shall be," said Adjt. Setliffe. "No permits are needed for planting these trees. The last question about distance will be decided upon Wednesday and the planting can begin at once."

Peter Mortenson, superintendent of Chicago's schools, said:

"The school children will want to help in these great 'Roads of Remembrance.' The idea of planting many at one time is, of course, the only sane way to do the thing, and much more will be accomplished than if the trees were planted individually. I will study out a plan whereby the children can assist and we will give it publicity in all Chicago schools. Many children who cannot plant a tree or perhaps can buy a tree and pay for the planting might want to give something to the American Legion to assist in the purchasing of a tree."

Next Week Is Planting Time.

Be ready to plant your trees next week. Get your organization ready and order your trees. Have as many as possible planted at one time to decrease expenses and to have it done correctly. These trees must live or be replanted. You don't want any memorial tree to die. Ask nursery men about planting or get your organization to hire some one who knows how to plant them. You will find rules for planting in next SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE and illustrations showing just how it should be done.

If your club plans to plant a row of trees and celebrate the planting on Memorial day, write THE TRIBUNE about it.

Tagging of the Trees.

A uniform tag has not yet been decided upon. It is better to tag the trees after it is assured they will live. You might have to replace some of them and then the tagging would have to be done all over again. You are at liberty to tag the trees at any time, but the uniform idea is advised by those who are thinking of the memorial trees as something for the generations to come.

Any amount from 10 cents to $10 (or more) will be welcome, and you can do much for these roads if you will send contributions to Adjutant William Q. Setliffe, care American Legion, 111 West Washington street. There will be a glorious ceremony when the legion's output of trees are tagged and you will want to feel that you were a part of it. The legion is doing the work. Send your bit of money to help it.

COUNTESS WANTS MORE OF RICH AUNT'S ESTATE

Though Countess Siedlawski left Warsaw last fall to attend the death-bed of her aunt, Mrs. Angela C. Gormully of 1245 North Dearborn street, she was bequeathed only the income from $1,000. She wants more of Mrs. Gormully's $2,000,000 estate, the greater part of which was left to church and charity. Her two brothers are seeking to break the will. If they succeed she will benefit. Countess Siedlawski, before her marriage twelve years ago, was Miss Helen O'Meara, a daughter of Joseph C. O'Meara of the Colonial hotel. BRUNDAGE MADE TARGET OF JOKER IN UTILITIES BILL

Handles Prosecution in 102 Counties.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—[Special.]—Buried deep down in article V., section 6, of the latest draft of the administration's public utilities act, is the little joker intended to eliminate Attorney General Brundage's office from any connection with enforcement of the proposed legislation.

The paragraph, if it is good law, reverses the Supreme court's opinion in the Fergus case, according to curbstone judgments handed about today, and stops the possibility of an assistant attorney general in each of the 102 counties, as might have been possible under the original draft of the administration bill.

Here's the Little Tanglefoot.

This is the section in question:

"The commission may designate any assistant commissioner, or any other person, to make any investigation or complaint under the provisions of this act, and to conduct the same as prosecutor."

As this section is read, particularly the final phrase, it is figured that the pay roll to be authorized may not be confined to the seven commissioners and the eight assistant commissioners, but may be extended indefinitely according to the whim of the "Illinois commerce commission," as the new body is to be known.

Bill Ready for Action.

The utilities bill is now ready for operation in the house. The week end recess began yesterday without any action on it. The statement was definitely made that further amendments are being prepared by friends of the bill.

Should the Democrats become really belligerent and attempt to make a partisan issue of the prevailing situation, there will be a demand for a public hearing.

Gov. Small went to Kankakee today, probably to a conference Sunday at which the amendments to be offered from a friendly angle will be determined.

Gov. Small today signed the Lyon bill, which permits a person designated by the mayor to sign the mayor's name to bond issues, etc.

The Bippus bill extending the terms of 1920 aldermen until 1923 will be acted upon when the governor returns Monday. It is said to be contrary to the state constitution.

Men, Women, and Children Rob Loaded Booze Truck

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 13.—[Special.]—While a truck load of bonded whisky was being taken through a busy thoroughfare here today, men, women, and children stole at least forty cases of the liquor, the driver evidently unaware of the theft.

U. OF C. PLAY HAS PREMIER; AUTHOR KNOWETH IT NOT

Art Is Revised to Spare Memory's Blushes.

John Joseph, author of this year's Blackfriars play at the University of Chicago, attended the premier in Mandel hall last night and failed to recognize his child.

"What! Can that be my brain child?" he demanded when the final curtain descended. "Who wrote that play?"

Contemplation of the program revealed Mr. Joseph as the author. It made no mention of Dean James Weber Linn, professor of English at the university and one of the judges who selected the play. Nevertheless Dean Linn is the reputed playwright.

Looking Backward.

At this point the reader will be obliged to glance in retrospect. He will recollect that Prof. Robert Herrick has written a novel treating ingenuously of the honeymoon. He will also remember that when Mr. Joseph's campus play, "The Machinations of Max," was submitted in manuscript one of the judges desired to discard it because its plot tallied too closely with an episode in the life of a certain professor.

"Everybody will know who it is," objected the judge.

The motif of the play concerned two student editors who were about to flunk. So they enticed the play professor into a Bohemian studio party, where he found himself alluringly contigious to a handsome chorus girl. Just as the professor was implanting a rather unpedagogic benison upon her lips a flashlight roared. Rather than see this picture in the campus paper the professor of the comedy allowed the students to pass their studies.

Dean Linn to the Rescue.

After Mr. Joseph's play had been finally accepted, it is said, Dr. Herrick raised strenuous objections to its production. The Blackfriars decided they would give no play at all this year.

Enter Dean Linn, a friend of Dr. Herrick.

"Don't do anything as rash as that," he told the thespians. "Just let me touch the comedy up a bit."

Therewith, according to the campus rumor, he got busy.

He eliminated the professor from such close proximity to the coryphee's lips and substituted in his stead a student who aspired to become president of the senior class. The latter's political rivals were the machinators who sprang the flash and printed the kissing picture in the campus publication, thereby horrifying all the little co-eds and deflecting their votes to the opposition candidate.

Audience Is "Disappointed."

All of these thespian maneuvers were gone through last night by Clarence Brown, John Ashenhurst, Jerome Neff, and others, with Vincent Fotre taking the rôle of the chorus girl. When the play was over the audience evinced deep disappointment.

"I want my money back," pouted one co-ed. "They told me I would see a prof revealed in all his hidden wickedness, but in the play he didn't do anything naughty at all."

IRISH FACTIONS READY TO VOTE ON PARLIAMENTS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BELFAST, May 13.—A surprise was sprung in the nominations for members of the Ulster parliament today. The Labor party had announced that it would not contest seats, but Independent Laborites nominated candidates for all four Belfast divisions.

All the regular Unionist candidates were nominated and the Sinn Feiners and Nationalists are opposing each other in all divisions.

Eamonn De Valera, who has been nominated for the county against Sir James Craig, had 900 signatures to his nomination papers. Many of the Sinn Fein candidates are now imprisoned.

SOUTH FOR SINN FEIN.

DUBLIN, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Southern Ireland has again registered its united demand for an Irish republic in the nominations for the southern parliament, carried out today. The parliament now is virtually constituted.

Except for four imperialist candidates who were returned unopposed for Dublin, not a single opponent has been nominated against the Sinn Fein candidates. These Sinn Feiners will refuse the oath of allegiance to the crown and therefore the new parliament will never function.

More than half the members selected in the south are in jail.

JACK WILL STUDY ENOUGH FRENCH TO HEAR GEORGES

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:

At Boston—Harry Greb beat Jimmy Darcy [19].

At Baltimore—Frankie Rice and Whitey Fitzgerald draw [12].

Atlantic City, N. J., May 13.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey is going to study French. The heavyweight champion wants to know enough to understand what Georges Carpentier says in the ring on July 2, even if he has to study every odd hour from now until that time.

JACK KEARNS. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Jack's idea, as he expresses it, is to have some of his staff pick up a minor fighter who knows French or an expatriated Parisian who has followed the scrapping sport on the other side, and who can teach him the ordinary French language of the ring.

Sparring Mates en Route.

Jack Kearns is back at the helm. He said that sparring partners were en route to the shore.

The first arrivals will include Martin Bourke, Jimmy Darcy, Leo Houck, Jeff Clarke, the "fighting ghost" of Joplin, Mo.; Marty Cross, Chuck Wiggins and Eddie O'Hara. Others will come in from time to time.

The champion went through his regular routine today. Everything is being carried on with clocklike precision at the camp on the National stadium grounds and Dempsey rules with a stern hand. He lives up to his program himself, and sets his own pace.

Carpentier's Camp in Readiness.

New York, May 13.—Georges Carpentier's training quarters at Manhasset, L. I., where he will train for his fight July 2 with Jack Dempsey, have been completed, it was reported today.

Besides the outdoor arena where the European champion will engage his sparring partners, an indoor ring has been constructed for use in inclement weather.

Tex Rickard, promoter of the championship bout, said today he was reasonably sure that the arena being erected in Jersey City would be completed by June 15. The box office sale of tickets for the bout began at Madison Square Garden today.

GOT A TICKET? GOT A TRAIN?

There will be no Dempsey-Carpentier fight tickets in Chicago for perhaps ten days, according to Doc Krone, who last night received a telegram from Rickard saying the printers' strike in New York had delayed the printing. Krone will run a twenty hour special train—a duplicate of the "Century"—over the New York Central railroad to the fight and return, and wired Rickard for definite information regarding pasteboards.

James Barsaloux, former south park commissioner, and Packey McFarland will take a party of fans to the fight on the Morrison special over the Pennsylvania, according to Joseph M. Coffey, in charge of the train. Packey has asked for twenty ringside seats for his Joliet delegation. Barsaloux will take six. Coffey says he expects his tickets tomorrow, asserting Jack Kearns has informed him that they were in the mail.

WILDE, BUFF, MAY BOX LABOR DAY

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—At least one other world's championship bout will be held at the arena which Promoter Tex Rickard is erecting in Jersey City for the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight title clash July 2.

Plans already are under way for a battle between Jimmy Wilde of England, recognized flyweight titleholder, and Johnny Buff, Jersey City veteran, who holds the American title and the Rickard championship belt.

The bout is planned for Jersey City on Labor day.

BENNY LEONARD TO BOX KANSAS

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, will defend his title in a bout against Rocky Kansas June 6. The boxers will clash in a twelve round contest which will be conducted at the Harrison, N. J., baseball park.

GASOLINE ALLEY—THEY WEREN'T FAR WRONG AT THAT

GO AHEAD! PICK OUT A SEAT

Here is a plat of the big fight arena in Jersey City which will house the great battle between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier on July 2. It will be noted how the prices range from $50 at the ringside to $5 for the gallery gods.

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER by Frank Smith

THE ramifications of the heavyweight wrestlers controlled by the trust have been dealt with fairly well, and a glimpse at the middleweight section hereabouts is worth a little time and space.

Unlike the four or five men ring, a single man seems to have a grip on the middleweights in this section. At last accounts Ed White, a genial sort of a fellow, looked after the affairs of no less than eight middleweight wrestlers of varying degrees of ability. They are headed by Johnny Meyers, touted broadcast as the champion; Lou Talaber, who wrestled Meyers at the recent Field show given for the benefit of the crippled children of Chicago; Walter Evans, John Kilonis, Paul Prehn, Heine Engel, Henry Irslinger, who lost his Lonsdale belt to Meyers, and Pete Katausky.

At Dubuque on April 30 Heine Engel and John Kilonis wrestled and dispatches gave the match to Engel after 1 hour and 30 minutes on the mat. Engel hails from Dubuque.

Dubuque was one of the several cities visited by White's men during a barnstorming trip. Meyers and Evans took on some selling platers at Danville, Ill., on April 29. On May 12 John Kilonis lost to Paul Prehn at Urbana in 1 hour and 35 minutes. Prehn is wrestling instructor at the University of Illinois.

Home talent wins and an hour and half of the talent's time is given for the admission price.

Now the latest place this crowd expects to light, according to printed reports, is at Medinah temple, on Saturday, May 21. Johnny Meyers is to defend the "middleweight championship of the world" and one of his playmates is to be chosen for the slaughter. Paul Prehn, Walter Evans, Heine Engel, and Waino Ketonan are being "considered."

Checks posted in the names of middleweight wrestlers who are not in the good graces of Mr. White fail to cause a ripple in the Meyers camp, except to start a grand little hustle among the boys on the inside to see which one will be the next to try out Johnny and in this manner silence the men who have their money posted. There are half a dozen middleweight wrestlers hereabouts who claim they are able to take Meyers' measure, and from the way White dodges matches with them it is just possible he believes they know whereof they speak.

If a wrestling card is put on at Medinah temple next Saturday night, who is going to issue the permit? Is a wrestling commission to be appointed, or is there another way out? We shall watch developments with interest.

Woods and Waters by LARRY ST. JOHN

ANGLERS' EXCHANGE.

LENA, Wis.—This town is not in the muskellunge region, hence is often passed up by anglers. However, if you want black bass, pike, pickerel, and pan fishes, and these of good size and in quantities, one can catch them here without any trouble, while the brook trout fishing is excellent. For the trout fisherman there are two branches of Little river, about four miles from town. Twelve miles out is Kelly brook, famous in trout fishing annals. Both of these streams have good sized trout.

Kelly lake is the principal lake in the region. It is a resort lake with fine bathing beach and many cottages. In spite of this the fishing is good. Those who want to get away from the crowds may do so, as there are more than a dozen fine bass and pike lakes within striking distance.

These are smaller than Kelly lake and easier to fish for the caster. Some of these lakes are said to be inhabited by immense brook trout, but I am unable to verify this, as I never fished for trout in the lakes.

Lena is in Oconto county, 230 miles from Chicago, and is reached by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. Reached by motor via Green Bay.

MERRILL LAKE.

Editor's note: This is the third of this season's Anglers' Exchange sketches, a regular feature of this department. Contributions on good fishing waters are invited. Please do not ask us for contributors' addresses. It is not our policy to bother them with correspondence.

PAL MOORE WILL BOX AS HEADLINER TONIGHT ON COUNTISS PROGRAM

With Pal Moore appearing in one of the bouts, which will be supported by nine bristling contests between boxers of the Great Lakes Naval training station, a capacity crowd is expected to attend the charity boxing show which will be conducted under Mrs. Frederick Countiss' sponsorship aboard the U. S. S. Commodore tonight. Proceeds of the show will go to the Lawrence Hall for Boys.

PAL MORAN. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Countiss yesterday announced that 700 of the 1,000 seats have been sold. In the event of a sell out there will be standing room for all who wish to see the show. The sponsoress of the bouts is enthusiastic over the success of her first attempt and is looking forward with a lot of interest to seeing the sailors in action.

No Danger of Interference.

According to Capt. Wurtsbaugh, commandant of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, there will be no interference on the part of local authorities. The naval commander said the only person who could stop the show would be Secretary of the Navy Denby, and he did not expect to hear from him.

The first contest will start at 8:30 o'clock. The gangplank will be shoved ashore to admit spectators at 7 o'clock. Pal Moore will appear about the middle of the program. Following are the contestants in the other bouts:

L. D. Faust, Aviation, vs. N. Tumbry, Radio, middleweights.

J. Kosciolski, 18th regiment, vs. W. L. Furey, Aviation, lightweights.

A. E. Malzan, Aviation, vs. C. M. Carter, Aviation, light heavyweights.

J. Barclay, Aviation, vs. D. B. McMullen, Radio, middleweights.

Otto Bolz, Radio, vs. Sam Pullo, Aviation, featherweights.

T. W. Hernacki, Radio, vs. Mike De Angelo, 18th regiment, bantamweights.

W. L. Graham, Radio, vs. C. L. Mayne, 18th regiment, welterweights.

L. Moorman, Aviation, vs. J. A. Zeitler, Aviation, welterweights.

J. T. Myrick vs. W. V. Day, Aviation, lightweights.

Farwell Makes Protest.

Arthur Burrage Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order league, yesterday appealed to the chief of police to stop the bouts.

Citing numerous cases, including a murder on a battleship in 1918, he showed that the mayor has authority to enforce the law on a boat tied up at a dock, and requests that the chief "do his duty." Neither the chief nor the mayor has intimated what his position will be.

You say you don't know where condors are found. In the first stanza of "Where Mexico Is." by the late Hugh E. Keough, he says:

The banderillo spares the quails,
And senoritas do the rest.

ALEXA TO MEET MISS LEITCH IN INITIAL ROUND

BY TED RAY.
[American Open Golf Champion.]
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright 1921 by The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 13.—There have been many in both America and Britain who have anticipated an Anglo-American match in the final round of the British women's golf championship, but today when the draw was made at headquarters of the women's golf union in London the names of Miss Alexa Stirling and Miss Cecil Leitch, respectively the American and British champions, came out together to meet in the very first round.

TED RAY. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

This is but an eighteen hole match, whereas the final is over two rounds. Anything might happen in a one round match. If Miss Stirling beats Miss Leitch, as she might, she'll have to meet another American, Miss Marion Hollins of the Westbrook club, who should win her match in the first round.

How Americans Are Paired.

Eleven players altogether are entered from the United States, and two from Canada, but the draws brought most of these overseas entrants into the lower half. Herewith the pairings:

Miss Alexa Stirling vs. Miss Cecil Leitch.
Miss Marion Hollins vs. Miss A. Hughes, one of the best players in Wales.
Miss S. A. Fownes of Oakmont vs. Mrs. B. C. Bewley, winner of many English midland competitions.
Mrs. Thurston Wright of Allewheny vs. Miss McIlroy, playing on her own course.
Miss L. B. Elkins of Oakmont vs. Miss Doris Chambers, one of the best English golfers, with whom Miss Stirling now is staying.
Miss Alice Hanchett of San Francisco vs. Miss Judith Fowler of Harrogate.
Mrs. Q. F. Feitner of South Shore, New York, vs. Miss Bringford.
Miss Edith Cummings of Onwentsia vs. Miss Isabella Kemp.
Miss Lucy Hanchett of San Francisco vs. Mrs. Deane, better known in America as Miss Barry.
Mrs. Barlow of Merion vs. Mrs. Culross.

The Americans will find this opposition formidable.

Chick Evans Arrives.

Chick Evans arrived at Southampton today on the Adriatic, and proposes hustling north to join the other American amateurs who have amazed local caddies. Mrs. Feitner of New York was on the same boat. She is the metropolitan champion of the New York district, but will probably have to content herself with this title. Mrs. Feitner herself is not oversanguine regarding her prospects.

The first match between American and British golfers today went to the Americans, Francis Ouimet and Bobby Jones, who beat W. B. Charles and F. Crowther, two prominent Liverpool players, in a four ball match. More than a thousand people watched the match, indicating that tremendous crowds can be expected at the real games.

Praise Ouimet's Iron Shots.

This drawing power is attributed to the fame of the Americans. The experts have commented on Ouimet's iron play, which they call almost eerie in its accuracy. The Yankee went around the Hoylake course in 70 today, which shows he knows how to use his other clubs also.

SUZANNE NOT ON DAVIS CUP TEAM

PARIS, May 13.—The French Tennis association has decided not to nominate Suzanne Lenglen, the French woman tennis champion, for the Davis cup, it was announced today. The federation considers that five set matches would be too great a tax for a woman player.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

With less than nothing on the slab for six innings yesterday, Chicago's White Sox took an awful licking from the Red Sox in the final game of their set, the final count being 16 to 8.

RUSSELL PENCE. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

The Gleasons whaled Sam Jones of Boston harder than ever before in their young lives, and would have had a swell chance to chase the jinx he has had on them for several years, but three of the four pitchers sent the wildest man, or woman, ever born in Borneo. That accounted for the wide divergence in the score, although the colorless Sox made as many safeties as did their antagonists.

Two Homers for Boston.

Each team rang up fifteen hits, but the visitors were helped out by eight bases on balls and two of their drives were for home runs from the bats of Menosky and Jones. Menosky's four base smash came in the fifth round with two Red Sox on the cushions. Jones made his in the sixth with only one man on. The Gleasons had to be content with singles or doubles.

Dick Kerr started on the slab against Jones. Four runs were made off wee Richard in the very first inning. He was himself in the second, but in the next inning the visitors trimmed him for two more runs, and the procession of wild rookies began.

McWeeney was trotted out in the fourth. In the fifth the enemy got to him and drove him off the slab.

Pence Best of Sox.

Hodge was called to the rescue after the Red Sox had scored four runs in the fifth with one out. Shovel lasted through that spasm and part of the sixth, and during his term both the home runs were made, one into the right field stand and the other into the left field seats.

Then R. Pence, a right hander from Ray Schalk's bailiwick, was given a chance, and he looked the best of the home quartet of slabmen. In three innings the Red Sox increased their total by only one run on a pass, a sacrifice, and a single in the ninth.

There is no need to go deeper into the harrowing details. The fans, who still are loyal to the Alabaster Hose, would like to see pitchers with the nerve to put the ball over the pan, even if it is as nude as Aphrodite. There is no thrill in a base on balls.

SOX NOTES

THE Athletics are due today for a four game series with the White Sox lasting until Tuesday night.

Only the crippled and convalescent soldiers came back for the postponed doings of national hospital day, and in consequence the original program was canceled, giving the heroes only a punk game and a lot of fresh air for their journey to the park.

"Wal anniehow," it was Friday, the thirteenth.

Hendryx stole a long drive from Strunk in the fourth by a brilliant running catch close to the foul line.

Johnson and Falk got their wires crossed on a pop fly from Hendryx's bat in the unlucky fifth and let it fall safely between them, but it did not happen to increase Boston's score.

Del Pratt made a desperate effort to rob Falk of a hit in the seventh, impaling the ball on his bare fist back of second base and throwing while still in motion, but Falk beat the peg by a yard.

6 ACQUITTED AS POOL OPERATORS

Six men who were charged with operating baseball pools were found not guilty by Judge John J. Sullivan in the Criminal court yesterday. The men were indicted last fall by the special grand jury which conducted the baseball scandal investigation.

Walters, charged with operating the American and National pools; Charles Haas, charged with operating the Blue Island pool; Peter and Ralph Hansen, charged with operating the Chicago Heights baseball pool.

The state was unable to show by any witness that the defendants had sold lottery tickets.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 13.—[Special.]—Home run wallops achieved a victory for Elwood Speed Martin and the Cubs today in the final with the lowly Phils. Two circuit blows in the ninth accounted for three tallies, wiped out a slight lead held by the locals, and permitted the Evers men to cop by a 4 to 2 margin.

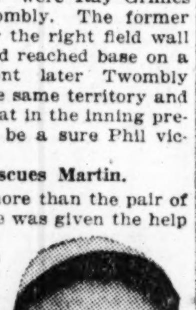

RAY GRIMES. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

The gents who soaked the much needed homers in the last round were Ray Grimes and Clarence Twombly. The former drove the pill over the right field wall after Hollocher had reached base on a single. A moment later Twombly slammed one to the same territory and clinched a game that in the inning previous appeared to be a sure Phil victory.

Fielding Rescues Martin.

Martin needed more than the pair of homers to win. He was given the help in the form of spectacular plays by John Kelleher and Grimes. Kelleher stopped a sure hit off Rawlings' bat with a leaping stab of a hard liner in the eighth. It was in the midst of the Phillies' best rally. Grimes' daring defensive work cut off a sure Phil run in the seventh and changed the complexion of the ball game. Williams doubled in that inning and J. Miller followed with a bounder to first base. Instead of making the play at his own corner, Grimes scooped the ball and made the long throw to third. The throw reached Deal in time to drive Williams back to second, where he was caught.

CLARENCE TWOMBLY.

A long fly came next. Had Williams reached third he would have scored.

Costly Play by Robertson.

Although Martin was helped to a great extent by the brilliancy of his mates, he suffered through a blunder by Robertson in center. Emil Meusel hit a long fly to Davey's precinct in the eighth and the Cubs' outfielder misjudged it. When he saw his mistake he raced back and tried to reach the pill, but couldn't and it went for two sacks. Two runs came directly from that slight mistake.

The Cubs broke into the scoring in the eighth. Deal looped a Texas leaguer into left for a single and Martin drove him around with a wallop for two bases against the right field wall. Then came the ninth and a Cub victory.

CUBS' NOTES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 13.—[Special.]—The Cubs hit the steel trail tonight for Boston, where a three game series with the Braves opens tomorrow.

Terry was unable to play because of his big toe being sore as the result of the Phil catcher dropping a mask on it in Wednesday's game.

Killefer opened the sixth with a single and Martin sacrificed. Flack bounced to the pitcher and Killefer was caught between the bases. That ended the chances of a rally.

Wrightstone opened the second with a single that deflected off Martin's bare hand. Parkinson then sacrificed, and both Williams and Miller flied to Flack in right.

The first Cub to reach base was Twombly, who single to right in the fifth. Deal then lined to center and Twombly took such a big lead off the bag that he was unable to get back when Williams caught the ball.

EVANSVILLE FARMS TWO PLAYERS.

Evansville, Ind., May 13.—[Special.]—The Evansville Three Eyes team has farmed out Pitcher Jack Dougherty and Infielder Tranquist to the Grand Rapids, Mich., team of the Central league.

BEGINNING OF A WILD DAY AT SOX PARK

Everett Scott of the Red Sox and Harry Hooper of the White Sox, former team pals, had a battle of legs and wings in the first inning yesterday, and Scott won the verdict by a scant margin. He was on second base with two gone in the opening round when John Collins punched a single into right. Hooper ran in and came up with the ball cleanly, then winged it home straight as a pigeon flies, but Scott's chassis landed him safely ahead of the throw.

EXTRADITION PAPERS SIGNED BY GOVERNOR TO BRING ATTEL HERE

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—Requisition papers for the bringing to Chicago of Abe Attel, former featherweight boxing champion, alleged "fixer" in the 1919 baseball scandal, were signed today by Gov. Len Small before he went to his Kankakee home for the week-end. Attel, under indictment on conspiracy and confidence game charges, is being held in New York on a fugitive warrant.

Charged with Defrauding.

Indictments against Attel, members of the White Sox baseball club, and others in the alleged conspiracy charge them with taking $500 from Samuel Pass by means of a confidence game, and with cheating Eddie Collins, White Sox second baseman, out of $1,784. This would have been Collins' additional share as one of the winning players in the 1919 world series, had the White Sox won.

Besides Attel, seventeen alleged conspirators are named in the indictment attached to State's Attorney Crowe's application for extradition papers.

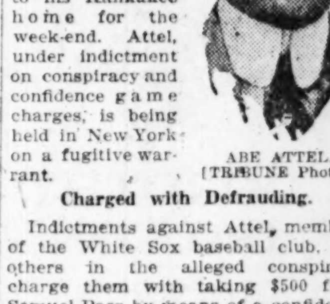

Roster of the Indicted.

These indicted men, several of whom are now under bond, include:

Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, Joe Jackson, Fred McMullen, Arnold (Chick) Gandil, George (Buck) Weaver, Oscar (Happy) Felsch, and Charlie Risberg, members of the White Sox club; also William Burns, Hal Chase, Joseph J. Sullivan, Rachel Brown, Carl Zork, Ben Franklin, Ben Levi, Louis Levi, and David Zelser.

AUSTIN NINE TO MISS GOTHAM TRIP UNLESS PLAYERS TIGHTEN UP

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Out in Austin the high school baseball boys are hearing the cry, "All aboard for New York!" They will hear it in reality if they win the championship of the Chicago High School league, and they moved one step closer to the title yesterday by scraping out a victory, 8 to 6, in a hotly contested game with Medill.

ALEXANDER BLACK [TRIBUNE Photo.]

However, if the Austin lads wish to earn this trip it will be well for them to be a bit more careful and alert. If some of them are as dead on their feet as they were yesterday, they will miss the train.

With a trifle more care and precision in fielding, and a bit more mental activity, the Austin boys would have romped in with yesterday's game, and never once would have been in distress. As it was, they made a tough battle for themselves by some awful errors and letting their rivals run wild on the bases. Austin earned seven of its eight runs and the Medill boys earned three, the other three being handed to them.

Not the Team of 1920.

Austin hasn't the strong and speedy team it had a year ago, when it lost its chance for the title when one of its star players was disqualified. However, that player—Pitcher Black—will have concluded his suspension of a year by the first of next week, and will be eligible to play during the balance of the season. With him on hand to do the slabbing for the final and hard games, the Austin boys feel pretty safe. They haven't lost a game yet.

However, unless some of the others "pep up" a bit, even so good a hurler as young Mr. Black may find it difficult to lead the boys to the championship. He can't do it all alone. He will be backed by a bunch of pretty good hitters, perhaps as good as one can find in the local schools.

Backstop Weak on Throwing.

Leslie Olsen, a southpaw, who has been slabbing until Black is again eligible, was not a bad pitcher, and will be useful in the remaining games. Catcher Wells needs to learn how to snap the ball down to second before he can head off any runners.

Big Hansen, a new man, is doing well at first, and hits the ball hard. Forsberg at second acts like a ball player, and yesterday displayed more pep than any one on the team, but even he was careless at times. Hoerber at short is rather inexperienced, but has a good arm. Richard Olsen at third handled his chances well.

Capt. Jay Horn is a fine outfielder, and has two strong fellows with him in Feldman and McLaren. Score:

ILLINI-BADGER GAME IS BIG TEN FEATURE TODAY

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Athletic activity among western conference colleges today will be featured by the baseball game between Illinois and Wisconsin at Madison and the dual set of track and field games between Illinois and Michigan at Urbana.

GEORGE LEVIS.

While Illinois has won six straight Big Ten games, five by decisive margins, the Badgers are expected to give Coach Lundgren's team one of its hardest battles of the season. Wisconsin is a harder hitting club than any team Illinois has faced. It will be Illinois' first real test on a foreign field, but it will take the best Wisconsin can produce to knock the Orange and Blue team down a few points in the conference percentage column.

Iowa Nine at Michigan.

Michigan, which is tied with Illinois in the percentage column with three victories and no defeats, will entertain Iowa at Ann Arbor. The Hawkeyes have won from Northwestern, but lost to Purdue and Illinois. They are expected to show improvement enough today to give the Wolverines a battle.

Chicago, which has lost five Big Ten games and won one, will journey to Lafayette to meet Purdue. The Boilermakers are tied with Indiana for fifth place, having won two games and lost three.

Coach George Levis, former Wisconsin athlete, will send his Indiana team against Ohio State at Bloomington. The Buckeyes took two games from the Hoosiers on the occasion of their first meeting at Columbus.

Illinois Athletes Favored.

Illinois should rule slight favorite over Michigan in the dual meet. The result of this meet will go a long way toward determining the chances of the contesting teams for honors in the Big Ten meet on Stagg field June 4.

Purdue and Northwestern will clash at Evanston in another dual affair, while teams of Iowa and Chicago will meet at Stagg field.

MOVE IN COUNCIL AGAINST PARK OF BLACK SOX TEAM

A resolution by Ald. Govier was introduced in the city council yesterday asking the revocation of license to Frank P. Conroy, who operates the baseball field at East Seventy-fifth street and Greenwood avenue, because four indicted former members of the White Sox ball team are playing on the team there.

Ald. Lyle, speaking in objection, said the resolution was unfair and unsportsmanlike.

"It is not fair," he said, "to create prejudice until the courts decide that they are guilty."

Lyle asked Govier to withdraw the resolution, but the latter refused. The request to suspend the rules was voted down by 11 to 37, and the resolution was referred to the judiciary committee.

Same Breed of Pups as Former Dalton Picture

"IDOL OF THE NORTH."
Produced by Paramount.
Directed by R. William Neill.
Presented at the Randolph.

THE CAST.

Colette Brissac	Dorothy Dalton
Martin Bates	Edwin August
Lucky Folsom	E. J. Ratcliffe
Ham Devlin	Riley Hatch
One-Eye Wallace	Jules Cowles
Gloria Waldron	Marguerite Marsh
Sergt. McNair	Joe King

By Mae Tinée.

THE Paramount people say that exhibitors demanded another Dorothy Dalton picture on "The Flame of the Yukon" order, and so they have provided "The Idol of the North." It opens tomorrow at the Randolph.

This is of the same breed of pups, but it lacks the vivid markings of the other. As in "The Flame of the Yukon," Miss Dalton is a dance hall girl. The death of her father throws her on her own resources and she is compelled to dance and sing for her sippers in a gold camp resort. But she is pure as can be, having learned at just what moment to flip the liquor in a tipsy suitor's eyes and make her escape from his too heated embraces.

In the highly improbable manner of most of our worst and some of our best movies, Colette finds herself saddled with a husband—unknown to her until the night of the wedding, which the ribald dance hall habitues decree and which they carry through with a high hand. The bridegroom is soiled and bewhiskered and sodden when he says his "I will."

Colette intends to desert him. Womanly pity asserts itself, however, when she discovers that the man is really desperately ill. She cares for him and grows to love him. And so strong is he for her that he refuses the blandishments of a former sweetheart who [hearing that he has made a fortune, comes clear over from the States to look him up] would bestow on him the love she once had refused. And she's married, at that.

We leave Colette and her regenerated hubby apparently in the best of spirits.

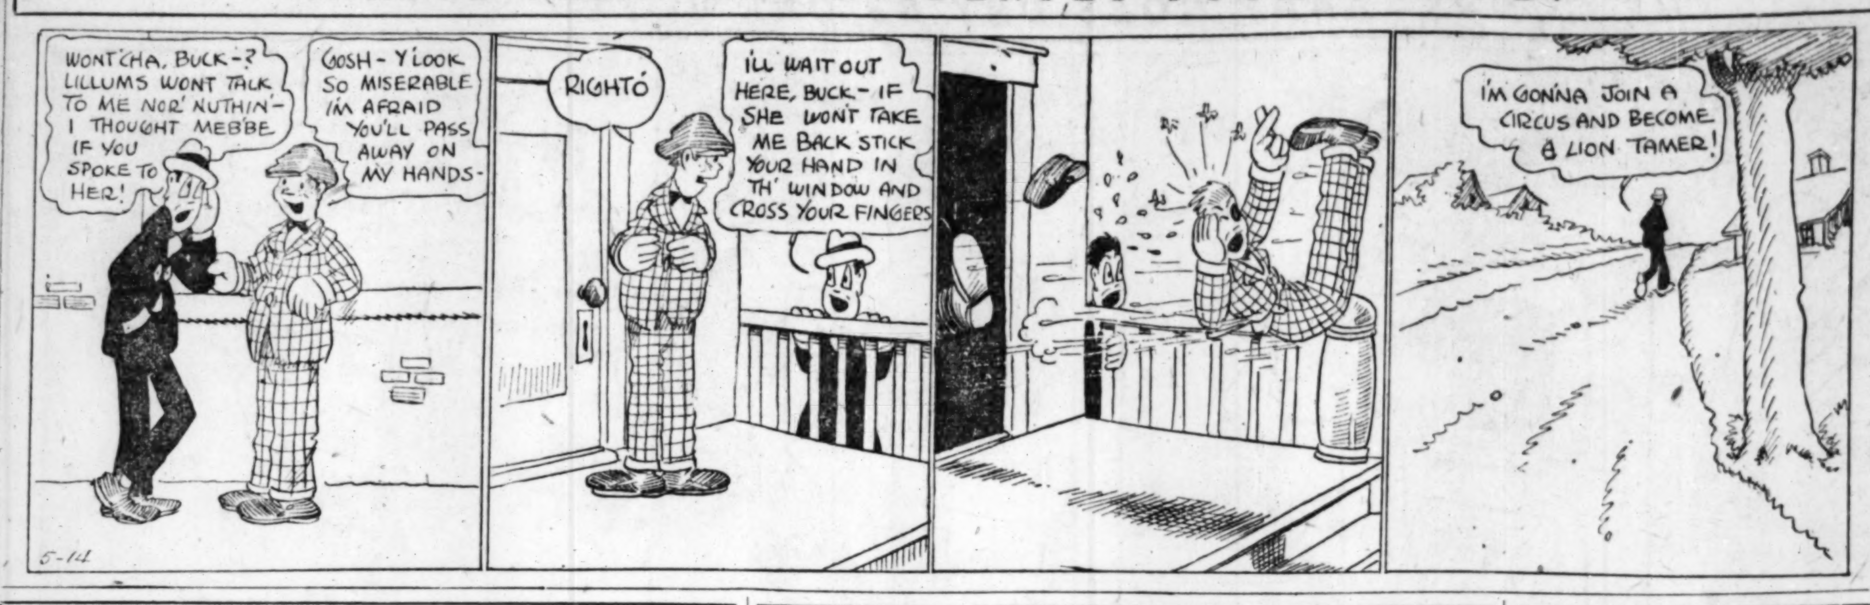

There's nothing about the production that will burn itself into your remembrance. The fights won't scare you especially, nor will the love scenes thrill you. What will make you sit up and take notice is the costumes. Mutton leg sleeves and long trails on the ladies of New York.

I accused the producers of putting out an old release under a new name. But they said:

"Lady, lady, you're all wrong! In the days when gold was discovered and there were dance halls, and you could buy whisky, the dames DID wear that kind of clothing."

All right. But where do you reckon they picked up Edwin August?

HAROLD TEEN—DAD EVIDENTLY TOOK A HAND!

CLOSEUPS

Cecil De Mille is quoted as saying that with proper direction Dorothy Dalton would be a great actress. I understand he has taken her on and will endeavor for a time to lead her in the way she should go. Now we shall see what we shall see.

Alan Hale, declared to "have wrecked more homes and destroyed more papers" on the screen than any other living man, is a proud papa. Son and heir is just six weeks old.

Rex Beach has, it seems, been bought and paid for. Dispatches have it that Hiram Abrams of United Artists has a contract all signed in which Mr. Beach agrees to give up all magazine work, go west, and devote his time to writing for the silver sheet.

Richard Bennett, of whom it was said a week or so ago that he would confine his future activities to directing pictures, now changes his mind. He says he will return to the stage—producing two plays in New York next season in which he will play the leading rôles.

Mary Thurman will be Roscoe Arbuckle's leading woman in his coming picture, "Should a Man Marry?"

Catholic League to Honor Mrs. Trainor

The retiring president of the Catholic Woman's league, Mrs. John W. Trainor, will be entertained at a luncheon today at 1 o'clock at the Woman's Athletic club. The board of managers who have served during the past two years are in charge of arrangements. The members of the board will present Mrs. Trainor with a jewel studded bracelet.

I had just come upon my nephew sliding down the banister.

Wishing to discourage the practice,

I said, "Here, Robert! I wouldn't do that."

He looked up at me and promptly replied; "'Course you wouldn't, auntie. How funny it would look—an old lady like you!" M. E. L.

Mother had an afternoon party. The dinner that evening consisted mainly of party food. Bob ate rather sparingly, and then said, "Gee, dad, I like big man meals better than these lady meals, don't you?" G. M.

Philip went to call on a neighbor, and found her engaged in making doughnuts. He sat and watched for awhile, and then, not receiving any, said: "I think doughnuts is healthy food, if you don't eat too many." J. W.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Use Will Power.

"Dear Miss Blake: How is one to forget? So many times I see you advise disappointed young girls and men to forget. How? More than a year ago I met and subsequently fell in love with a man about ten or twelve years older than I. He didn't take me out much. But O, what promises he made! But I was happy because I loved him. Then he went away.

"That was over a year ago. I still think of him every day. At first it was with tears. Now, with a dull pain in my heart. I can't forget. I go out with other fellows and girls. I go to parties, theaters, etc., and I tell myself I am happy. But I can't lie to myself.

"Dear Miss Blake, please tell me how I can forget. I want to forget, because there is no hope of my ever seeing him again, and I can't go on like this forever. Please help me, Miss Blake. B. H."

There is only one way to forget—and that is by will power. Refuse to entertain thoughts of him. When you are tempted to old memories simply force your mind on to some other topic. It is hard. But it can be done, dear. And is it not foolish to let your heart ache for one so unworthy of your devotion?

A FRIEND IN NEED

I want to be the medium through which the friend in deed and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown its usefulness that will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail, a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

"I belong to a club, and we piece quilts. We are about run out of pieces, so you can see how useful they will be to us. We piece quilts all the year around, and do all kinds of sewing. Nothing goes to waste with us, as pieces that are too narrow for quilts are used for rag rugs. We can use silk, velvet, or wash materials, or pieces that would do for rag carpets. I would gladly call for them or pay postage. I do not want you to think we are selfish, but this is house cleaning time, and as a rule people throw out quite a bit of stuff that we probably could use and make others happy when we make them up. M. O.

There are sure to be pieces left over from the spring dressmaking which would please this applicant.

"Is there anybody in this department who has a wheel chair not in use? I am writing this for a woman who is an invalid and has been in bed for many years. She cannot afford to buy one, and the doctor says it would be nice if she could get a little air, and the only way is a wheel chair. I am willing to pay express charges. "MRS. S. R."

It will be a real joy to be able to tell Mrs. S. R. that some one has the wheel chair to give her friend.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Fashion comes near to being an island of capes. To catalogue these capes would be like trying to list the blades of grass in the back yard.

Let it be said right here, however, that those who are planning for country or seaside nad best include one of the knitted wool capes. These have been worn all through the last weeks by people who are getting a precocious sniff of sea breeze or country air. Often they are accordion plaited, often they appear in check, and oftener still they are trimmed with Angora in contrasting tint. Gray angora on the jade cape is noted frequently. Summer weight duvetyn is also selected for resort wear at present, and these are frequently banded with leather.

Above we are showing an entire costume of beige jersey combined with brick color jersey and embroidered in black.

By CARL SANDBURG—Daily News.
The most important and the most original photoplay that has come to this city of Chicago the last year is being presented at the Ziegfeld theater this week in "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari." Here is one Shakespeare would enjoy coming back to have a look at. "We say see it."
Nothing like it ever crossed the silver screen in any country in the world.—Evening American.
You will be fascinated by the originality of its conception; undeniably clever; nothing like it filmed. Don't miss seeing this.—Evening Post.
Chilling and thrilling, take my word for it. See it and you'll never forget it. Herald-Examiner.
It's interesting, a novelty that combines mentality, humor and cleverness.—EVENING JOURNAL.

Capt. Wurtsbaugh Promises Plenty of Thrills for Society

SOCIETY put its O. K. on wrestling matches as a money-raiser for charity last February, when it turned out en masse for Mrs. Marshall Field's wrestling bouts at the Coliseum. Tonight it is going to have a chance to put its stamp of approval on boxing as a means of extracting the necessary cash for charitable institutions at a program of matches to be given on board the U. S. S. Commodore anchored at the foot of Randolph street.

Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss has arranged tonight's program, the proceeds of which will be given to Lawrence Hall, a home for boys from 6 to 16, on West Lawrence avenue. Capt. Wurtsbaugh, Commandant of Great Lakes, says he has gotten together the best program of real fights that has been staged by the Navy since during the early days of the war, so the 1000 persons who can be accommodated on the ship are assured of good sport.

Assisting Mrs. Countiss have been Mrs. Edward F. Swift Jr., Mrs. Philip Wrigley, Mrs. John D. Black, Mrs. D. W. Wurtsbaugh, Mrs. Edward Evers, Mrs. John Borden, Mrs. Alanson Follansbee, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. M. M. Sheriff, Joseph G. Coleman, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, Miss Catherine Linn, Mrs. William V. Kelley and Miss Margaret Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Gross of 1100 Ridge Avenue, Evanston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa Rew, to Benjamin Morris Thomas, son of Morris St. P. Thomas of 745 North Michigan avenue. Miss Gross, who is a graduate of the Bennett school in New York, made her debut last October with her sister, Miss Freda Gross. Mr. Thomas was graduated from Yale in 1917.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen Jr. of Lake Forest, returned yesterday from New York where she went to meet her brother-in-law and sister, Lieut. Commander Charles D. Burney and Mrs. Burney [Gladys High], who were married on May 15 in London. Mrs. Bowen was accompanied home by her sister, but Commander Burney will remain in the east for several days more. Mrs. Burney is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. Whitney Farlin of 1244 Lake Shore drive.

Mrs. Paul Bartlett, Mrs. Edgar Lee Masters, Mrs. Albert J. Ochsner, Mrs. Thomas Boyd and Mrs. Russell J. Matthias will act as hostesses tomorrow from 3 to 6 o'clock at Miss Grace Hickox's studio in the Fine Arts building where some of Raymond Jonson's work is being exhibited. Next Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ralph Van Vechten, Mrs. Alexander F. Stevenson, Mrs. Cloyd Head, Mrs. Arthur T. Aldis and Miss Harriet Monroe will be hostesses. Miss Bertha Ochsner, Miss Gloria Chandler and Miss Helen Hopkins will preside at the tea table on both days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smoot of New York arrived yesterday for a fortnight's visit with Mrs. Smoot's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Fox of Wheaton.

Mrs. William A. Vincent and her mother, Mrs. Ridgely, have returned from Springfield and are stopping at the Ambassador hotel. Mrs. Vincent will go east for the summer later in the season.

Mrs. William G. Hibbard of Winnetka has returned from a two months' trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford R. Carter of 1411 State parkway, have gone to Moline for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Cady.

Onwentsia has cards out announcing the first of the usual week-end dinner dances for next Saturday night and a dinner dance for Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Coonley of Lake Forest, have returned from a three months' trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Marquette A. Healy of 222 East Delaware place, have returned from Santa Barbara where they had a house for the winter and have opened their Lake Geneva residence for the summer.

Evanston Garden Club to Hold Sale

Honey, homemade jams, and canned fruits also will be sold. Luncheon will be served under the trees. Mrs. Leslie E. Hildreth is president of the club. 31 More Guarantee $1,000 Each to Keep Opera in Chicago

NAMES of thirty-one more guarantors of $1,000 each for the Chicago opera were announced yesterday. Robert E. Kenyon, general chairman, said there are now ninety-three signed up. The new guarantors are:

J. Ogden Armour,
Wm. B. Austin,
Mrs. Jacob Baur,
L. E. Block,
Walter S. Brewster,
Mrs. Francis Carolan,
Mrs. J. A. Carpenter,
Mrs. Jas. P. Connery,

Mrs. Harold F. McCormick,
William J. Mohr,
Mrs. Potter Palmer,

Alexander Smith,
John A. Spoor,
Arthur C. Sullivan,
Boetius H. Sullivan,
Mrs. Boetius H. Sullivan,
Mrs. Roger C. Sullivan,
F. M. Taber,
John R. Thompson.

The new results obtained by the citizens' committee were announced at a farewell luncheon to Miss Mary Garden, director of the opera, at a luncheon at the Union League club. Miss Garden leaves today to spend the summer in Europe.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, chairman of the women's section, reported twelve new subscribers, bringing the record of the women's section to twenty-three guarantors.

A precedent for business firms or buildings, the owners of which may become guarantors, was set by Mrs. Charles Chapin, who, it was announced, has signed a pledge to be credited to the Fine Arts building in acknowledging the various artistic elements that are centered therein.

The largest individual guarantor for the day was Boetius H. Sullivan, who signed for four members of his family and the Sawyer Biscuit company. One of the members signed was Arthur C. Sullivan, 8 years old, the young man thereby becoming the youngest guarantor of the opera company.

"I want Chicagoans to know the guarantees they are pledging are for the future of the Chicago Opera company and not for Mary Garden," Miss Garden told the committee. "I want them to know that these guarantees of $1,000 each are not effective until the season that starts May 1, 1922, and are not payable until May 1, 1923.

"And our hands are tied in our plans for the future until a cable reaches me in Paris that the necessary quota of 500 guarantees has been subscribed."

Northwestern "U" Commerce School Tuition Is Raised

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF COMMERCE announced yesterday that, beginning next fall, it will limit the registration in its Evanston branch to 300 students. The tuition will be advanced from $200 to $240 per year. This limitation on numbers will not apply to the work in journalism, nor to the work of the graduate division of the School of Commerce, but will apply to the regular undergraduate work.

"We have found it necessary," Dean Ralph E. Heilman said, "to impose a limit on numbers for two reasons: First, because of inadequate physical facilities to care for a larger number of students, and secondly, in order to maintain a high standard of instruction and scholarship. So far as practicable, we wish our instruction to be individual.

"We find that in the teaching of business the most effective method is the use of the problem method. This means intensive personal work and a close relationship between student and instructor. We cannot teach business properly by herding the students together in large classes and simply lecturing to them."

Dean Heilman asserted that the increase in tuition rates is "regrettable but necessary, due to the high operating costs." For those students who are absolutely unable to meet this increase in rates it is hoped that loan funds and a limited number of scholarships may be provided.

Alumni to Rule at Graduation of Western Theologs

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

TRADITION will be cast aside next Thursday at the annual commencement service of the Western Theological seminary of the Episcopal church, at 2720 Washington boulevard, when, for the first time in thirty-six years, the alumni will hold the center of the chancel and the day will be given over entirely to the graduates and former students of the institution.

An alumnus will conduct the service, the Rev. Dean William C. De Witt of the class of 1886, one of the first graduates, and another alumnus will preach the sermon, the Rev. James Madison Johnson, 1903, of Elgin. A former student, the Rev. George Craig Stewart, 1902, of Evanston, will preside over an alumni conference in the afternoon, following the alumni dinner.

Among prominent alumni of the seminary are four bishops—Keator of Olympia, Moore of Dallas, Sumner of Oregon, and Sherwood of Springfield—besides priests now serving in half the states of the Union and in Japan and the Philippine islands, Australia, and Sweden.

Bishop Anderson has publicly stated that he would be unable to operate the mission work of the diocese of Chicago without the Western Theological seminary, as one-fourth of the clergy of the diocese are graduates of that institution.

Mrs. Taggart is a graduate of Emerson college of oratory, and an actress. After her husband graduates she will move with him to Burlington. At present the couple are living at 57 St. Stephen street, Back Bay.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Pineapple Sherbet for Two.

Shred or cut of fine one-fourth of a cup or a little more of juicy pineapple. Cook one-half cup of sugar with one-fourth cup of water till it spins a thread, or to 238 degrees. Pour this over the pineapple and let it stand until it cools. Add to it lemon juice to taste to strengthen the flavor, being careful not to use enough to make the whole seem to lack sugar. Beat the white of one egg till stiff, with a tiny pinch of salt, and fold the pineapple and sugar mixture into it.

Have already chilled a half pint glass jar. Pour the preparation into this, put a buttered paper over top, and fasten cover on closely. Pack this in half ice and half salt mixed for about one hour and a half, or if time is lacking an hour may suffice to bring it to that half frozen stage at which sherbet may be served.

This mixture may be doubled and a freezer used, in which case we usually fold in the egg white after the other is partly frozen, a thick sirup such as that around or with the pineapple freezing more or less slowly. In putting the egg white into the sirup and fruit at the start in this first fashion it is necessary to pack the minute it is ready, otherwise the heavy sirup will separate from the egg, but in a mixture as quick acting as one of half ice and half salt this will not happen.

In making this for a larger number and without an ice cream freezer perhaps it would be best to put it into several half pint or pint jars, working with great expedition to prevent the separation of the heavy sirup from the egg.

PRIVATE OWNERS MAY LOSE LINES, CUMMINS WARNS

Defends the Labor Board Against Critic.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—Warning that the steady deficits in railroad operations and the increase in liability claims made by the roads against the government would "endanger the continuance of private ownership" were made today by Senator Cummins.

The senator, as chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce, was defending the transportation act as a revenue producing measure for the railroads and the railroad labor board against complaints that it has been guilty of delay in handling its cases during the examination of Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of executives of the Southern Pacific, at the railroad inquiry.

Stands Up for the Board.

"You have suggested that the labor board was somewhat slow," said Senator Cummins to Mr. Kruttschnitt. "My judgment is that remarkable speed has been manifested. Personally I think it has proceeded with a good deal of promptness."

Mr. Kruttschnitt declared he believed that part of the transportation act creating the labor board was wise legislation, but that opportunity had not been given for full demonstration of its effectiveness because of delay on the part of the board.

Senator Cummins said, as he viewed the situation, if the railroad labor board had not been created the country would have seen a nation-wide railroad strike with disastrous results growing out of the wage demands which were inherited by the railroads from the railroad administration and disposed of by the labor board last July. He pointed out that the board was estalished in April.

Alleges Huge Cost by Delay.

"Do you think the delay from April to July was undue delay in reaching a conclusion in a matter of that magnitude?" asked Senator Cummins.

"No," replied Mr. Kruttschnitt, "but the board offset the delay by making its decision retroactive to May 1. The delay at the present time is costing the roads from $500,000 to $600,000 a day and the decision of the board as to that cannot be made retroactive."

"Why was it that after Sept. 1, when the railroads and the men were free to originate disputes, there was such long delay in originating these present disputes?" asked Senator Cummins.

"For the reason that for some months after the rate increase was made effective traffic continued to increase and the railroads were hoping to avoid this issue with labor and deferred it on that account," said Mr. Kruttschnitt. "We began to feel the pinch in December."

People to Pay $1,800,000,000.

"The transportation act did not fail to give to the railroads a larger revenue than they ever had before in the country's history, did it?" asked Mr. Cummins.

"No," replied Mr. Kruttschnitt, "but those revenues were not received until late in the year and were only then about 8 per cent when applied to the whole year."

Mr. Kruttschnitt added that the revenues in 1920 were approximately $1,041,000,000 greater than in 1919, of which only about $418,000,000 was due to increased rates. He explained that the act in itself was not a failure, but said abnormal conditions in 1920 prevented the carriers from receiving what congress expected.

Senator Cummins expressed the opinion that the twenty-six months of federal control would cost the government approximately $1,800,000,000.

Rectors Lloyd and Shipman Elected Suffragan Bishops

New York, May 13.—Bishop Arthur S. Lloyd, rector of St. Bartholomew's church at White Plains, today was elected as one of the two suffragan bishops of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, asked for by Bishop William Thomas Manning, when he was consecrated head of the diocese Wednesday. The Rev. Dr. Herbert Shipman, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, this city, was elected as second suffragan.

GEARY WILL ASK JURY TO SAVE HIM FROM ROPE

Another attempt to save Gene Geary from being hanged on June 17 will be made this morning. Attorneys Thomas Nash and Michael Ahern yesterday served notice on State's Attorney Crowe that they would ask Chief Justice McDonald for a jury trial to determine whether or not Geary is insane.

Under the law an insane man cannot be executed. His attorneys contend Geary is suffering from paresis.

MRS. ORTHWEIN WILL NOT FACE JURY OF WOMEN

Mrs. Cora Isabella Orthwein will not be tried by a jury of women. Assistant State's Attorney Lloyd Heth announced yesterday that because of delay in placing women's names on the jury lists it would be impossible to impanel such a jury for the trial, which is set for Monday. The case will probably be postponed a week.

UNION JANITOR HEADS INDICTED FOR GRAFT PLOT

Quesse and Nine Others Accused of Terrorism.

The Chicago Flat Janitors' union, which, through strikes, bombings, and campaigns of terrorism, has held apartment house owners, agents, and tenants at its mercy since 1917, was dealt two effective blows yesterday.

While the Dailey legislative committee was gathering evidence of "shakedowns" engineered by the union, preparatory to laying the matter before the special grand jury, the regular May grand jury voted indictments against William F. Quesse, president, and nine other officials of the janitors' organization.

WM. F. QUESSE.
[Copyright: U. & U.]

EUGENE FOSDICK.

The indictments, which came unexpectedly, were the result of an investigation started two months ago by Ben Newmark, chief investigator in the state's attorney's office, and a still later inquiry launched by Assistant State's Attorney William Scott Stewart. More than forty witnesses appeared at the criminal court building eager to testify, so many, in fact, that the jurors found themselves swamped with evidence.

Surfeited by recitals of acts of extortion, stench bombings, sabotage, and boycotts, the jurors halted the hearing after listening to only a score of the witnesses and voted conspiracy indictments, which will be returned on Monday before Chief Justice McDonald.

JOHN D. SULLIVAN.

Besides Quesse those indicted are Eugene Fosdick, recording secretary; John D. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer; and Business Agents Claude F. Peters, Robert Osterberg, Frank McWalters, George Waters, John Mattis, Peter Lagey, and Gus Anderson.

Ten Counts in Each Indictment.

Each indictment, it is said, will contain at least ten counts, charging, among other things, conspiracy to commit illegal acts, to injure public trade, to boycott, to extort, and to injure the business of building owners. The bonds in each case are fixed at $25,000, with a request that the judge do not reduce them. The jurors were eager to make them even higher, but were afraid the courts would set lower figures.

Stories of "shakedowns" ranging from $20 to $2,000 were related by witnesses. One man said he had been told $240 to settle a strike and that he had some friends to Quesse's office to reconcile for him.

"You were ordered to pay $240," Quesse is quoted as having said. "I'll give you one minute to pay or you'll pay $340."

Pays Quickly, Saves $100.

The witness said he paid at once and "saved $100." A check for $155 indorsed by Sullivan was introduced by the witness, who said Quesse had ordered him to pay that amount. Another witness testified $4,000 had been demanded, but he settled for half that amount. A receipt for $2,000 signed by Fosdick was presented as evidence.

Mrs. Emilie Nachtscheim, owner of a thirty-six apartment building in Fullerton boulevard, was one of the witnesses who testified to sluggings, bomb throwing, and other acts of terrorism. One witness had been told to pay $7,500, but settled for $1,500.

The practice of the union, according to Attorney Stewart, was to demand payment for work done by others than janitors, such as hauling out ashes, washing windows, etc. In cases where janitors looked after more than one building, but occupied a flat in only one of them, the rentals or a lump sum in cash was demanded by the union for one flat in each building.

"We have carried this investigation forward secretly because of the fear of the witnesses that they would be terrorized," said Attorney Stewart. "It was only after we convinced them State's Attorney Crowe was willing to go to the bottom of this thing and protect them that they were induced to testify."

Three of those indicted—Quesse, Sullivan, and Anderson—were mentioned in testimony given before the Dailey committee by Walter A. Salmon, an employé of H. O. Stone & Co. Salmon admitted under pressure that he had paid $500 in two equal cash installments to Anderson to settle a strike on a building at 3730 Cottage Grove avenue last summer. He said the money was demanded as "wages due the janitor while on strike" and "expenses" incurred by the union. He said the janitor's pay at the time was $187 a month.

"You mean to say you were paying a janitor $187 a month?" asked Attorney Joseph B. Fleming.

"Maybe a little more than that," replied the witness, "in addition to the free rent of a small flat. He gets more than that now."

The $500 payment was only one of a number totaling $33,500 which came to the attention of the Dailey committee during the day in one form of graft or another.

Attorney Austrian Willing to Testify.

Attorney Alfred S. Austrian signified his willingness to appear before the committee and tell all he knows concerning alleged payments of $25,000 during the construction of various shops for Hart, Schaffner & Marx. He may be called today when George Thomas of the Longacre Construction company of New York also is expected to appear and tell how the $47,350 mentioned by Attorney George A. Trude was disbursed in settling strikes on the State-Lake Theater building.

Another witness yesterday testified to $5,000 said to have been paid in connection with the construction of the Canton Tea gardens. Still another was questioned regarding a payment of $3,000 in connection with the construction of the Somerset hotel, for which Paschen Bros. were the contractors.

MRS. ADDISON STILLWELL of 199 Lake Shore drive appealed to the police yesterday to help her find a valuable diamond studded platinum pin that was lost or stolen while she was at a dinner at the Casino several days ago.

Mrs. Stillwell said she had the pin on her dress when she left home in the evening. When she returned, it was missing. She notified the Chicago representative of Lloyd's of London, with whom she had it insured, and was advised to ask the police to search the pawnshops.

The pin is oval in shape and is set with twenty diamonds ranging from one-eighth to one-fourth of a carat.

HAYS ORDERS NATION-WIDE AIR MAIL QUIZ

Promises Prosecution if Guilt Is Shown.

Prosecution of any member of the government's air mail service against whom charges of misconduct are substantiated was promised by Postmaster General Will Hayes last night. By telegraph he ordered the special board of postal inspectors investigating the air mail conditions here to extend their inquiry to "every flying field in the country."

Witnesses before the local board in charge of Inspector Charles H. Clarahan have already introduced testimony of drunkenness among local flying officials while on duty and non-attention to the condition of planes. They also have told stories of "midnight frolics" held on Checkerboard field.

One of the witnesses, C. C. Eversole, a pilot, was discharged after, in testimony, he had charged that the death of three pilots was the result of official carelessness and the intoxication of mechanics who prepared the ill-fated planes for flight.

Hays Makes Statement.

"About three weeks ago," Postmaster General Hays said in Washington, "these charges were brought to my attention. I immediately directed Chief Postal Inspector Rush D. Simmonds to investigate them in order to determine whether there had been any misconduct.

"I do not yet know whether the charges have been sustained. The investigation has not been completed.

"I will say, however, that if any of the charges are sustained, the guilty parties will be punished under the authority possessed by the postmaster general, and if the circumstances warrant further prosecution, the facts will be turned over to the attorney general for action."

Clyne Watches Inquiry.

Meanwhile District Attorney Clyne has taken cognizance of the inquiry. He is especially interested in charges that thousands of dollars had been wasted by government officials in the purchase of planes, which were unsuited for the mail service and were sent to the scrap heap shortly after their purchase.

Eversole told the board that $250,000 paid for eight German junker planes was complete waste, as five of the ships had been wrecked with the death of seven pilots and the other three were not now in service.

Lieut. Eversole's testimony, which has extended over several days, comprises a statement of more than 100,000 words. Among the specific cases cited was the death of J. P. Christenson, head of the Air Mail Pilots' association. Eversole alleged attempts had been made by flying officials to "get" Christenson because of his work in organizing the pilots' association and because he was known to be gathering proof of alleged negligence by officials.

Blames Disgruntled Flyers.

All of the charges made by Eversole and others were branded as the "backlash" of disgruntled employés by Maj. H. C. Zoll, national superintendent of the air mail service, yesterday.

"Our records will show these charges are absolutely false," he said in a statement issued at Minenapolis. "The mail service the country over has made a record of 88 per cent, which alone speaks for its efficiency."

E. W. Majors, superintendent of the Minenapolis-Chicago division, who was accused by Eversole of drunkenness and inefficiency, said:

"The charges are the result of malice on the part of employés who have been awaiting a chance to attack the service because they are no longer in it," he said. "The planes which we use are the best that can be provided for the service. They are always in the best of shape when called on for a flight."

Calls It Pack of Lies.

William C. Hopson, pilot in the Chicago-Omaha division, asserted last night that Eversole's testimony was "a pack of lies."

"I never have seen a drunken mechanic or pilot on the Checkerboard field," he said. "Eversole has been a bolshevik for months, going around attempting to stir up trouble in the shops and among the pilots.

"The jump which Eversole made at Minneapolis was altogether uncalled for. His statements concerning Superintendent Majors and his first assistant, Moore, are not founded upon fact. The story about the leaks in the German Junker that in falling caused the death of three pilots is untrue. I examined that plane before it took off and it was in perfect condition."

THAT SILLIEST FEELING

BLISS OF SUBSEA KISSERS "SPURLOS VERSENKT" NOW

Mrs. Tolbert Bares End of Beach Love.

A swimming beach romance teeming with submarine kisses was wrecked after twenty-five days of married life, Mrs. Louise Bennett Tolbert told Judge Theodore Brentano in the Superior court yesterday, where her suit for divorce against Paden E. Tolbert was heard.

Mrs. Tolbert is the daughter of Clark H. Bennett, wealthy manufacturer and member of the Illinois Athletic club, living at the Sheridan Arms hotel. She is also the niece of George Mason, vice president of the Scully Steel and Iron company. Her mother also testified in her behalf.

Both Good Swimmers.

"He was a wonderful swimmer when I met him on the beach last summer, and we learned to dive together and kiss as we came floating to the surface of the water. Both of us were good swimmers, and I had won several medals two years ago along the north shore.

Happy Until Their Marriage.

"We were ideally happy all through the summer months, so we decided to marry last January. After we were married we lived with my parents at the Sheridan Arms hotel, but he would not get a job and would not support me. We quarreled over this and finally separated. He had told me that he was tired of looking for work before he packed his clothes and left."

A decree was granted.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

WARM SEASON CROPS.

Vine crops must not be planted until there is absolutely no danger of frost. Cucumbers, watermelons, muskmelons, squashes, and pumpkins are the five vine crops that require a warm season, and all are commonly grown in gardens.

All these crops are worth while and may be profitably produced when there is plenty of space, but in general it does not pay the city gardener to sacrifice the ordinary vegetables for the growing of vine crops. However, there are cases where a few hills may be grown without interfering with the regular vegetable crop.

If the right kind of varieties are used three crops may be grown successfully even where the warm season is comparatively short. In selecting seed to be planted in the home garden it is best to give preference to melons and cucumbers, and if there is any space left, a few hills of squash or pumpkins may be planted.

These crops usually are planted in hills. In most cases they are started directly in the hills, but in northern localities, where the season is extremely short, or even in this section, when there is unusually late spring, they are sometimes started in hotbeds and transplanted. Chicago gardeners are ordinarily safe in planting the seeds of these crops between May 15 and June 1, depending on weather condition. When plants of the vine crop have been started in hotbeds, do not transfer them to the open until after the first of June.

The soil in the individual hills must be carefully mixed with well rotted manure or fertilizer before the seed is planted, to encourage rapid growth.

GUITARS, CANOES TO MAKE 'VENICE' OF DES PLAINES

Clubs' Magic Picture Routs Objectors.

The prospect of the mosquito ridden Desplaines river being converted into a Venetian fairyland was brought closer to reality yesterday when the forest preserve board granted permission to the Algonquin Canoe club to finish the second story of its clubhouse on the river bank in Maywood, north of Lake street. Permission also was given the Oak Park Canoe club to select a clubhouse site in the preserve.

"Guitars Like Traffic Jam."

Residents along the western bank of the river, who have put up a bitter fight against the congestion of clubhouses in their immediate neighborhood, won a victory when the board ruled that the Oak Park club would have to build its canoe house at some distance from the Algonquin club.

John Crane, president of the Metal Packing Manufacturing Company of Maywood, whose home is a short distance from the river, voiced the objections of Maywood residents.

"We are kept awake until the wee sma' hours of the morning every summer by canoeing parties with their mandolins and guitars," he said. "The noise is nearly as bad as a traffic jam at State and Madison streets. Then on Sundays the club members come out with hammers and nails to make repairs and keep up a continuous racket."

Venice on the Desplaines.

The club members then told the board of their efforts to clear the river of waterlogged stumps and other mosquito nests, and pictured the future of the river as they hoped it would be.

"Thousands of persons enjoy the music of the mandolins and the songs of the gondoliers in Venice; the canals are the greatest attraction of the Italian city," they told the board. "We hope, with the aid of the forest preserve board, to make the Desplaines river even more beautiful and attractive."

Do you think authorities should interfere with the proposed boxing contest for charity on the U. S. training ship Commodore?

Where Asked.

Michigan avenue between Randolph street and the river.

The Answers.

Columbus Behan, 900 Windsor avenue, advertising man—Positively not. The men and women who are sponsoring it deserve a lot of credit. The government showed its interest in the manly art by teaching it to doughboys during the war, and it should be permitted.

Emily Organ, 6331 South Green street, stenographer—I do not think that there should be any interference with these boxing bouts. As I understand it the money received from this exhibition will be used to help build a home for boys. I hope to be able to attend the exhibition myself.

F. B. Kurt, 5938 Winthrop avenue, manager — What authorities can stop this boxing exhibition? It is going to be held on Uncle Sam's property, and I don't believe that the city has the power to prevent it. The majority of our citizens are interested in clean boxing.

Florence Hurley, 1938 South Trumbull avenue, secretary—I do not believe the authorities should stop this affair, for it is for a good cause. I think boxing is fascinating. If I can arrange it I surely would like to attend.

Ernest W. Reynolds, 6135 Dorchester avenue, insurance broker—The authorities should not interfere. Boxing is legal in other states, and there is no reason why we should not have contests. During the war boxing by soldiers and sailors delighted thousands.

NEGROES DEMAND $25,000 TO SIFT FLAT BOMBERS

Explosives Hurled at 33 Places in 4 Years.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Since May 20, 1918, bombs have been exploded in, beside, or above thirty-three Chicago buildings occupied by Negroes and in eight other buildings occupied by white persons who were believed to have sold or rented structures to Negroes. The bombing apparently is still going on, the last bomb having been hurled on May 6.

Three weeks ago Julius Taylor, editor of a weekly publication devoted to the Negroes, made a public appeal to "the big five"—as he calls them—to urge Mayor William Hale Thompson to stop the explosions. "The big five" are Negroes holding public office under the Thompson-Lundin organization as follows:

Edward H. Wright, committeeman of the Second ward, who, as a special traction lawyer for the city has collected more than $30,000.

Oscar De Priest, who is a condemnation commissioner on a street improvement at a compensation of $10,000.

Louis B. Anderson, alderman of Second ward, at $5,000 a year.

James A. Scott, assistant state's attorney, at $3,900 a year.

Robert R. Jackson, alderman of Second ward, at $3,500 a year.

"Now in the name of all the gods at once we again humbly implore you," says Taylor in his paper today to "the big five," "to call upon Mayor William Hale Thompson and urge him to a bold step forward and honestly endeavor to end the reign of terror."

Ask $25,000 for Inquiry.

Ald. Anderson and Jackson yesterday presented a resolution to the city council directing the finance committee to make an appropriation of $25,000 to be expended by the police chief "in a thorough investigation of the crime of bombing throughout the city of Chicago."

This made no reference to the bombing of flats of Negroes and was broad enough to cover the bomb throwing and three murders in the Nineteenth ward since the adermanic election Feb. 22.

The resolution did say, however, that "the apparent ease with which the culprits have been able to execute their criminal acts without detection or apprehension has caused them to feel a certain sense of security." But the two aldermen allied with the city administration—Anderson being looked upon as floor leader in the council—excused the police department by asserting it is "hampered by lack of funds."

Put It Up to Police.

Anderson fought hard to have his resolution sent to the finance committee, and Ald. Steffen wished all subject matter relating to police efficiency referred to the council police committee.

"Why not let the police committee find out why the police have not stopped the bombings?" urged Ald. Schwartz.

"I wish the police committee to investigate," argued Ald. Bowler. "The police went outside of the city and found 200 pounds of dynamite, enough to blow up a large part of the city. I wish to know why the men arrested were discharged and what part the city prosecutor and the Municipal judge had in letting those men go. We will continue to have these bombings as long as there are plants outside in which the bombs are made."

The council decided to send the appropriation matter to the finance committee and the question of police efficiency to the police committee.

Bither Asked to Get Busy.

Editor Taylor in his paper says: "The Hon. William A. Bither, the able and brilliant attorney for the board of education, in his race in the spring of 1920 for republican committeeman of the Third ward, informed the colored people who attended his meetings that he had sufficient evidence to indict and send to the penitentiary some of the persons who had been bombing the homes of colored people." Taylor now suggests it would be timely "if he (Bither) would turn his evidence against the bombers over to the Hon. Robert E. Crowe, who is a true blood Republican."

The following list of buildings occupied by Negroes which have been bombed is printed in Editor Taylor's paper, his comments, however, being abbreviated:

$8,000,000 Playground Tax Riddle Aired Wednesday

Members of the board of education, school officials and Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson will appear Wednesday before the council committee on efficiency in an effort to throw some light on the playground bill introduced recently in the legislature. The aldermen have figured the proposed tax of 5 mills would mean more than $8,000,000. School officials believe there is some mistake and contend it would be absurd to ask for $8,000,000 when the playgrounds were operated last year for less than a million.

AGED DEFENDER OF CAMERON DAM IS GIVEN PARDON

Madison, Wis., May 13.—Complete pardon was granted John F. Dietz this morning by Gov. Blaine, restoring freedom to the widely known "defender of Cameron dam" on the tenth anniversary of his conviction and sentence for the killing of Oscar Harp, a deputy sheriff, on Oct. 8, 1911.

JOHN F. DIETZ.

Gov. Blaine said that Dietz, who is 60 and who had but a year to serve, had been an exemplary prisoner.

The trouble started in 1904, shortly after Dietz moved into Sawyer county, in the wooded northern section of the state. His opposition to the Chippewa Lumber and Boom company culminated in a fight with the sheriff on April 25, 1905.

Dispute had arisen over the property rights of Dietz in his homestead, which bordered on a logging stream.

This feud continued until Sept. 6, 1910, when Dietz got in a quarrel with the town of Cameron Dam over school matters. He wounded Bert Horel in the ensuing fight, and a sheriff's posse started siege of Dietz's home, closing in on the cabin on Oct. 8. During the battle Oscar Harp, one of the posse, was killed, supposedly by Dietz. The family then surrendered.

MAYOR'S FIGHT TO DELAY FEE SUIT GOES OVER A DAY

Judge Charles M. Foell will probably decide today whether Mayor Thompson shall have a continuance until after the adjournment of the legislature of THE TRIBUNE suit to recover $1,004,586 paid Frank H. Mesce and Austin J. Lynch as city building experts.

The lawyers started arguing for and against the continuance yesterday, but the court was hearing a criminal case which he desired to dispose of, and deferred further argument in THE TRIBUNE case until this morning at 9 o'clock.

BRITISH RAIL MEN GIVE SUPPORT TO STRIKING MINERS

BULLETIN.

LONDON, May 13.—By an overwhelming majority, the Glasgow and Clyde raliwaymen voted against striking in support of the coal miners.

BY AMBROSE LAMBERT.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 13.—The striking British coal miners received new encouragement today when the railway men joined the transport workers in the decision not to handle imported coal.

They went farther than the transport workers, declaring they would not handle foreign coal no matter for what purpose it was intended. In addition they will not handle domestic coal which has been loaded or handled by "black leg" (nonunion) labor.

Prime Minister Lloyd George in the house of commons this afternoon emphasized the necessity for coöperation between employés and employers, saying without such action the consequences to the country would be disastrous. He asked the miners to respond to the appeal for an industrial council.

PARTY VOTE FORCES TARIFF TO CONFERENCE

Washington, D. C., May 13.—[Special.]—House conferees on the emergency tariff bill were named today after the bill had been sent to conference by the house by a vote of 132 to 98. Democrats sought to have the senate amendments referred to the ways and means committee, their objection to unanimous consent for reference to conference making it necessary for the Republicans to take action under a special rule.

During the debate Representative Fordney, chairman of the ways and means committee, declared that the anti-dumping provision as revised by the senate is ineffective and in some respects unconstitutional. He said he would insist in conference that the house anti-dumping provisions be restored in substance.

Representatives Longworth of Ohio and Kelly of Pennsylvania spoke on behalf of the senate amendment extending the war trade board control over imports of dyes. While Representative Fordney is understood to oppose this provision, he made no specific reference to it during his remarks.

The Democrats, led by Representative Garret of Tennessee, sought to have the tariff bill sent to the ways and means committee on the ground that new matter had been added in the senate, namely, the dye provision. Representative Garner of Texas, Democrat, charged that the purpose of the special rule was to prevent the house from considering the senate amendments.

"The chairman of the committee on rules knows nothing about his bill as amended by the senate, and the gentleman from North Dakota, who is in charge of it, knows less," said Mr. Garner. "There is not a man on the floor of the house who understands the senate amendments."

Trusting Pastor Gives Collection for Bad Check

Riverside, Cal., May 13.—The pastor of a local church was taking a special collection. Eighteen dollars in small change had been received but $2 more was needed. After repeated pleadings by the minister a stranger arose and said:

"If you will cash my check I'll make it $20." The offer was accepted and the stranger departed with the entire collection.

That was last Sunday evening. Today the pastor reported to the police that the check had been returned marked "no funds." The stranger had disappeared.

Spurned Suitor Fires Three Shots at Widow

Mrs. Josephine Brooks, a widow with two children, gave no heed to Frank Davis' ardent wooing. Last night, when she refused to let him into her home, 520 North Armour avenue, he crawled in through a window, fired three shots at her, and ran. Mrs. Brooks was not hit.

$25,000 Fund Sought for State Exhibit at Pageant

A bill appropriating $25,000 to defray the expenses of the state exhibit at the Pageant of Progress has been approved by the appropriations committee of the house at Springfield, and probably will pass the legislature within a few days, according to Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, educational director of the exposition. He returned yesterday from Springfield after conferring with Gov. Small and the heads of various state departments.

"Finders Keepers"

is a good slogan when you pick up a stray "L" ticket, but it could hardly be applied to a find of a diamond brooch. For many years the "Lost and Found" columns of the Want Ad Section have been "finding" for "losers," because a Want Ad establishes quick contact between loser and finder. Use this short cut to the recovery of lost articles. Whenever you lose anything or find anything, make use of the Lost and Found columns of the Sunday Want Ad Section!

THE GREAT Want Ad Section is not only a maker of markets—it is a market for businesses. In the Business Chances columns last Sunday the value of the businesses offered for sale aggregated over five million dollars! There were 328 ads, including over 50 lines. By Thursday, 4 days later, 25% of the advertisers who could be reached by phone had sold their businesses.

So here you find the way—whether you wish to sell out, buy into a growing concern, or enter another line, simply tell your story to a Tribune Ad-taker, Central 100. Order your Want Ad today for tomorrow's issue. You have until 2 o'clock today!

Next time you want a Want Ad—just phone Central 100 and ask for an Adtaker.

THE EFFECTIVENESS of the used car columns of the Sunday Want Ad Section, as a medium for quick sales, is proved every Sunday! Each Sunday an average of a thousand cars, including a hundred different makes, are advertised. This represents a market of over a million dollars, and by means of repeated tabulations it has been found that a high percentage of the cars advertised are promptly sold, whether it be dealer or car owner who uses the Want Ad.

The summer touring is close at hand, making it the best possible time to dispose of a used car. If you have one to sell, take advantage of the present combination of the right time and the right medium—the great Sunday Want Ad section. And don't forget to order your Want Ad today!

Automobiles.

THE SECURING of good domestic help is a problem no longer. Thousands of girls and women, attracted by high wages to lathe and bench, are now ready to resume their former occupations. The highest type of women and girls who go in for domestic work read The Tribune. A Want Ad in the Help Wanted columns will reach them. Try this Sunday!

Cryptic messages, often urgent, winging their way to one individual among millions—truly a real public utility! Watch this section and use it when there is need!

. . . . . the quiet of a far place . . . . the surge of clear water . . . . . a clean, sweet breeze . . . . . .

Have you bought, or sold, your boat yet? A Want Ad in Boats & Yachts will aid you. Motor boat, cruiser, houseboat, sloop—a Tribune Want Ad quickly puts you in touch with yachtsman prospects. The sooner you run your ad, the sooner you get the money or the "ship." Order your Want Ad today for this Sunday.

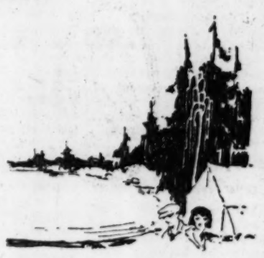

Boats, Yachts, etc.

BASEBALL OUTFITS, from caps to spikes, are bought and sold through Tribune Want Ads. In this way a broken-up team can salvage a good amount on the sale, and those who buy save money.

So with football outfits, and all the regalia of golf and tennis, as well as those who rove with rod or gun. All sorts of good values are to be found in the Sporting Goods classification. Sportsmen will do well to watch this section and use it!

Sporting Goods.

THE Tents and Awnings classification provides vacation goers with camping equipment at a saving, and, in turn, assists those wishing to sell.

Tents, Awnings, etc.

Closing Hour—The very last moment you can insert your Want Ad in The Sunday Tribune is 2 p. m. Saturday. If you intend to make all editions, however, your Want Ad should be in by 9 p. m. Friday. Phone Central 100 and ask for an Adtaker. There is a Special Service Department for women in the big Want Ad store, Main Floor, Tribune Building, Madison and Dearborn Sts.

GRAINS WEAKEN AS TINCHER BILL WINS IN HOUSE

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Passage of the Tincher future trading bill by the lower house in Congress gave grain traders a scare during the last hour of the day that undid a good part of their constructive work. The finish on the grain market was weak. While the close was not at the lowest of the day and while small gains were shown there was a decidedly disturbed feeling.

May wheat was ⅛c lower and July ¼c higher, with gains of ⅛ to ⅝c on corn, ¼@⅜c on oats and ¾ to 1¼c on rye. Early strength and advances were due to the leadership of wheat, helped by bad crop reports from the southwest.

A good tone was shown by the wheat market during the morning, with a fair run of outside buying orders based on unfavorable crop reports from Oklahoma and Kansas, Inglis and Le Count reporting on Kansas, while the Modern Miller said the winter wheat crop had lost ground since the last government report was compiled. Frosts were predicted for the west and northwest. These factors lost part of their effect later in the day on reports of good rains over a large part of Oklahoma and on selling due to headway made by the Tincher bill.

Early Wheat Buying Good.

Buying of wheat early was of a good character and May moved up 5c to $1.46, but reacted and closed at $1.43½ to $1.43⅝. July was up to the high of last week on good buying and light offerings for the time being, with the top, $1.18, showing 4c advance from the early low and with the close weak at $1.15¾ to $1.15½. Commission houses that bought early were active sellers at the last and there was pressure from the local element which assisted in making the decline. May wheat was handled in a moderate way, with selling by longs who took the July at 28c discount.

Local millers report a slow flour trade and one miller sold 15 cars of wheat from his stock and replaced with new at much lower prices, declaring there was more money in selling the wheat than in grinding it. Greece has resold 400,000 bu of the 1,300,000 bu recently bought for export.

May Corn Advances.

Good buying of May corn by shorts and cash houses advanced it to 61½c, or within 2c of the July, gaining ½c on the latter. Longs in July in some instances unloaded, but there was scattered buying by country commission houses and it sold up to 63⅝c, with the close at 63¼c. The country sold cash corn freely and exporters were in the market, taking 190,000 bu for Buffalo and Montreal.

A large trade was on in lard and short ribs, with lighter offerings and liberal changing from July to September at reduced differences. Cash business was better, with bellies and a few other cuts of meats ½c higher. Prices follow:

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

An uneasy feeling prevailed in the grain trade last night, with most of the operators bearish. Prices dropped sharply after a few minutes after the close and there was active buying of bids on all grains at wide discounts from the regular market. Traders as a whole were regarded as taking a too pessimistic view of the conditions likely to result from the passage of the Tincher bill by the lower house of congress. Conservative operators said the trade was short and any good buying might easily start an upward movement in values.

There was a great deal of selling of all grains at the last. It was claimed adverse legislation will restrict outside buying. Those bearish are not alarmed over the present crop situation, as increases in the yield of winter wheat in the states east of the Mississippi river will easily offset the losses in the west.

Crop Expert B. W. Snow, in explaining why he has not gone out into the country to inspect the winter wheat crops, said his reports did not lead him to believe a situation exists requiring personal observation. The reports of crop deterioration were to be expected and had the outlook of April 1 been maintained the crop would be around 700,000,000 bu at harvest, which no one sensibly expected. The May forecast of 629,000,000 bu represented the allowance for just what is now happening.

It is estimated by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome that there will be a surplus of 52,000,000 bu wheat and rye in exporting countries at the end of the crop year, confirming the various estimates of the trade that there is a close adjustment of supplies to demand. Broomhall figures that exporting countries on April 30 had 232,000,000 bu wheat available, of which importing countries would take $150,000,000 bu.

No tax on grain for future delivery in so called "contract markets," or licensed exchanges, will be made under the provisions of the Tincher bill, which was passed by the house of representatives. However, indemnities would be taxed 20c per bu, which would automatically stop such trading. The trade put a misconstruction on article B, section 5 of the bill yesterday, and figured that all futures would be taxed 20c per bu. This is an error.

NEWS OF THE CROPS

"From Wichita to Mount Hope wheat looks good and prospects are from sixteen bu an acre, but it shows the effect of dry weather," wired R. O. Cromwell to E. W. Wagner & Co. from Wichita, Kas. "Mount Hope to Hutchinson, where the soil is lighter, wheat promises a very poor yield, around eight bu. Fields badly fired. Oats very good over most of territory seen. Rain needed. Wheat growth during February and March checked by dry weather at a stage that developed permanent injury."

In his report to Logan & Bryan from Hutchinson, Kas., John Inglis said: "Harper to Kingman to Hutchinson, fields fall down badly. Losing color. Fields drying up. With showers may yield eight to twelve bu an acre. Heading out short. If there is no rain in this territory in ten days, loss will be serious."

"Throughout this big wheat territory crops are much better," wired Le Count to Stein, Alstrin & Co. from Cherokee, Okla. "Wheat badly affected by rust here. Just starting to head. Fields are a brown, unnatural color, and I believe that the crop will be greatly reduced in this section."

Connecticut Light and Power.

C. B., Milwaukee, Wis.—The Connecticut Light and Power company is issuing $6,500,000 of bonds secured by first mortgage on the main hydro-electric plant, representing an investment of about $7,900,000, also by junior lien on as much more property. The company serves a population of 300,000 and is earning fixed charges, including interest on the issue, more than twice. A sinking fund will retire most of the issue before its maturity in 1951. The bonds are a well secured and attractive investment. They are not callable except for the sinking fund.

Southern California Gas.

F. J., San Bernardino, Cal.—The Southern California Gas company has shown steading increasing earnings for a decade except for a setback in 1914. It has usually covered interest charges well over twice and last year covered them more than three times. It recently issued $1,500,000 of refunding bonds. They are junior to $4,566,000 of first mortgage bonds, but in view of the earnings are well secured.

Brief Answers.

S. S., Ottumwa, Ia.—The Tidewater Southern railway is an interurban line. It did not earn all its operating expenses in 1919. In the first ten months of 1920 it earned $27,606 net, which about covered a year's interest.

P. J. S.—The Pierce-Arrow company lost money in the first quarter of this year because its truck business was poor. In 1920 it earned $3.88 a share.

Big National Business Built on Newspaper Advertising

FOR 200 YEARS the Wurlitzers have been in the musical instrument business. The American house was established by Rudolph Wurlitzer at Cincinnati in 1856. The Chicago branch was opened in 1901 in a single room in the old Kimball building.

More growth has been achieved in recent years than in previous generations, and the big sales stimulus has been newspaper advertising. Each of 36 Wurlitzer retail stores advertises in the newspapers of its city. The Chicago store uses 99% of its advertising appropriation in newspapers, and much more than a third of the total is placed in The Chicago Tribune.

During 1920 Wurlitzer advertised more heavily than ever before. The agate lines placed in each Chicago newspaper follow:

Tribune	Herald and Examiner	News	Post	American	Journal
72,261	49,579	30,459	22,727	39,432	.....

Wurlitzer has consistently relied on The Chicago Tribune to produce sales. The total lineage used in each of the above papers from 1910 to 1920, inclusive, follows:

Tribune	Herald and Examiner	News	Post	American	Journal

The New York Times.

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Foreign exchange, which has given the most intelligible response to Germany's submission to terms, today continued its vigorous movement in favor of the European countries, while the stock market gave some indications that for the moment the force of reaction had spent itself.

The rate for sterling advanced to a small fraction over the $4.00 mark. This compares with the year's low point of $3.53¼ in January, with $3.33 in November, and with the landmark of maximum depreciation, the $3.18 of February, 1920. French and Belgian francs, Italian lire, and Dutch florins also advanced above the present year's previous high figure. German exchange went above Thursday's best price, but closed lower.

South American Rates Dip.

The decline in Spanish and South American exchange, like the rise on the entente markets, was connected with the market's theories as to the possible international effect of the German payments.

The first result of Germany's acceptance of the terms which must tangibly affect the international market is the delivery on or before June 1 of 1,000,000,000 marks in gold, or $238,000,000. The German reichbank now holds exactly that sum in its gold reserve. This reserve is practically the same in amount as it was a year ago, although the bank's note circulation has increased meantime from 46,000,000,000 to 71,000,000,000 marks, the highest point on record. The reichsbank's gold holdings are, therefore, in the ratio of only 1½ per cent to its outstanding notes. Its actual status would not be greatly altered if its gold holdings were to be surrendered.

May Keep Gold in Fund.

Whether that will or will not be the mode of payment, we have yet to see. If the billion gold marks are physically transferred from Berlin to Brussels, Paris, or London, it is reasonable to suppose they will not be converted into Belgian, or French, or English bank reserves, but will be kept for future disposal in a separate fund.

If so, the question will instantly become of singular interest, whether and to what extent the entente governments will use the gold for export to the United States. That use of it, unless gradually and carefully applied, could hardly fail to accentuate our own peculiar problem of restraining credit expansion as a result of rapidly mounting bank reserves. Financial conjecture has assigned as an alternative Germany's payment in drafts on neutral markets, such as Spain or South America, where German credit balances may exist as a result either of recent merchandise trade or pre-war accumulations.

Stocks' Decline Halted.

In the stock market the halt in the recent decline result in an irregular array of closing prices. In the industrial group American Sumatra Tobacco again was a weak spot, dropping 5¾ points. Chandler Motor declined 3⅜, while International Harvester, Houston Oil, and Mexican Petroleum showed losses of 2 points or more. American Linseed and Willys-Overland preferred advanced 2 and 3 points, respectively. In the railway group Lehigh Valley and Chicago and Northwestern gained more than a point.

Of general news with a bearing on the financial position there was little. Week-end mercantile trade reviews report nothing in the way of visible trade recovery, except in one or two industries, such as leather and dry goods, which have been longest subject to liquidation. Dun's list of wholesale prices shows 59 declines for the week, against 38 advances.

U. S. MART GETS BRAZILIAN LOAN FOR $25,000,000

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Negotiations are nearing completion for the purchase of $25,000,000 twenty year 8 per cent external gold bonds of the United States of Brazil, which will be offered in the New York market early next week. The negotiations of the Brazilian government are with Dillon, Read & Co., who probably will form a syndicate of banks for distribution of the securities. The bonds will be issued, it is expected, on a basis to yield 8¼ per cent.

The proceeds are to be employed in part for purchase in the United States of materials. Because the dollar is at premium in Brazil, her purchases in the American market are a costly operation.

All former Brazilian loans have been arranged in the London market. The bonds, unlike those of any other government which have been offered here, are not callable in whole or in part, and are secured by first charges on the Brazilian consumption taxes and a second charge on customs duties.

MONEY TURNOVER OF $700,000,000 IS DUE ON MONDAY

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Readjustment of funds in the financial district here will be particularly heavy next Monday and bankers are preparing for the temporary stringency of funds expected to be brought about by the large operations.

They will be as follows: Payment for the $230,000,000 bonds of the Northern Pacific-Great Northern 6½ per cent gold bonds by subscribers; redemption by the government of $232,124,000 maturing treasury certificates; interest payments on the second 4 per cent and second 4¼ per cent Liberty loan; sale by the government of $200,000,000 new 5½ per cent certificates of indebtedness.

Bonds of Mexico Reach New High Price for Year

New York, May 13.—[Special.]—Bonds of the government of Mexico today touched new high prices for the year and in an erratic market, in which foreign securities were the feature, gained 2 points. United States of Mexico 5s sold at 53, an advance of 2¼ points, while the 4s touched 39, an advance of 2 points, both of them new high marks.

DIVIDENDS ARE EARNED BY SWIFT INTERNATIONAL

BY O. A. MATHER.

In spite of the difficult year and heavy losses experienced generally in the packing business last year, the Compania Swift Internacional (Swift International) was able to earn its dividend, although net profits were only about half as large as in 1919. Net earnings for the year ended Dec. 31, 1920, were $4,143,128, equivalent to 18.41 per cent, or $2.76 a share on the $22,500,000 capital stock (par value $15) compared with $7,949,678, epuivalent to 35,33 per cent or $5.29 a share, in 1919.

Two semi-annual dividends of $1.20 each in gold were declared from 1920 earnings, thus maintaining the annual rate of 16 per cent. Dividends are payable Aug. 23 and Feb. 21, 1922. After deduction for these dividends and setting aside $158,993 for reserves the surplus account was increased by $243,895 to a total of $23,156,278.

It will be two stories with English basement and will cover the entire lot, which means we'll have a floor area of over 90,000 sq. ft. We'll build in the fall of 1922.

"We selected our new site because more than half of our employés live within a radius of two miles of it. Our present plant is at 538 South Clark street."

The company makes letter heads, bank notes, drafts and other negotiatble securities. It was founded in 1891.

REVIEWS OF TRADE

Dun's Review says: "Response to constructive forces in the economic situation does not come other than slowly, various drawbacks still being present. The price question remains highly influential, unsettlement continuing in different quarters, and more stable markets are essential to a fuller measure of comercial revival.

"Except in instances, the more hopeful feeling has thus far not been productive of any essential change in buying disposition. Although the frequent repeating of moderated sized orders serves to reduce the portion of idle machinery in certain industries and somewhat bolster the purchasing power, the latter is still limited by unemployment in many directions, but the widespread closing down of plants has seemingly been arrested, and part time operations have been resumed at not a few manufacturing establishments. Commercial failures this week number 333, against 312 last week, 320 in the preceding week, and 107 in the corresponding week last year."

Marshall Field & Co., in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade, say:

"Current wholesale distribution of dry goods compares favorably with last week. Total road sales for immediate and future delivery were approximately the same. As large a business for immediate delivery was booked as during the same week last year. Retail merchants are anticipating their requirements for fall with increasing confidence, and a satisfactory volume of orders for future delivery is being received. For this period of the year an unusually large number of customers was in market. Collections remain satisfactory."

DRY GOODS MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The carpet auction closed tonight with all offerings sold. Prices were slightly higher than on the opening day.

Cotton goods were in more general demand. Yarns were firmer with sales larger. Silk fabrics were steady. Wool markets were quiet, with the undertone improved.

CADILLAC'S 5 BARGAINS

PAIGE SEDAN, 1920, model 6-42. This is a light 6, 5 passenger sedan, and probably one of the most popular and the best looking cars that company has ever built. Equipped with a good set of tires, one new extra, bumper front and rear. This car has had very low mileage and excellent care. Mechanical condition will bear most rigid examination and demonstration. No doubt if you will look at this car you will agree with us that it is the best bargain in a light 5 passenger Paige offered. Special for this sale, $1,650.

BIDDLE SPORT. This is model B-1, which is the latest series. Car has been run less than 10,000 miles. Has an excellent set of cord tires, 6 Rudge-Whitworth wire wheels, 2 extra tires, bumper, clock and wind shield wings. Mechanical condition exceptionally fine. Paint, which is a special color of gray, is in beautiful shape. If you want a high grade, up-to the minute sport model this will surely please you. We believe it to be one of the best bargains we have ever offered. Special for this sale, $2,750.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, TOURING CAR. This car is painted a dark Cadillac blue and the paint is in excellent condition. Mechanical condition is exceptionally fine and guaranteed. Upholstering and top look like new. Equipped with an excellent set of tires, one extra bumper, etc. The owner of this car has not driven it a great many miles; in fact, it has not had the usual mileage of a car of this series, and to one who gets this car he will have the advantage of a carefully driven, well lubricated car, with a remarkably low mileage. Rarely do we have the opportunity to offer such a car. Special for this sale, $2,350.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, VICTORIA COUPE. This is a roomy 4 passenger coupe and probably the most popular model ever built by this company. It is equipped with an almost new set of cord tires and one extra. Painted a dark Cadillac blue. Upholstering and paint in good shape. Mechanical condition will bear most rigid examination and demonstration. Equipped with a spare tire, bumper, clock, and seat covers. Considering the general condition of this car and its equipment and the care and attention it has had by the original owner, this is by far the best bargain we have ever offered. Price $2,350.

LEXINGTON 1919 SEDANETTE. This is a roomy 4 passenger sedan, equipped with a Continental motor. Mechanical condition exceptionally fine. Has an excellent set of tires that are in good shape and bumper front and rear. This is our first opportunity in being able to offer a car of this type at such a low figure. Special for this sale, $1,000.

This 1920 Paige seven passenger sedan represents a value which cannot be duplicated in Chicago today. The car is in excellent mechanical and coach condition, the tires are new Firestone cords, and the extra equipment includes special shock absorbers. Monday only at $1,900.

Packard Twin Six Touring—This is a special car throughout. Perfectly painted in torpedo gray with red striping. Equipment includes 6 wire wheels, seat covers, nickle radiator, etc. Here is one of the best values we have ever offered at $4,000.

Packard Twin Six Touring, Series 2-35—This is our 1917 model in the long wheel base. The motor and chassis has been overhauled and the entire car shows its careful usage. Extra equipment includes Westinghouse shock absorbers. Excellent value at $2,250.

Packard Twin Six Roadster—This car is in excellent mechanical condition: motor has all the latest improvements and chassis equipped with Westinghouse shock absorbers. The upholstery, top, and tires are fine but the paint condition only fair. This is a value hard to duplicate at $1,350.

Hudson Sedan—Here is a late 1920 model which has every appearance of new. The tires are perfect, 2 spares, and the car just refinished in dark blue. The upholstery shows no signs of use and the mechanical condition all that could be desired. A very attractive buy at $2,250.

Roamer Coupe—Late 1919 model. Here is a beautiful custom built body, upholstered in gray striped velour; special individual steps and fenders make it a very exclusive car. The extra equipment includes wire wheels, two bumpers, shock absorbers, heater, motometer, etc. Very specially priced at $2,500.

Pierce-Arrow Limousine, 1915 48 model—The car is well painted in dark blue and upholstered in dark gray cloth. Westinghouse shock absorbers, bumper, practically new cord tires, etc., are included in the low price of $2,500.

BEAUTY ANSWERS by Antoinette Donnelly

ELSIE: EVERY FIGURE IS IMproved with the correct carriage, even unto the fattest figure. The correct standing posture is maintained by holding the body as tall as possible without actually rising on the toes. In this way the trunk is given its greatest length; there is the largest space available for the organs; the muscles of the front, back, and sides are in perfect balance, none is strained; the head is erect and so poised that none of the muscles is overworked; the chest is high and the abdomen flat. If the posture is not correct the muscles of the abdomen weaken and the first thing fat begins to accumulate heavily. Send me s. a. e. for exercises on waist and hip reduction.

PAULINA: IF PROPERLY FITTED to glasses while young, serious cases of cross eyes may be straightened by eliminating danger of waiting until the age when only an operation will remedy. For sties clean the lids well with water or a solution of boric acid. If sties come repeatedly, it must be a sign of eyestrain and calls for glasses.

J. J.: YES, I HEARD IT CALLED muscle hunger. In fact, I have a little tract somewhere about my desk describing the muscle hungry folk. "When one who has muscle hunger sees a hill, he wants to climb it; when he sees the road, he wants to walk it; when he sees a game, he wants to play it, and is not content to sit on the side lines puffing cigarets and betting money on the result." Muscle hunger can be cultivated even in the most sedentary occupation. Begin and end the day with a short setting up exercise course. When you move, move briskly; step out springily on your toes. Contract and relax your muscles frequently during the day, and occasionally take some full deep breaths.

MRS. C. S.: A WOMAN 27 YEARS of age, 5 feet 5 inches, should weigh about 131 pounds, so you see you are underweight. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I will be glad to send you instructions on gaining weight.

SALLY: FOR REDUCING THE thighs bicycle riding, horseback riding and running and stair climbing exercises are best.
